U.S. WARSHIPS RUSH TO VERA CRUZ

LA TOURAINE DOCKED

RIGID INQUIRY BEGUN

Captain Tells of Fire Which Broke Out on French Liner—Passengers None the Worst for Trip

HAVRE, March 8.—A rigid inquiry has been begun into all phases of the fire at sea aboard the French liner La Touraine which docked here Sunday afternoon landing safely all her passengers. Admiral Charlier of the ministry of marine and Director Durot of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique boarded the vessel upon her arrival and started the investigation at once. The report of Admiral Charlier will be submitted to the government.

Thrilling Experience

The passengers apparently were none the worse for their thrilling experience. The fire, which was confined to one of the holds, was extinguished at midnight Sunday and the last stage of the voyage was completed without incident.

No Disorder or Panic

As soon as the fire was discovered lifeboats were distributed among the passengers and the boats were prepared for instant use but at no time was there any real danger, according to a statement made by Captain Causin, who declared the S. O. S. call for assistance was sent out merely as a measure of precaution. There was no disorder and no panic, he said, the passengers accepting the situation calmly in the belief that the fire would be conquered and that other steamers would reply promptly to the wireless summons.

Rotterdam Stood By

The steamer Rotterdam, one of the vessels which answered La Touraine's call and stood by until the fire was extinguished left the French liner at Pwll Point, England. The French cruisers Gulchen and Dupetit Thourier which also went to La Touraine's assistance, escorted her, however, as far as Cherbourg. Other vessels which answered Captain Causin's call were informed there was no need for their services and continued their trips after receiving the thanks of the liner's commander.

Captain's Story of Fire

Captain Causin told the story of the fire after he had taken his vessel safely to her dock.

"The fire was discovered at 2 a. m. Saturday, March 6," he said. "It was in the base of one of the ventilators of the boiler room. Heavy smoke found its way to the bridge. While the men in the boiler room sought to extinguish the blaze, which was not serious in itself, I turned my attention to other parts of the ship.

"At this moment one of the night watch reported hearing the crackling of flames forward. I ordered all the crew to their stations and as the ship was in a mist I gave directions to stop her in order to locate the scene of the blaze. We discovered flames coming their way toward the postoffice and beginning to attack neighboring cabins. We discovered that the flames were spreading to the partitions and floor of compartment number 2 so as to involve a large amount of freight. Believing that so large a part of the cargo might take fire and finding we were not able to deal with it easily I decided to send out a call for aid. Meanwhile through holes made in the partitions we obtained a view of the fire which then was attacked with jets of water and steam. Sunday morning, the 7th, we had mastered the blaze and the danger was past."

The ship shows no external sign of the fire. It was admitted that military supplies were included in the cargo which was threatened.

HEAVY GERMAN LOSSES

ONE REGIMENT LOST 300 MEN IN AN ATTACK—REGT. OF CHASSEURS LOST ALL ITS OFFICERS

LONDON, March 8.—Evidence given by prisoners is cited in a semi-official note today published by the war office to prove that German losses in killed and wounded have been very heavy. The statement is made that one active regiment lost 300 men in an attack on Feb. 17, while a regiment of chasseurs had all its officers killed or wounded on Jan. 8. The stretcher bearers of a field ambulance have stated that every night for three weeks they brought in from 350 to 400 seriously wounded Germans.

Paris, March 8.—A ministry crisis has occurred in Bulgaria, according to special despatches received here. Premier Radoslawoff is reported to have been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand and the followers of Dr. Ghenadiev, former minister because he desired to take immediate action against Turkey by occupying Adrianople.

Radoslawoff's opponents are said to have declared this policy, which would have placed Bulgaria in opposition to Germany and Austria, was too adventurous. The principal argument they reported to have used was that the resignation of Premier Venizelos at Athens left Greece more isolated than before and that if Bulgaria remained neutral she might hope for advantages other than those she would find in Thrace.

Although this information has not been definitely confirmed it is generally believed in French official circles that Radoslawoff has resolved to march on Adrianople if Greece pronounced for the Triple Entente and that Venizelos made such an announcement at Athens when the question of intervention came up.

OBSTINATE FIGHTING MARKS BATTLE ALONG THE EASTERN FRONT

LONDON, March 8.—Obstinate fighting marks the battles along the eastern front on the continent, with the German forces withdrawing from the river Niemen in the direction of their own East Prussian frontier. At the same time the new offensive movement against Warsaw and on the Pilica evidently has not as yet developed into the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature recently has been the allied air attack on Ostend. In the Champagne region, where the

SEC. DANIELS ORDERS BATTLESHIPS TO START

Decision After Conference With Pres. Wilson Today—Sharp Note to Carranza—British Steamship Seized and Captain Jailed

WASHINGTON, March 8.—After a conference early today with President Wilson, Secretary Daniels ordered two battleships of the Atlantic fleet from Guantanamo to Vera Cruz.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the fleet, will choose the battleships that are to go to Vera Cruz to reinforce the small craft already there. The only specification Secretary Daniels made in his order was that one of the ships should be a flagship in order to put an officer of high rank in command of the forces. This action, it was hoped, would bring assurances from General Carranza that conditions in Mexico City, which have become acute, would be ameliorated.

Warning to Carranza

The sending of war vessels followed vigorous representations to General Carranza demanding prompt improvement in conditions as affecting foreigners and their interests in Mexican territory under his control. Failure to comply, he was warned, would be followed by such action as the American government thought necessary to obtain the desired protection.

In diplomatic quarters the belief quite generally prevailed that the latest representations to Carranza were a clear implication to him that force might be employed unless conditions were bettered.

2500 Americans in Mexico City

There are in Mexico City 25,000 foreigners, 2500 of them Americans, and the safety of these is threatened by the announced intention of Carranza to order the evacuation of the city by General Obregon's forces.

BRITISH SHIP SEIZED

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—The British steamship Wyvabrook has been seized by Carranza authorities at Campeche and her commander, Captain Muir, has been placed in jail, according to mail advices reaching here from Progreso.

PREMIER OF BULGARIA OVERTHROWN BY KING

Desired to Take Immediate Action Against Turkey by Occupying Adrianople—Other War News

PARIS, March 8.—A ministry crisis has occurred in Bulgaria, according to special despatches received here. Premier Radoslawoff is reported to have been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand and the followers of Dr. Ghenadiev, former minister because he desired to take immediate action against Turkey by occupying Adrianople.

Radoslawoff's opponents are said to have declared this policy, which would have placed Bulgaria in opposition to Germany and Austria, was too adventurous. The principal argument they reported to have used was that the resignation of Premier Venizelos at Athens left Greece more isolated than before and that if Bulgaria remained neutral she might hope for advantages other than those she would find in Thrace.

Although this information has not been definitely confirmed it is generally believed in French official circles that Radoslawoff has resolved to march on Adrianople if Greece pronounced for the Triple Entente and that Venizelos made such an announcement at Athens when the question of intervention came up.

LONDON, March 8.—Obstinate fighting marks the battles along the eastern front on the continent, with the German forces withdrawing from the river Niemen in the direction of their own East Prussian frontier. At the same time the new offensive movement against Warsaw and on the Pilica evidently has not as yet developed into the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature recently has been the allied air attack on Ostend. In the Champagne region, where the French have been assuming the offensive lately a snowstorm has given a forced rest to the troops. It is not unwelcome, for they have been almost constantly engaged.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S EUROPEAN WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

Allied fleet silences three forts at Dardanelles narrows. Battleships hit by Turkish shells, but not seriously damaged. Russian fleet destroys four batteries, eight steamers, and coal shipping plants on Black Sea. British collier Bengrave sunk, probably by torpedo, off coast of Devonshire. British airmen drop bombs on submarine repair base and army headquarters at Ostend.

French take German trenches near St. Mihiel and in other sections. Germans capture a trench near Le Mesnil. British admiralty grants concession to American cotton shippers. Russians announce German attacks are checked and Russian advance continues. Vienna reports Austrians captured Russian trenches in Poland and took 1700 prisoners in Carpathians. Zalmis declines to form a Greek cabinet and king will call on Deputy Gouranlis. England segregates captured crew of German submarine U-5 with purpose of trying them for murder.

THAW'S SANITY ISSUE OF CONSPIRACY TRIAL

Lawyers Contend Thaw Was Sane When He Fled From Matteawan—Trial Resumed

NEW YORK, March 8.—The prosecution's case against Harry Thaw and five co-defendants on trial for conspiracy to escape from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, was outlined by Deputy Attorney General Kennedy in the supreme court today and the taking of evidence began.

The selection of the jury in the first day of the trial was a surprise to most of those concerned in the case, as was also Thaw's self-effacement, which was considered remarkable in view of the active part he has insisted upon taking in his previous legal battles for freedom.

The Thaw Jury

FUNERALS

HOLMBROOK—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah J. Holmbrook was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur M. Patten, 42 D street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. James Hancock, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. William H. Patten. The bearers were James J. Holmbrook, Forest Flint, Edward Mesang and Arthur M. Patten. Burial took place at Whitehead, King's county, New Brunswick, today. The funeral arrangements were in charge of undertaker George W. Healey.

GRAHAM—The funeral of Mrs. Ella Graham was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Williams, 15

Greenfield street, South Lawrence, yesterday. Prayers were said at the home and funeral services were held at the Edison cemetery chapel, Lowell.

Harry N. McConnell, 15 Fort Washington avenue, manager.

Robert O. Winnie, 215 West 10th street, clerk.

John D. Blackburn, 415 Fort Washington avenue, railroad agent.

That Thaw's attorneys are determined the question of his sanity shall be made the issue of his conspiracy trial was evident from their statements after the adjournment of the court for the day. Their contention is that he was sane when he fled from the asylum in August, 1913, and that he committed no overt act in making his escape, because the state should have granted him freedom. It is reported that Thaw's counsel intend to attack the commitment on which Thaw was sent to Matteawan on Feb. 1, 1908. This order provided that Thaw should be kept in the asylum as long as insane.

Mr. Kennedy, it was expected, will begin the presentation of the state's case today without regard to the question of Thaw's sanity at the time of his recapture.

SULLIVAN—The funeral of John J. Sullivan, whose body was found in the woods at East Hitterick, a few days ago, was held yesterday afternoon from the rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey in Branch street. Burial was in the Edison cemetery.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Lowell Bills Postponed in Senate —Drastic Restrictions in No-Licence Places

BOSTON, March 8.—It is expected that the legislative committee on roads and bridges will visit Lowell in the near future to look over the ground and make a decision as regards the extension of first street as proposed in Senator Marchand's bill to provide for the improvement of a highway along the northern bank of the Merrimack river.

The one day off in five bill came up in the senate yesterday afternoon and Senator Marchand asked that the matter be postponed till Thursday next.

On motion of Senator Marchand the senate yesterday postponed until next Wednesday action on the bill to authorize Lowell to pay a gratuity to the mother of John J. Kenney.

Liquor Permit Bill

The Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday substituted for an adverse committee report a bill providing that a druggist in a city or town, who holds a sixth-class liquor license, shall not sell to any one person more than eight ounces at any one time of any alcoholic liquor, nor make a second sale of any alcoholic liquor to the same person within 30 days.

Mr. Sawyer of Ware, the original petitioner, argued for substitution and said a city or town that votes to license is entitled to have the sale of liquor prohibited. Under the present system, he said, the druggist takes the place of the saloonkeeper.

Mr. Mulvey of Fall River, opposed substitution and declared there are few druggists who abuse their privilege; that the board of registration in pharmacy has ample authority to deal with druggists who sell liquor improperly. Mr. Donovan of Boston favored substitution, which prevailed, 52 to 33.

Substitutions Returned

Mr. Sawyer failed to secure substitution for an adverse committee report of a bill providing for a nine-hour day for railroad employees not directly engaged in train service. The vote, a standing one, was 64 to 24.

Consideration was postponed until today on the bill forbidding inquiry of schoolteacher candidates as to their religious belief; the committee on bills in third reading reporting the measure unconstitutional.

Mr. Howar presented a petition for legislation establishing day and evening classes in practical arts for women, which was referred to rules.

Mr. Morrill was refused substitution on a vote on a bill forbidding employment of children under 16 years of age in manufacturing and mercantile establishments. He was refused substitution also on a bill to prohibit evictions during the winter. He also failed to have substituted a bill permitting cities and towns to provide outings for school children.

A bill providing that candidates for public office shall file statements of their receipts as well as their expenditures, was opposed by Mr. Sawyer.

RHEUMASALTS IS FINE FOR TORPID LIVER

Learn How to Secure Quick, Safe Relief

The liver is the largest gland in the body, weighing nearly four pounds. Its main purpose is to aid digestion and make glycogen for the body. It is important to keep it working right.

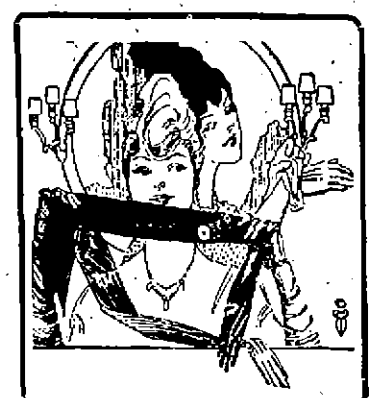

If your liver is lazy and your kidneys throw with a dull ache, you need the scientifically blended and carefully pure carbonated lithia drink called Rheumal salts.

Same back, shooting pains, tired feeling, dizziness and nervousness simply mean that your liver and kidneys are clogged with impurities and that poisonous uric acid is retarding their work of aiding the digestive functions and filtering the blood.

If your liver needs flushing and your kidneys are not working right, ask your druggist for about five ounces of Rheumal salts. Take two teaspoonfuls in one-half glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days all the poisons in your liver will be gone and you will feel as "fine as a fiddle."

Rheumal salts is a delightful carbonated drink that cleans out the stomach and intestines, eliminates toxins and poisons, and leaves the intestinal tract clean and sweet. It is a mild acid solvent as well as a saline laxative. Acts quickly without griping or nausea. A fine for growing children.

If your druggist cannot supply you, write to The Rheumal Salt Co., Minneapolis, Minn. 25c, 50c, $1.00 bottles.

Religious Commission

The petition of Susan E. Stevens for legislation to provide for a commission of 10, chosen from different denominations, to inspect public and private hospitals, almshouses, houses of detention, reformatory institutions, convents, nunneries, asylums, seminaries and schools maintained by religious denominations, was the subject of a hearing yesterday before the legislative committee on public institutions.

Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Josephine C. Barnaby, George Batty, Rose Kelly, Mary Sweeney, Charles M. Smith of Natick, R. M. Floyd, John C. Kent, Dorothy Nichols of Chicago, Martha A. Lewis and Benjamin B. Allen were heard in favor of the bill. Frederick W. Mansfield, John P. Manning, David F. Tilly of the state board of charity, and Charles T. Daly, representing the Federation of Catholic Societies, in opposition.

Worcester was largely represented in the support of the bill providing that hotels holding liquor licenses in cities of more than 20,000 inhabitants may sell liquor until midnight, in a hearing before the committee on legal affairs. Charles T. Tatum of Worcester explained that it is not to increase liquor revenues, but to enable hotels to give parties the sort of service they demand. Much complaint is made, he said, because no liquor can be obtained at a Worcester hotel after 11 p. m.

The opposition was conducted by H. Housis Newton of Everett, attorney for the Antislavery league. Rev. A. K. Foster of Worcester said churches there having 20,000 members were on record against the bill.

THE SICKABED LADY

Nurse says now is about the time to begin giving the children and the older ones of the family also, a mixture of sulphur and molasses to offset the effect of the enervating warm weather of early spring.

She directs that you buy five cents worth of sulphur. Rub three tea-spoonfuls in a tumbler or cup and add to this nine teaspoonfuls of molasses. Mix this well.

Then take one teaspoonful each morning and at night before retiring for three days. Then stop for an interval of three days. Then resume taking again and continue in three day periods until you have taken the blood purifier for nine days.

For your patient's comfort nurse suggests a mirror, fixed into the window at such an angle that it reflects the street, as a real boon to an invalid. It isn't always possible to have the bed near the window, and it's drearily dull for a poor soul to lie there day after day, seeing nothing but the four walls.

But if she can watch in the mirror all the people who pass up and down the street she will have ample occupation.

Spread a table cloth over the top sheet before a meal and tuck it well under the bolster to prevent crumbs from falling into her. Unless something of this kind is used, the bed is nearly sure to get "crumbly" before the end of the day, and that is uncomfortable.

Some very nice dishes for invalids are suggested by nurse. Grated apples must be thoroughly cooked, not very thick and free from lumps. Put three tablespoonfuls of cornmeal into a third of a cupful of cold water, salt to taste and then add two cupfuls of boiling water. Boil twenty minutes, stirring constantly, or else cook in a double boiler for an hour.

Custard with fruit—Very often hard boiled custard can be served to advantage with fruit. The fruit adds attractiveness to the custard and so tempts the appetite. A few pines, neatly cut in pieces, can be covered with custard, dates can be used in the same way, orange pulp cut in dice can be added to it or a spoonful of apple sauce can be placed on top of a dish of custard.

Grapefruit and orange grapefruit pulp cut in dice and served in a glass with the juice of an orange and a very little sugar, with a tablespoonful of brandy or sherry, if that is allowed makes a most refreshing dish for an invalid.

Little patients can be very trying indeed to the home nurse. They are not old enough to realize the importance of keeping warm, taking their medicine regularly, and doing what they are told. They require constant watching, too, for many a dangerous illness has resulted from a child caught during convalescence after one of the most ordinary childhood ailments.

In nursing children the home nurse requires the utmost patience and tact. She must be gentle, though firm, with the little invalid, being able to make him realize that she is in absolute charge of the sickroom, and that in all things her will is law.

Children's ailments are always a worry. You never know what the most simple cold is going to lead to, and a great deal of the anxiety connected with the rearing of children is the real difficulty experienced at that time in being able to discriminate between the symptoms of a serious illness. KILLED BY AUTO

Lawrence Man Killed on the Haverhill Road Sunday Night

LAWRENCE, March 9.—Pasquale Lafranco of 234 Elm street was almost instantly killed and a companion, Antonio Digione, also of 234 Elm street, received injuries which necessitated treatment at the general hospital when they were struck and knocked down by an automobile on the Haverhill road Sunday night. The automobile was driven by S. Sigarsenier, a wholesale leather merchant of Haverhill and his wife and the Misses L. Karelitz and A. Jester were with him at the time.

The accident happened about 8 o'clock about 100 yards this side of Phillips' turnoff. The automobile was Haverhill bound and the men were walking toward Lawrence. It is said that they started an argument and began to fool in the center of the road apparently unmindful of the approaching car. After the accident Mr. Sigarsenier rushed the victims to the hospital where it was found that Lafranco was dead. The local police were notified and they in turn notified the Methuen police.

Chief Nimmo stated this morning that he is making a thorough investigation of the case and if he secures any evidence of negligence on the part of the driver he will summon him into court on the charge of manslaughter.

SUFFRAGE HEARING

Suffragists and Antisuffragists Storm State House at Providence, R. I., Today

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 9.—Suffragists and antisuffragists crowded the state house today for a public hearing on a bill to grant women the right to vote for presidential electors. United States Senator Works of California and Congressman Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming headed the suffragists' list of speakers.

The large attendance expected resulted in the granting of the use of the house chamber for the hearing, which was before the house judiciary committee.

REBUTS TANNENBAUM FINE

NEW YORK, March 9.—The $500 fine imposed on Frank Tannenbaum, in addition to a year's imprisonment, for leading 131 unemployed men into St. Alphonsus church last year, was remitted yesterday by the court of general sessions. Tannenbaum's prison sentence expired today.

The money for the fine was the gift of sympathizers.

Judge Wadhams, in remitting the fine, said: "I do not think that the ends of justice now require that the penitence of the poor should be accepted to pay the fine."

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, indigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent boxes of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, putrid, gassy stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

MGR. SPLAINE COUNTRESS AT IS TRANSFERRED DEATH'S DOOR

Appointed Permanent Rector of St. Joseph's Church, Roxbury

Accompanied Cardinal O'Connell on Visits to Vatican

On Way to Recovery Following Fortnight's Peril

BOSTON, March 9.—The Right Rev. Mgr. M. J. Splaine, D. D., rector of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, has been appointed by Cardinal O'Connell to be permanent rector of St. Joseph's church, Roxbury, to fill the vacancy caused by the death several months ago of the Rev. Dennis J. Wholey. Monsignor Splaine will not take charge of St. Joseph's parish for several days, or until he has several matters now in hand cleared up.

The tending of the cathedral will cause regret among the clergy attached to that church and among the people of the parish. On the other hand, the people of the parish of St. Joseph, one of the oldest and best parishes in the diocese, are highly pleased. It was rumored some time ago that Mgr. Splaine would receive the appointment, but nothing definite was done about the matter until the cardinal made the appointment late yesterday afternoon. Since the death of Father Wholey, St. Joseph's church has been in charge of the Rev. Father Foley.

Mgr. Splaine was born in Watertown about 35 years ago. He attended the public and parochial schools of the town. He was graduated from the High School of Watertown, and in 1897 was sent to the American college at Rome, where he studied for five years. At the time Mgr. Splaine was studying at the American college, Cardinal O'Connell was the rector, so that in many ways he was practically trained by the cardinal.

He was ordained to the priesthood in 1902, in Rome, and came back to Boston. He was assigned to the cathedral and became assistant chancellor of the diocese. About four years later he was appointed chancellor of the diocese, being at that time the youngest man ever held that important office. He retained that office until the cardinal's office was removed to the archbishop's house on Granby street.

In the meantime he was made rector of the cathedral, succeeding the Ill. Rev. Mgr. George J. Patterson, now pastor of St. Paul's church, Broadway, South Boston.

He was appointed to the monsignory about four or five years ago, and has accompanied Cardinal O'Connell on his visits to the Vatican. On the death of Father Wholey, he was appointed to come to St. Joseph's church to act as his chaplain in the election of the new pope. They arrived too late, however, for the election, but the monsignor acted as chaplain to the cardinal at the coronation of the present pontiff.

He was recently appointed by Cardinal O'Connell to be the general manager of the Catholic Federation, an organization of federated Catholic societies with a membership of between 300,000 and 400,000 in the archdiocese.

WHAT DYSEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, take or use medicine whenever necessary, or when the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building qualities. This is the reason why dyseptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in moderate amount, taking immediately after meals a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphate of magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an indignant and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphate of magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisulphate, and you will find that the acid—the cause of all the trouble—is gone."

AMERICAN NURSES, BOUND FOR WAR ZONE, DISPLAY BRAVERY ON BURNING LA TOURAINE

AMERICAN AMBULANCE CORPS NURSES — LA TOURAINE

Among the passengers on board the French steamship La Touraine, which caught fire at sea while bound from New York to Havre, France, were ten nurses, members of the American Ambulance Corps. They were bound for the war zone. They aided in preventing a panic when the passengers were informed that the ship was on fire and to hold themselves in readiness to quit the ship if necessary. The nurses appear in the accompanying illustration from left to right as follows: Florence Gordon, Mollie McGrath, Cathlyne O'Hanlon, Eugenie Lyons, Boda Peterson, Alma McCormick, Nellie Parsons, Ellen O'Hanlon, Dorothy O'Connell and Victoria Frankford.

SEEKING LOST HUSBAND

Lowell Woman and Children Lost in Galicia—Husband Wounded in Hospital—Sad Story

Wojcik Wojciech, of 95 Lakewood avenue, this city, has received a letter from his brother, Stanislaw Wojciech, who is in a hospital in Budapest, Hungary, suffering from a broken leg received as a result of being hit with a shell while engaged in combat against the Serbian army.

Two years ago, Mr. Wojciech, who was married in this city and had two children, decided to visit the old country, and went to Galicia, where he played with relatives for a short time, until the fact became known to the authorities that he had returned, when he was taken, and forced to serve in the army. Soon after the war broke out he was sent to the front and according to his letter he has engaged in many battles. In one of them, he writes that a piece of shell tore its way clean through his helmet and five months ago he was injured in the leg by a shell, which nearly tore the member from his body. Since that time he has been confined to the hospital in Budapest. An American doctor, he writes, is attending him, and as he is himself able to speak English, the doctor and he are great friends. There are no Polish doctors in the hospital, he writes, and German and Hungarian doctors are taking care of the injured. He writes that he expects to be fully recovered in a few months, and that he will then be sent back to the front to fight against the allies.

But now comes the sad part of the story. Shortly after he arrived, he sent numerous letters to his wife in this country and all were answered, but finally came a day when a letter written by his wife, who was living in Coburn street, was sent to him and no answer was received. Others were sent and still no reply came. Frenzied with grief and believing her husband dead, Mrs. Wojciech took her two children and went to Boston whence she took passage for the old country, and although she has hunted everywhere for him, she has been unable to find him, as his letter to his brother, in which he asks as to her whereabouts, will testify. Their old home in Galicia, which he first visited has since been totally destroyed, and it can easily be seen by his letter that he still believes her to be safe in this country. Just before leaving Mr. Wojciech had taken out second papers and writes that he wishes that he had remained in this country until he became a naturalized citizen.

The letter he sent came to his brother and was opened at the top. This was explained by him in the letter. He wrote that every letter sent from Austria-Hungary is first opened by the authorities who ascertain if there is anything contained in it that will be detrimental to the German or Austrian interests. If not, the letter is allowed to proceed. Many of his friends in this city have written to their relatives in the old country asking them to try to locate his wife and children, but up to date nothing has been heard of them. His wife did not know of his being wounded and, in the hospital. It is believed that the family home in Galicia has been looted and that the people are driven to concentration camps.

TO SPEAK ON CALIFORNIA

California is regarded by the world as a great show place. Nature has indeed been lavish with that state. Jas. W. Erwin, a Californian, residing at San Francisco, knows California, and has delighted audiences on both sides of the Atlantic with his lectures on this subject. The exact subject on which he is to speak at Calvary Baptist church, tomorrow (Wednesday) evening, is "California—Its Wonders and Glories." He has a large collection of unusual slides, with natural colorings, and interestingly unique motion pictures. The lecture is complete both as to quantity and quality. This season, his tenth, to make the lecture quite up to date, he has added valuable information and comprehensive illustrations of the two great expositions held this year at San Francisco and San Diego. This is a lecture none should miss hearing, and seeing. It is quite out of the ordinary. Please see adv.

EXERCISE AND GRECIAN BEAUTY

WHAT IT MEANS

Many thousands of women are now-a-days paying attention to physical culture and the proper exercise of their body muscles, where, thirty years ago or fifty years ago there was no thought expended on this science, which is quite necessary to physical beauty. The reason the Greeks, both men and women, excelled in beautiful and symmetrical forms was because of the attention they paid to the proper exercise. Then, too, they were unhampered by corsets, shoes and the inconveniences of clothing. To the minds of some women the idea of physical exercise conveys only the idea of hard fatiguing work. Mild exercise continued day after day is best for the body and spirit and health. Without proper exercise there can be no health, and without health there can be no real beauty.

There is no stronger proof of the sound rational value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription than that it restores the wasted form to its wanted roundness. The mighty restorative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription speedily causes all womanly troubles to disappear—compels the organs to properly perform their natural functions, corrects displacements, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women. It is a wonderful prescription prepared only from Nature's roots with glycerine, with no alcohol or falsely stimulate. It banishes pain, headache, backache, low spirits, hot flashes, dragging-down sensations, worry and sleeplessness surely and without loss of time. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter free. Address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

BLACKJACKED, HE SHOT THIEF

Patrolman Fired at His Assailant as He Fell to Floor

Surprised Burglars in Allston—One Man Escaped With Loot

BOSTON, March 9.—Beaten to the floor with a blackjack by one of two burglars he surprised on the first floor of the house at 18 Harvard terrace, Allston, about 5:30 last night, Patrolman Andrew J. Hurley fired at his assailant as he fell, wounding him fatally. The other thief escaped, probably with considerable loot, for the house had been ransacked.

The wounded burglar is dying at St. Elizabeth's hospital. The patrolman is in a critical condition at the same hospital, but is expected to recover. The flat is occupied by J. Warren Buckman, a wealthy business man, who was out with his family for the evening. Mrs. J. W. Smith, who lives at 17 Harvard terrace, across the street, saw two rough-looking men approaching the Buckman house just as she was leaving her own home. She met them at W. H. Putnam's of 91 Harrington street, and the two women watched the men, who went to the front door of Buckman's apartment, rang the bell, and receiving no answer went around to the rear. The women hastened to the corner of Harvard avenue, where they found Patrolman Hurley and told of the incident.

Hurley went at once to the rear door of the Buckman flat and finding it open entered. He was immediately set upon by the men, one of whom struck him over the head repeatedly with a blunt instrument supposed to be a blackjack. As Hurley, with blood streaming down over his face, sank to the floor, he drew his revolver and fired one shot, which took effect in his assailant's abdomen. The other intruder ran out. The wounded man walked from the house and went down Harvard terrace to the corner of Harvard avenue, where he staggered in holding a fruit store and fell unconscious. Meantime Hurley had dragged himself to the house at 12 Harvard terrace, where he telephoned the Brighton station. The police ambulance that was sent to the scene was stopped at the corner by a girl who told the officers she had seen a man, apparently ill, go behind the fruit store. The officers picked up the unconscious form, went to get Hurley and took both to the hospital.

Mr. Buckman returned home late in the evening with his wife to find policemen awaiting him. He found that the flat had been thoroughly ransacked, but was unable for the time to give an estimate of the loss.

The rear hall was sprinkled with blood and bore evidence that the officer had put up a fierce battle before he was overcome. Entrance to the flat was gained by forcing the door with a chair and a screwdriver. Hurley is 35 years old and married and lives at 1743 Commonwealth avenue. He had six bad cuts on his head and is otherwise badly bruised. He has been on the force seven years, having been transferred from East Boston a year and a half ago.

The thug at the hospital is about 22, 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 150 pounds. His companion is described as 30 years old, with a good build in height, weighing about 150 pounds.

HARDWARE STORE ROBBED

BURGLARS ARE CAUGHT

BOSTON, March 9.—The shadow of a man prowling about the hardware store of Bigelow and Downe company, 229 Franklin street, last night, led to the arrest of two men on a charge of burglary. They gave their names as Frank Mitchell, 30, of 322 Tremont street, and Edward Harding, 32, married, and living at 95 Emerson street, South Boston.

Patrolman Peter Sullivan, passing the Wendell street side of the store, heard a peculiar noise, and looking through a window saw the shadow. He signalled to Patrolman Seavey to go to the front and rattle the door. At the rattling two men crossed to the Wendell street side, and in a moment one man came through the basement window into the arms of Sullivan. The latter turned him over to Patrolman Seavey and ran after the second fellow, who had turned and broken through the front entrance and dashed down Franklin street.

John P. Todd, who lives at the Anchor House on Commercial street, joined in the chase and caught the fugitive at the corner of Pearl and Congress streets. There was a sharp struggle, but Todd and the patrolman won. When the men were searched at the Court Square station they had four pearl-handled knives and a $2 nickel-plated watch. A case of razors was found near the window one of the men used as an exit.

CARD OF THANKS

FAMOUS BRITISH WARSHIP HIT

Queen Elizabeth Hit by Turkish Gunners at Dardanelles

One British Seaplane Struck 28 Times—More Forts Silenced

LONDON, March 9.—Trepidation has been caused by the statement in the admiralty report on the Dardanelles, issued last night, that the super-dreadnought Queen Elizabeth, who has already established herself as the pet of the navy, has been a victim of Turkish shells.

Although the admiralty insists that slight damage was done the great warship, whose 15-inch guns have scored a record in modern naval warfare, the public is inclined to be uneasy, and further reports are anxiously awaited. As the Queen Elizabeth has been bombarding the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles from the Gulf of Suvor, seven or eight miles away, hurling her massive projectiles over the whole extent of the Gallipoli peninsula, and the waters of the strait, it is hardly conceivable that she has received material damage.

It would appear that the Turkish (or German) gunners now manning are improving in marksmanship, the remaining forts on the Dardanelles, besides the three minor hits, scored on the Queen Elizabeth, many of the ships inside the strait, both British and French, were struck. There were not any sink, however, and the casualties are confined to three wounded on one of the warships.

High praise is bestowed upon the airmen attached to the fleet, who have been engaged in the hazardous work of locating the forts and masked batteries and directing the fire of the warships. One of the seaplanes was struck 28 times and another eight times. Two of the intrepid aviators fell into the sea, but were rescued. It is stated that these mishaps have been due largely to the fact that the seaplanes must skim close to the earth to detect groups of guns which the Turks have hidden with extreme care. Several other Turkish forts were silenced, says the admiralty report.

AN EASY WAY TO END CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Destroys Germs of This Dangerous Disease

The reason why so many people who suffer from Catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are continually using the momentary relief of sprays, douching, greasy creams, ointments, etc. Such things do open up the swollen nostrils and clear the head temporarily, besides stopping for a while the disgusting blowing, hawking, spitting and choking, but they never cure. To drive out Catarrh for good you have to get down to the real cause. Catarrh is a germ disease. The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and when the system does not have the power to destroy them they stay in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly. The germs of catarrh can be best destroyed by inhaling the pure medicinal air of Hyomeo (pronounced High-o-may). This splendid and powerful combination of oil of Eucalyptus with other healing agents has a wonderful effect on your breathing apparatus, into your nose, throat and lungs by means of a small hand rubber inhaler which leading druggists here in Lowell and vicinity supply with great treatment. This medicated air is certain death to the germs of Catarrh and drives them completely out of your system and when the germs are driven out the catarrh with all its disagreeable symptoms will stop. Even two or three minutes use will give refreshing relief, while if you will use it two or three times a day for a few weeks it will completely banish catarrh and every symptom of catarrh. As Hyomeo is pleasant to breathe and is always sold by druggists everywhere with positive guarantee of successful results or money back, surely no Catarrh sufferer should go long before trying this simple home remedy.

BOSTON MAN ARRESTED

Charles Milford Kimbark, formerly manager of the Crawford House, Boston, was arrested in Nashua Saturday night, after reaching that city in a hurried trip from Lowell.

Kimbark, it is believed, had a fractured arm set during his stop here. The man recently came on from the west, where he broke his right arm in a fall. He was accompanied by a lady. They were taken to Boston to answer a charge the nature of which is not very clear.

Among the speakers were James Sullivan, Capt. Colles, Bart Crowley, Haverhill and John Balfrey. The present situation in Ireland was discussed at some length, the speakers taking a rational view of things and predicting an era of prosperity after the conclusion of the war.

The Emmet anniversary was also observed at the Glan-na-Gael on Middle street, Mr. P. J. Mahoney presiding and the principal address was by Humphrey O'Sullivan, who dealt with the principal facts in the life of Emmet.

604,216,000 bushels or 42.6 per cent. of the 1912 crop in 1913.

About 28.4 per cent. of the 1914 crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown, against 26.5 per cent. of the 1913 crop so shipped, and 30.3 per cent. of the 1912 crop so shipped.

Harley: About 42,879,000 bushels, or 22.0 per cent. of the 1914 crop remained on farms March 1, 1915, compared with 44,158,000 bushels, or 23.8 per cent. of the 1913 crop in 1914, and 52,283,000 bushels, or 27.6 per cent. of the 1912 crop in 1913.

About 45.1 per cent. of the 1914 crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown against 48.4 per cent. of the 1913 crop so shipped, and 53.7 per cent. of the 1912 crop so shipped.

Sunday a group of Medford militiamen were discussing their relative walking powers. Each one thought that he could outstrip the other in a walking race and a match was consummated on the spot. There were nine in the party.

Accordingly quite late last night the nine hikers started on a tramp to Lowell. Four of them fell by the wayside before reaching this city, but the remaining five continued into Gorham street about 2 o'clock.

The quintet of pedestrians was pretty well tired out and sat down on the curbing in front of the Edison cemetery for a rest. Barely had they done so, however, when Officers Clark and Connor came along and started all five as suspicious characters. The latter part of their trip they took in the motor vehicle of the police department.

AUTOMOBILE REGULATION

In a very short time the "Honk-Honk" of the auto shall be heard in the land. The air is filled with anxious anticipation. Already the odor of gasoline is blended with that of the crocus and other spring flowers and garage windows have a terrible fascination for many who have an inward craving that only the vibration of the throbbing engine can cure. Auto intoxication is literally and figuratively upon us.

There was a serpent in Eden, there are thorns with roses, and there are automobile laws to temper the enthusiasm of the speed maniac. Those who are compelled to walk while others ride once again remember that the right to life and liberty is an inalienable American right and they clamor for more stringent rules to curb the speed epidemic; reasonable autoists call for regulations to curb the road hog; all automobilists ask for co-operative regulations to take some of the torture out of interstate touring. On the one hand the claim is made that we have too many conflicting laws and petty local regulation, and on the other, the counter claim is advanced that in the maze of auto regulation the safety of the public is not conserved, and that consequently we need one wide sweeping law or group of laws which will make auto regulation more effective and more just.

While Massachusetts is thus trying to devise some way out of the maze of difficulties presented respectively by auto enthusiasts and auto victims, Maine is about to pass a bill which seems to be the best yet framed towards the settlement of automobile problems in any state. The bill contains amendments to existing automobile and highway laws. It has been drawn up very carefully, covers every phase of the subject and seems to meet with general commendation. Many of its requirements will be sanctioned by autoists in Massachusetts and elsewhere as the abuses it would offset have interfered with drivers and owners from all states, and hence the occasion of gross injustice.

If the new bill becomes law, any automobilist entering Maine will find a realization of the driver's dream—uniform speed regulation under state auspices. Official signboards will be erected at leading points which will give the speed limit in plain letters and figures. All changes along the route will be indicated by additional signboards. This will do away with the petty graft that has operated against traffic in Maine and New Hampshire, and even in parts of Massachusetts. In some parts of Maine a limit of six miles an hour was enforced, with the result that autoists unconsciously offended daily, only to be haled before the local authorities. Usually the trial would be set ahead ten days or so and the offender was let out on bail. Rather than lose valuable time or come back great distances the autoist would forfeit his bail and get out of Maine as quickly as his car and the speed laws would let him. The country constables and bail commissioners seemed to be quite satisfied with such an outcome of an arrest and violating autoists were, as they were meant to be, prolific sources of easy revenue.

While in the Maine bill the law is made as fair as possible for the automobilist, the penalties for breaches of regulation are strict and there is little opportunity for a misunderstanding by anybody. If there are no official signboards on a highway, no automobilist can be arrested unless he exceeds a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, and in crowded sections—which are defined—he must limit himself to 15 miles per hour. Any violator who is arrested for a breach of any of the regulations will be given an immediate trial, and if he fails to appear in court at the time specified, the bill loses his license and the registration of his car will be annulled. The bill provides that at all times the speed must be "reasonable" and any citizen shall have the right to complain of a reckless driver to the secretary of the state who will give the complaint immediate consideration. The bill seems like a workable solution of a problem that Massachusetts must meet in the near future.

STREET CONSTRUCTION

A recent issue of the Municipal Journal had several articles on the paving problems of leading cities, the sense of which seemed to be that the continual tearing up of streets and cutting into sidewalks for one purpose or another is one of the greatest difficulties connected with proper street maintenance. In the case of one city, it is claimed that more than 2 per cent of the entire paved area was cut out in one year. The cost of repairing the cuts of that one year was $300,000, which does not include the additional cost that must follow; repaired streets and sidewalks cannot be expected to last as long as those that have been left in their original finished condition.

The practice is now growing generally throughout the country, to make those who cut into streets and sidewalks not only pay in full for the damage but repair in as thorough a fashion as possible. In the past there was a lack of co-operation between city authorities and private companies, and work was not laid out with any degree of scientific preparation. Consequently, some public service corporation or some other municipal department desiring to rip up a street for something or other would often make application soon after the repair of a street or sidewalk, and the street would be marred, thereby incurring a large waste of money. Now there is an apparent desire to avoid such a condition, and the fullest co-operation should be fostered, so as to eliminate waste and duplication of effort.

The constructive program announced officially for our street department is most gratifying, but it will be found that after the spring rains and thaws, flaws in street repair will become manifest, necessitating attention to details now unforeseen. Here and there imperfections will appear, small at first but growing in magnitude if neglected. Now is the time to set aside a repair gang as advocated by The Sun for the scientific repair of streets and pavements. To repair properly is one of the essentials of modern street maintenance.

THOUGHT IN BUYING

Everything in the country is systematized except retail buying. That is a lost art, or more probably it never was an art at all. Our development in every line is a slow process. We expend our greatest energies on the trivial, while we reserve for the important, the vital, our minor thought and inferior forces. We fall into the pernicious habit of throwing our money at anybody who will take it.

Is there anything that touches more intimately the life of the household and is there anything that as a rule receives less intelligent thought than buying for our temporal requirements? We have permitted ourselves to be attracted by cheapness simply because it is cheap. We send to a mail order house for an article attached to which, in the order book, is an attractive price. We signally fail to take into account the time required in writing and mailing letters, the expense connected with the transportation feature of the transaction, the inability to make a personal inspection or examination, the fact that the dealing is with one who is in effect a stranger and who has no particular interest in us and to whom a sale is a mechanical process. The thing that costs the least is frequently the most expensive thing we buy. There is an economic as well as a sentimental side to this "Ask for New England made goods first." These goods are here for our inspection. We can take them or leave them. We have the assurance that they have been produced under as near ideal conditions as it is possible to attain. If on inspection we find they are not exactly what we want we can take them back and exchange them. We have acquired the habit of going elsewhere for a goodly portion of those things that we need in our daily life whereas they can be purchased right here at home at prices and in quality that fit our conception of right. Community pride should compel the question, "Have you goods of this kind that were produced in New England?" That question repeatedly asked will aid in the campaign to make this section of the country commercially supreme.

IN MEXICO

Were it not for the European war which overshadows everything else, our newspapers would very probably have scarce headlines about present conditions in Mexico, for according to the few authentic messages that leak

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CONQUERED

A New Yorker of wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco habit may be easily and completely banished in three days with a delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 1311 B. Station E. New York City, will mail his book free on request. The health improves wonderfully after the nicotine poison is out of the system. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, mainly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous feeling; no more need of pipe, cigars, cigarette, or chewing tobacco to pacify morbid desire.

out, the situation in parts of that unhappy country are worse than in the wildest days following the killing of Madero. In Mexico City the greatest lawlessness prevails and there are many stories of terrible excesses. Priests and nuns have been subjected to all manner of indignities, churches have been desecrated and appropriated by the powers that rule, hundreds have been mysteriously killed. General Obregon, friend and ally of Carranza, seems to have beaten Villa at his worst, and there is no hope of permanent or even temporary peace.

Meanwhile Secretary Bryan declares that the outlook is "serious but hopeful." Alas, it has been hopeful to the secretary for a long time, and with his habit of imagining beautiful and peaceful things, probably no Mexican situation would or could strike him as hopeless. If Mexico faces a hopeful future, the mental training of most of us has been sadly neglected. Few, outside of the circle of the administration are hopefully impressed with the Mexican outlook, though all pray for peace. At this time, most Americans are ready to admit that President Wilson prudently steered the country through a terrible crisis, but a serious mistake was made in showing preference to one Mexican bandit above another. The tacit support of the administration, if it did not directly induce the present outrages, certainly did not discourage them. If there is any hope, it is that Mexico must soon be so weary from blood letting that it must have a rest. Anarchy run to seed may be the beginning of Mexican sanity, while the people of the United States watch and pray, letting Secretary Bryan do most of the hoping.

GREECE WAVERS

The effect of the partial success of the allied fleets along the Dardanelles is already evident in the popular unrest in Greece which is stirred to the depths by the plight of her ancient enemy, King Constantine. He is desirous of maintaining neutrality, at least for the present, but the premier who has just retired and in all probability the populace are in favor of immediate war against Turkey. The participation of Greece would probably be followed by war in Bulgaria, Rumania and Italy as the fall of Constantinople would affect the future of all these powers. Greece is intensely patriotic and its people are always ready to respond to the call from their king, but so deep is their hatred of Turkey and their sense of resentment against Turkish rule that regardless of consequences they would sanction a war against Turkey at any time. The king, however, and many of the leaders, have to consider future contingencies which might make matters worse for Greece than in the darkest days of Turkish rule before declaring war. If the allies succeed in their attack on Constantinople there is little doubt that war will spread to the entire Balkan belt, each nation being anxious to conserve its own interest in the division of the spoils. It is not strange that King Constantine hesitates though he may not hesitate long.

Once In a Lifetime a Trip Like This

There are two wonderful Expositions in California this year and railroad rates will be much reduced. You can get the most out of your trip to California by including the marvelous ride through the Golden Gate. It is the way out. There are several ways of taking it all in, but only one best way, without extra expense and inconvenience. Everybody knows that the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q. R. R.) is the standard, highly equipped "On Time" railroad to Denver. But I want to tell you in particular about our through service to California, passing in daylight, Denver, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak and Salt Lake City. And then I can tell you about coming home by way of either Glacier National Park or Yellowstone Park. In fact, I will gladly tell you about your trip and suggest the most comfortable, interesting and economical way of going and returning. That is why I am glad to determine just what you allow me to be of use, and furnish you without charge, such pictures, maps and train schedules, as will enable you to determine just what to do. Will call on you at any time, or shall be glad to see you at my office. Write, telephone or call. Alex. Stocks and Company, Inc., Pass. Agt., C. B. & Q. R. R. Co., 264 Washington St., Boston.

NORTH CHELMSFORD ROBBERY

The robbing of the North Chelmsford postoffice Sunday night was one of the most daring outrages perpetrated in this vicinity for a long time, and under existing conditions there is little to prevent its repetition. In fact, a band of looters seems to regard the federal postoffices as a source of easy treasure, not only in North Chelmsford but in all the towns and villages of this part of the country, and the annual loss to the government from this source must be enormous. For a long time, residents of North Chelmsford have declared that the police protection there is wholly inadequate and those who read of the robbery will not doubt it. In the midst of a residential section a band of robbers brazenly caused explosions and got away with a large sum of money while helpless spectators telephoned to the Lowell police department. It will probably take some further crimes of a similar nature to show the town and federal authorities that to leave large sums unprotected in town and village postoffices is to invite robberies and kindred crimes.

If all those bombs that have been dropped on Ostend were effective, there would be no Ostend but a number of holes in the ground. The news has a

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If Peevish, Feverish and Sick, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, nervous, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love the harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

novel look now, however, as startling aerial activity has not been demonstrated by either side for some time. For some reason, attacks have been very infrequent. It may be that the results were not in keeping with the risk or that such raids alienated the sympathy of the neutral world from the attacker. We occasionally hear, even now, that a great Zeppelin attack on London is contemplated, but the prophecy has not the thrill it once had—either for us or London.

Mr. Horn, the famous bridge blower, may blow on his horn with all his might, declaring that his act was an act of war, but his blower sounds fishy. Not even the most rabid pro-German has come forward to call him a hero.

Lowell is getting it so straight from the shoulder in some current sermons that to call Billy Sunday would seem superfluous. Even those who do not agree with a preacher in everything must respect him if he talks openly and honestly and confines himself to facts in making charges.

PROVED AND DISPROVED
The good wife every pocket tries—this voice and raised his head. "This proves that I can exercise the right of search," she said.

He turned again to seek his rest. "Keep it if you don't mind. You cannot prove, though do your best. That's who search will find."

Not abashed at this she searched. But she was stung for fair. When from the pocket of his jeans she pulled a bleached blonde hair.

WORK AND DRINK
When "Individual Liberty" collides with industrial safety and output, it gets knocked down and run over. That the latter is the license court's refusal to let a man move his saloon nearer the doors of certain large factories. A man's right to drink when he wants it is not to be questioned. It is now watched by the employer's right to shield his establishment from any distracting influence.—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

BELLES ON THE BREAD LINE
When a man gets down to the bread line it may be suspected that the gift languages it may be printed in, will have a slightly ironic appearance. In the side pocket of his old coat the fresh, sweet watermelon is a sweet. When he drops in at the city lodging house, they will take it away from him in the bushes and sterilizing preliminary to which he and his clothes are subjected. If his lodging for the night on the least exposed corner of a swaying overhanging platform through which to warm his soul the truths of holy writ.—New York Sun.

SIGNS OF SPRING
One of the indications of the approach of spring is the appearance of large areas and the calls that are being made upon the fire departments to keep them under control. In spite of the laws that have been made, it is to be expected that there will be a number of them before the season is over, for there always have been. In the suburbs already can be seen little columns of smoke here and there, and where the householders are seeking to get rid of the rubbish that has accumulated during the winter. This is a good thing to do, under proper control, of course, but it often the children or the careless grownups cause the fire to spread to the dry grass and then the trouble begins. A little care would save a lot of trouble to the firemen and a lot of expense to the taxpayers. Another pretty good sign that the backbone of winter has shown in the cold, is the fact that a snake has been killed down in the ham. The frosts have not yet begun their spring music, however, and until they do, there are a lot of people who will refuse to be convinced.

I CAN'T, I WON'T AND I WILL
Three little boys in a rollicking mood, out in the snow at play. Their mother, at a look, for the sun was bright on that glorious winter day. Three little boys with shouts of glee, slide down a snowy hill. And the names of the rollicking little boys are "I can't," "I won't" and "I will."

But play must cease and a warning voice calls out from the open door. "Come, boys, here's a task for your little hands, we must have it done by four." "I will" speeds away at his mother's command with a cheerful and sunny face. And "I can't" follows on with a murmur and groan, at a weary and lagging pace.

But "I won't" with a dark and angry frown, goes sauntering down the street. And suddenly finds the time away till he thinks the task complete. At school "I will" learns his lessons as well, and is seldom absent or late.

"I can't" finds the lessons all too hard.

Everyone Admits This Good-Looking Woman

Wherever you go you hear people comment upon a pretty woman and it is really beautiful hair more than perfect features that gives her the appearance of charm, youth and beauty.

Any woman can merit this praise, for beautiful hair is only a matter of care. Just as a plant needs attention and nourishment so must the hair have care and nutriment to make it grow long, thick, soft, lustrous. The scalp must be free from dandruff, and the hair roots properly nourished, as nature intended.

Parisian Sage, which is delicately perfumed and easily applied is just what is needed. It tones up and invigorates the roots of the hair, and furnishes the necessary elements to make it grow long, soft, abundant and full of life.

One application of this scientific tonic removes every trace of dandruff and cleanses the hair of dust and excess oil. Why not start now to beautify your hair by using Parisian Sage, the great tonic treatment? It is inexpensive and easily applied at home. It can be had at any drug counter, and will surely work a miracle even if the hair is dandruff, oily, faded, streaked, dull and lifeless.

"I Won't" hates books and slate.

So the seasons come and the seasons go, in little never-ceasing race. And each little boy, now a stalwart soldier, in the busy world finds his place.

"I Will" with a courage undaunted, toils, and with high and resolute aim. And the world is better because he lives, and he gains both honor and fame.

"I Can't" finds life an uphill road; he falters in adversity, in the hour of crisis, and spends his life unloved and unknown in hopeless poverty.

"I Won't" opposes all projects and plans, and scoffs at what others have wrought. And so in his selfish blindness wrapped in his delus and is soon forgot.

GAMBLING CASE A FIZZLE

DISMISSED BY A JURY AT PALM BEACH—EX-MAYOR FITZGERALD MENTIONED

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 9.—The state's case against John R. and Edward Fitzgerald, arrested on warrants which alleged they had allowed Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and others to gamble at the Beach club, which they own, fizzled out last night.

One detective testified he had seen gambling there. Of the 22 prominent men for whom subpoenas had been issued, only three were present. New subpoenas were issued yesterday for John Pullman of Boston and Steven Ullman of New York, but the sheriff could not locate them. It was said that most of those concerned had gone fishing.

The jury therefore dismissed the complaint and the machinery of the law ground out a sort of byproduct by finding Col. James M. Schoonmaker, vice-president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, and A. H. Gleason, a New York lawyer, $25 each for contempt of court because they failed to show up at the closing session of the jury, though they testified Saturday.

James T. Fitzgerald, brother of the ex-mayor, left for Boston last night. He said "A great mistake was made in naming my brother in the warrant. He was not even a frequenter of the Beach club, although I think he went there once to a dinner. Neither was my brother Henry. On the contrary, went there quite a good deal, and think the detective who 'summoned' them and ignored me got us mixed up."

FAVORS FOR A PARTY

"I am going to have a bridge party at home this week, Marie," began Marjorie, "and I want to give some little favor to each girl present aside from the regular prizes. Can you suggest anything?"

"I think I have the very thing," replied Marie. "Why, not make some Sweethearts?"

"Whatever are Sweethearts?" responded the puzzled girl.

"Sweethearts are the pretty little or chignon bags cut in the shape of a heart, filled with lavender and pot pourri and tied with little bows of ribbon at the top. To make them, takes but a few minutes after the pot pourri is made. Rose petals may be bought at this time of year at any druggist's, or if you can get the rose petals at a hot-house you can prepare them yourself.

"Pack the rose petals in a jar in layers two inches deep, sprinkle two tablespoons of dry salt upon each layer. Continue this until the jar is full, adding fresh petals and salt daily.

Keep in a cool, dry place. After work turn out the salted petals upon a platter and mix and toss them together until the whole mass is loose. Then mix thoroughly with the following formula: Violet powder, ha ounce, orris root one ounce, rose powder half ounce, hellebore powder, ha ounce, mace half teaspoon, cinnamon quarter teaspoon, cloves half teaspoon, oil roses four drops, oil of chrisis ten drops, oil melissa twenty drops, eucalyptus twenty drops, bergamot ten drops, alcohol two drams.

"Make the hearts any size you wish, using two thicknesses of the material if it is too thin. Stuff the pot-pourri down into the points of the hearts. Fasten the bags at the top and on a pretty bow of ribbon. The material used to make the hearts must match the ribbon used or ribbon and net may contrast."

"They are the very things I have been trying to think of," exclaimed delighted Marjorie. "I will start right away to make some Sweethearts."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

First impressions are sometimes lasting. That is the case with the first impression as to the Wurlitzer organ at the Opera House is the correct impression.

The Wurlitzer organ is not a mechanical device operated by pressing an electric button. It is not an instrument incapable of music shading and expression. It is a genuine pipe organ such as you have seen in great churches, operated by a musician who must not only understand the organ, but also be familiar with the many combinations which constitute an additional feature and which have never been employed in any organ other than the Wurlitzer. So if you will please bear this in mind you will be fair to yourself and to the lessees of the Lowell Opera House. And, by the way, why not come in sometime during the week and see this great organ in operation? The Lowell Opera House is a Lowell amusement situation that will standardize moving pictures positively and permanently. It is going to be a part of your amusement program every week of the year. Come in and see it.

Mr. Edward Kendall of Boston, an old time theatrical man, is the resident manager, and he will be pleased to meet Lowell people this week and every week. Incidentally, Allan Lowe, one of the "L. and G." lessees, is present with the hand of welcome for all.

KEITH'S THEATRE

Janie McCree, who, judging from the charm of her vaudeville sketch "Neighbors," must be a daughter of "Mother McCree" of musical fame, is responsible for the principal offering on the bill at Keith's theatre this week, which is presented in excellent manner by Walter Leroy, Emily Lytton and Co. The title, "Neighbors" would suggest fun, but the fact that the neighbors are a wealthy Irish widow and a charming widow who sports the courtly cognomen of "Mrs. Cornwallis-West" assures the latter just what a fence divides the lawns of the pair who have been neighbors on friendly terms for a decade. "Bartley Crogrove," the witwrestler at the end of 10 years, becomes amiable and introduces his courtship by the announcement that he is going to fear down the fence dividing the estate. Being a widow, it doesn't take a diagram to explain to Mrs. Cornwallis-West what the amorous Bartley has in his mind. The widow not to be stung, bases her consent on her son's attitude in the matter. The son "looks up" his prospective stepfather and finding him there with the world's goods, gives his consent and down goes the barrier. His list of successfully-promoted enterprises. The courtship abounds in the finest of humor and furnishes exemplars for the reformed swain. The widow would not know how to approach the subject with the fair one. Walter Booth, Jr., is all to the merry as the son, while Mr. Leroy and Miss Lytton are fine.

"Him and Her" are Jack Donehue and Alice Marlon Stewart and him and her are "it" when it comes to furnishing a talking and dancing act entirely different from all the others. As a grotesque dancer doing seemingly impossible stunts on his feet, Donehue is in a class by himself while there is nothing low about the fair Alice, who is as entertaining in long trousers as she is in long skirts. Their act is decidedly refreshing.

Shelton Brooks and Clarence Bowman, gentlemen of real color, intensify head-balancers and acrobatics and their act is made picturesque by exquisite stage-settings.

La Viva opens the bill and presents a clever act of the gymnastic and contortionist variety. Von Zell presents an act that probably stands alone, for he impersonates great musicians. He plays the violin in a Rubelick. Then he blows the corn after the style of Bobbin' Kyril. He reminds you of Van Blenc on the cello and finally impersonates Centralville grocery and meat business is that of J. A. Allard, situated at 111-116 Ennell street. Mr. Allard is an energetic business man and his methods of fair dealing have made him many permanent customers and friends.

M. L. & A. Caron

Millinery, tailoring and ladies' notions are specialized in by M. L. and A. Caron, who conduct a large store at the corner of West Sixth and Ennell streets. Mrs. Caron has recently returned from New York and will hold a spring opening very soon.

M. Roussel, Market

One of Centralville's leading dealers in meats, groceries and provisions is Mr. M. Roussel, whose store is at 54 Ludlum street. This business was established in 1894 and has been conducting a large trade with great success for the past twenty-five years.

G. Gott & Co.

First class furniture repairing, upholstering, etc., of every description are specialized in by G. Gott & Co., whose business is located at 351 Bridge street. Mr. Gott has a very large trade throughout the city.

A. Desrosier

A large number of residents of Centralville obtain the provisions for their tables at the meat, grocery and provision store of A. Desrosier. This busy store is located at 712 Lakeview avenue.

H. M. Demers

Another busy Centralville market is that of H. M. Demers, which is situated at 6-12 Lilley avenue. Mr. Demers deals in meat, fish, groceries and provisions of all kinds and has a large trade.

J. A. Gervais

Fine quality groceries and meats are carried in abundance and variety at the store of J. A. Gervais, which is located on the bass saxophone. It's a classy act. The Hearst-Relig News Pictorial views show Grace Darling en route for Panama and the Harvard athletes going through their spring practice.

THE OWL THEATRE

The last two performances of "The Truth Wagon," a five-act photo-play featuring Lolita Robertson and Max Fignman, will take place today at the Owl theatre, this afternoon and evening. This production is one of the most delightful yet shown at the Owl theatre, which is noted for its many good features. Max Fignman as the idle son of a rich man, plays a part that is well fitted to his genial personality. Lolita Robertson also shows very well in her characterization. The supporting cast is far better than could be expected, and the production has the distinctive air of being of the better kind. When one considers the ridiculous prices charged for seeing this big production, it becomes a real mystery as to how the management can secure such attractions, and show them at the regular prices. But they consider it good advertising and are worthy of special mention. Tomorrow the eleventh episode of "The Exploits of Elaine" will be shown, besides a seven-reel regular performance. Be sure to follow this great serial, for it contains some very clever plots.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"East Lynne," one of the favorite dramas of the present day, was presented at the Merrimack Square theatre last evening. There was a fairly sized audience and the wholesomeness of the play, together with the good acting, secured for the company a very given merited recognition. The cast of characters was as follows:

Lady Isabella.....Laura Hudson
Madame Vane.....Laura Hudson
Barbara Hare.....Sadie Galloupe
Miss Jeanne.....Wm. H. Daniel half-sister.....Marion Chester
Joyce, maid to Lady Isabella.....Dorothy Ardle
Willie Carlyle, Lady Isabella's son.....Good Mason
Archibald Carlyle.....Herbert DeGere
Sir Francis Levison, Sam A. McHarry
Lord Mount Severn.....Lady Isabella's guardian.....Sir Francis Levison
Richard Hare.....Stewart F. Wilson
Mr. Dill, clerk to Mr. Carlyle.....Joseph Thayer
Nelson, Mr. Carlyle's butler.....Frank McDonald

The play has been revised since seen in this city before, but it still retains an interesting story and is one of the best dramas presented here for some time.

The story is centered around a young woman of high social standing, whose jealous disposition causes her to suspect her husband of being attentive to an old school chum. She is urged to leave her family by "Sir Francis Levison," and she departs, but later learns that she was deceived. Her love for her children causes her to return home in a short time, but she plays the part of a maid. Finally, happiness is brought to the home and the curtain goes down on a pleasant scene.

Miss Laura Hudson, the new leading lady of the company, takes the part of "Lady Isabella" and her interpretation is excellent. Samuel A. McHarry is unusually good in the part of "Sir Francis Levison," while the other members of the cast, including Miss Sadie Galloupe, Marion Chester and Miss Dorothy Ardle are very good.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

"The Love Route," the big, multiple reel feature at the Academy of Music today and tomorrow, is one of the strongest and most thrilling western railroad dramas ever produced on the screen, and it features Harold Lockwood, a feature film actor of fame. A story of big men in a big country, done big things, is embodied in this fine drama, which is of the thoughtful, human interest and true-to-life kind. In addition to the main feature, several other reels of the finest motion pictures, always characteristic of the Academy, will also be shown. Then again, tonight is the "live night" at this popular theatre, for there will, in addition to the Academy's regular program, be a fun providing another contest with no increase in the price of admission. "Amateur Night" has always been a big favorite at this house and those desiring to attend should be early in order to secure a seat.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—With the Russian wheat supply cut off by the closing of the Dardanelles to merchant ships, Greece has now turned to the United States and is buying from this country from 25,000 to 40,000 tons of wheat a month, according to American Consul General Weldell at Athens.

Consul Weldell reports that all negotiations for the purchase of American wheat are made at Athens and advises sellers wishing to enter the market to appoint a local agent to represent them.

BUSY DISTRICT ACROSS THE RIVER

Centralville Stores Are Many and of Great Variety

Trade in Many Cases Extends Throughout the City

From the standpoint of business activity as well as in size, Centralville is a most important section of Lowell. Bridge street is a veritable "main street" and on it are situated very many business firms dealing in a wide variety of lines. Lakeview avenue, Aiken street, Alken avenue, Lily avenue and other streets in that vicinity in West Centralville also contain many business houses, and the great portion of them are meat, grocery and provision stores.

A glance through the advertisements in this Centralville section will give one a good general idea of the number and variety of businesses located across the Merrimack. Centralville people find these many stores very convenient in their way home. As a result of the good business policy of the proprietors, they obtain and hold large numbers of satisfied customers. Many of the business places in Centralville are active in other sections of the city and some enjoy a large patronage from every part of Lowell.

J. W. Stewart Company
The J. W. Stewart Co., plumbing and heating contractors and sheet metal workers, is a prominent Centralville firm. Its business activities, however, have extended to every corner of the city and its patronage has by no means been limited to residents of the Centralville section. The headquarters of the J. W. Stewart Co. are located at 359 Bridge street and the place receives a distinctiveness from the very large display window through which one may view a tastefully arranged interior. The Minneapolis and Honeywell heat regulators are carried exclusively in Lowell by the Stewart company. These heat regulators are wonderful time and labor-saving inventions. Attached to the heating apparatus, they automatically keep the house at just the right temperature by a thermometer contrivance. By setting the regulator at night for any time, in a manner similar to the setting of an alarm clock, one can be assured of attaining the following morning in a warm room. This regulator is a great saver of fuel. It has been installed in many Lowell homes by the Stewart Co. This firm is one of the most prominent in this line of business in Lowell as well as one of the leading Centralville business houses.

John H. Burke
One of Centralville's most enterprising business concerns is the meat and grocery establishment of John H. Burke at 23-32 Coburn street, opposite West Third street. Upon entering this store one is immediately impressed by the very large array of stock which the business carries and at the same time the visitor realizes that this stock is very rapidly and frequently turned over, so wide is the patronage of Centralville people at Mr. Burke's provision store. Mr. Burke entered into business for himself some 21 years ago and is one of the oldest meat and grocery dealers in this city as well as in the Centralville section. Previous to the opening of his own store he was employed by J. P. Callahan. Mr. Burke is indeed a representative business man of Centralville even as his store is a representative business house. He still enjoys the patronage of some people who began to trade with him at the very beginning of his career in business, a fact which speaks well for his popularity as well as for quality and price of the goods which he sells. Mr. Burke's store has ample facilities for prompt service for customers and particularly for prompt delivery of goods. In addition to being the proprietor of a business which has enjoyed marked success, Mr. Burke is also a member of several fraternal organizations, taking active part.

Harr Engraving Company
The Harr Engraving company, 53 Beach street, is a Centralville business whose activities reach points everywhere throughout the city and also outside of Lowell. The proprietor is Mr. Harry Barr and samples of his expert work appear frequently in "The Sun." Mr. Barr's work as an engraver has won wide commendation and he has, since going into business, enjoyed growing success. He is a strong believer in advertising and gives mutual demonstration of this. One of his specialties is helping customers in preparing their advertising copy, selecting appropriate trade marks, cuts, etc. His advertisement in this special Centralville section is worthy of special notice. Everyone knows that live illustrations are of great value in an advertisement and the business of the Harr Engraving Co. is to make live illustrations. In this field he enjoys an extremely wide patronage among the leading business men of the city, and of points at considerable distance from Lowell in other cities. Mr. Barr is an energetic member of the board of trade of Lowell, and in every way a "Booster." Even though he makes a specialty of promptness, nevertheless his work is always more than satisfactory. Mr. Barr may be reached by phone. Telephone 2211.

Thomas J. Fitzgerald
"Fitzgerald says 'Quality First.'" is characteristic of Mr. Thomas J. Fitzgerald's advertising as well as of his business policy. Mr. Fitzgerald is one of the leading cigar and tobacco dealers of this city and has a large branch store in Centralville, located at 256 Bridge street. This is a genuinely successful Centralville business, being one of a very busy chain of three stores which Mr. Fitzgerald has established in Lowell. The main store is located in Merrimack street, a short distance above city hall on the opposite side and he has another store in Middlesex street. His Centralville store is a very busy spot and enjoys a very large patronage. Mr. Fitzgerald conducts the local official Liggett and Myers premium station where cigars and tobacco tags and coupons may be exchanged for valuable articles of great variety. His Centralville store is a branch premium station. Valuable premiums are given by the Liggett and Myers company for these tobacco tags and coupons, as stated in Mr. Fitzgerald's two advertisements on this section. In all of his stores, Mr. Fitzgerald makes a specialty of fine pipes, as well as dealing in all the leading brands of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. He is very well known in this city. In his Centralville store he has two Centralville boys as clerks.

First Street Garage
Another prominent and highly successful Centralville business is the First Street Garage, the proprietor of which is Mr. Philip Bibeault. Mr. Bibeault holds the local agency of the Vim delivery cars, a commercial motor vehicle that has won quite an enviable reputation throughout the country. The Vim is a car of 1000 pounds capacity, and in his advertisement in this Centralville section of "The Sun," Mr. Bibeault mentions the various models and their prices. During the past two or three weeks, Mr. Bibeault has been kept constantly busy demonstrating this car to prospective buyers, and his activity in this line has resulted in very many sales. The Vim is a very neat appearing commercial car, and is capable of doing a whole lot of work in a manner that is highly satisfactory. It has been highly recommended by many users, and Mr. Bibeault cheerfully refers the man who is looking for a good truck to any user of a Vim. The prices range from $620 to $725, according to the model selected. Mr. Bibeault also deals in various motor supplies and equipment and makes a specialty of repairing. He anticipates a very busy spring season.

F. R. Strout & Son
The grocery and provision store of F. R. Strout & Son is a real pioneer in that line in Centralville for it is not only one of the very oldest in that section, but even in the entire city. This store was established in 1812. Mr. Strout assumed proprietorship in 1876, and since that time has flourished with growing success. The proprietors are at present Mr. Frank R. Strout and his son, A. R. Strout, who has recently entered into a partnership in the business. For years this store was known as the "Old Centralville Grocery." The store is very well equipped in every way and employs a large force of clerks and delivery men. The firm enjoys a very large patronage not alone in Centralville, though very many Centralville residents are numbered among the customers, but in other sections of the city. Frank R. Strout & Son's store is situated at 329 Bridge street and the telephone number is 2555. At all times it is a very busy spot. The proprietors strictly adhere to their long established policy of giving the very highest quality goods at the lowest possible prices, and as a result of this their patrons have always been satisfied and the trade has constantly increased. Prompt delivery of telephone orders is a pleasing feature of the activity of this provision establishment.

Kingsbury's Market
Another long established and thoroughly successful Centralville provision store is Kingsbury's market, located at 213 Bridge street. This market was established more than 34 years ago by John M. Kingsbury and is now conducted with equal success by Mr. Fred S. Kingsbury. This store owes the confidence of a great host of customers by 34 years of unbroken, prompt courteous and in every respect highly satisfactory service. The goods which are sold are of the best quality obtainable and the prices asked are moderate. These facts denote that the store is a most commendable place at which to make provision purchases. The Kingsbury market enjoys today the patronage of people who began trading there years ago when the business was first started. Mr. Kingsbury has ample resources for prompt delivery and up-to-date service in every particular. His stock embraces all kinds of groceries, meats and provisions, and he has a number of competent clerks in his employ. The Kingsbury market is truly a representative Centralville business, though its trade extends to other sections of the city, and it is one of the class of firms which has endured because of its staunch policy of carrying only the best goods and giving the best service.

Edward M. Bowers
Mr. Edward M. Bowers is the proprietor of a flourishing grocery and provision store in Centralville, known as the Water Works Grocery, situated at the corner of West Sixth and Jewett streets. Mr. Bowers is another pioneer in this business, having conducted two stores in different sections of the city, and his present store has been under his control for the past 11 years, previous to his assuming pro-pietorship having been owned by the late Charles D. Washburn. Mr. Bowers carries full lines of choice provisions of every kind and has gained and retained a large host of friends and regular patrons. Mr. Bowers has for very many years been a leader and energetic worker in the cause of a total abstinence abstaining from alcoholic in the Lowell Reform club, and sparing no pains nor effort to aid in the success of this temperance movement. In this field Mr. Bowers gained distinction throughout the city. Mr. Bowers is also a member of several fraternal organizations and has for eight years acted as treasurer of the Lowell Retail Grocers and Butchers' association. In every respect, Mr. Bowers is well known as a "Booster" and a hard worker whose efforts have been crowned with success.

K. G. Baldwin
Mr. K. G. Baldwin is the progressive proprietor of the large store at 446-448 Bridge street where may be found large stocks of wall paper, paints, oils, varnishes, glass and hardware of every description. Mr. Baldwin's store is not only one of the very largest business houses in Centralville, but is among the leaders in this business in the entire city. He has been in business at his present location for the past nine years with marked success.

Keith's Market
Keith's market has been located at 369 Bridge street for the past 16 years. Previous to that time, Mr. Archibald J. Keith conducted a market in Lakeview avenue. All told, Mr. Keith has been in the provision business for the past 20 years, always with growing success. The people of Centralville, many of whom are regular customers of Keith's market are thoroughly familiar with the fine quality of the goods sold there and with the prompt courteous service which is always accorded them. Telephone orders are a specialty at this market and are always given prompt attention. Mr. Keith always has on hand a large stock of all provisions and his prices spell economy for customers.

Henry P. Clough
Fruits, confectionery, cigars and tobacco are the special lines handled by Mr. Henry P. Clough in his store at 488 Bridge street, corner of Fifth street, one of Centralville's busiest and most popular places of business. In addition to these lines, Mr. Clough is agent for Canon's ice cream and will supply this to church parties, picnics, etc., at special rates. Magazines, daily papers, and stationery are found at this store in large and varied quantities, and Mr. Clough is agent for the laundry of Mr. George H. Russell. Success has characterized the conduct of this business from its beginning because of the fine business policy which the store follows.

Webster's Drug Store
One of Centralville's leading drug stores is that of Ray P. Webster, located at 415 Bridge street, and dealing in drugs of every description, specializing in putting up prescriptions. Webster's pills are a product of this live store and many users of this medicine have been strong in their praise of its fine qualities. The pills have a wide sale in this city and elsewhere and are taken for constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, indigestion and other ills. Webster's drug store is a genuinely successful business firm.

Desmarais and Bourrel
E. S. Desmarais and C. E. Bourrel are the members of the firm of Desmarais and Bourrel, plumbing and heating contractors, whose place of business is located at 720 Aiken street. This company is the local agent for Richmond boilers, a heating apparatus much in demand. The members of the firm are well known throughout the city as well as in Centralville and they have extended their business activity to many places in other sections of Lowell. Their business patronage is large, and they form a representative and successful Centralville business.

George L. Hubbard Real Estate
Mr. George L. Hubbard is a prominent real estate man of Lowell with an office at 73 First street. His pleasant location places him within the bounds of Centralville though in business, his activity extends throughout the city and elsewhere. He has property of all kinds for sale and is well known throughout Lowell. He may be reached by phone at 2182.

D. D. Smith Fish Market
Fresh, salt and pickled fish, oysters, clams, lobsters, etc., will be found in fine quality and in abundance at the fish market of D. D. Smith, situated at 311 Bridge street. Mr. Smith makes a specialty of providing fish to hotels, restaurants and boarding houses at a reduced rate, a fact which has greatly increased his already large patronage. The Smith market is well known to everyone in Centralville.

Vina Prentiss, Millinery
The millinery and ladies' specialty establishment of Vina Prentiss, situated at 405 Bridge street, is a store that is largely patronized by the Centralville ladies. This store will have its annual spring opening showing of newest styles in the near future and invites the public to visit the place and inspect the large stock of millinery and notions. The store is widely known throughout the city as well as in Centralville.

G. H. Miller, Candy Mr.
Among the prominent and successful business men of Centralville is Mr. George H. Miller, manufacturing confectioner and caterer. Home-made candies are Mr. Miller's specialty and he makes new lots fresh every day. His store is located at 360 Bridge street. He specializes on large orders at reduced rates.

Noonan the Druggist
Beef, Iron and Wine, a tonic with a wide reputation as a genuine health builder, is made at Noonan's Drug store, located at the corner of Bridge and First streets. Mr. Noonan's store enjoys a very large patronage and is one of the largest in the city, as well as in Centralville. His guaranteed stands behind Beef, Iron and Wine.

S. W. Wiggin, Coal, Etc.
S. W. Wiggin's office is situated at 25 First street. Mr. Wiggin has been doing a large business in coal, coke and wood in this city for many years and is one of the most largely patronized dealers. He has always a large stock of dry kindling on hand for immediate delivery.

Donnelly's Market
Another Centralville market that enjoys the patronage of a large number of satisfied customers is that of Emma F. Donnelly. This store is located at 665 Bridge street and carries a line of all high quality provisions at moderate prices.

George Dion's Market
A prominent business of West Centralville is the market and grocery store of George Dion, at 735-7 Lakeview avenue. Mr. Dion is a pioneer in this business in Lowell, having been established for more than 20 years. His quality, goods and low prices attract many people.

Thomas J. Fitzgerald, Premiums
Thomas J. Fitzgerald, tobacconist, conducts a live wire store at 256 Bridge street. This is a branch station for his official Liggett & Myers premium station and he invites Centralville people to bring their tobacco tags and coupons there to receive the very highest value for them. Fine premiums are given in exchange for these coupons and Mr. Fitzgerald is the official representative of the company in this city.

A. W. Cluer
Centralville's dealer in light and heavy express and driving harnesses is Mr. A. W. Cluer, whose place of business is situated at 340 Bridge street. He also carries a full line of carriage supplies, including blankets, robes, whips, combs and brushes. He has had a long period of business success.

J. B. Arthur & Co.
A long established grocery store in Centralville is that of J. B. Arthur & Co. at 101 Bridge street. Mr. Arthur is a popular resident of this section and his business life has been one of success. The store has a complete line of all groceries and is widely patronized.

E. Bertrand, Furniture
The furniture store of E. Bertrand, at 337 Bridge street, is a representative Centralville business house, doing a large business. House furnishings of all kinds are found here and Mr. Bertrand deals in both new and second-hand goods. He invites the public to inspect his stock.

W. J. Blake, Fruit, Etc.
A busy fruit, confectionery and cigar store, and one of long standing is that of W. J. Blake, 377 Bridge street. Mr. Blake has constantly on hand a large stock of the finest fruit, candies, etc., years and tobacco which he sells at moderate prices. This store is popular among Centralville people.

H. Roux, Shoes
Mr. H. Roux is a leading shoe dealer of Centralville and his store is at 349 Bridge street. He has been in business for 15 years. Mr. Roux makes a specialty of repairing rubber footwear, which is a novel feature. He also does expert shoe repairing at low prices.

Robert E. Means

FREDDIE WELSH AND WILLIE RITCHIE READY FOR THEIR TEN ROUND BOUT

NEW YORK, March 8.—Freddie Welsh, the lightweight champion of the world, and Willie Ritchie, the former holder of the title, are now ready for their ten round bout to be held in Madison Square Garden, March 11. The battle should result in one of the best ten round battles held here in some time. Welsh has been beating all comers at the short distance route and has been fighting well. Ritchie has not engaged in any bout for some time, but is fresh and in good condition. Upper picture shows Ritchie Billy Roche on left watching Ritchie show Welsh's methods of holding, to which he objected in his last battle with Welsh.

SCARE IN MEXICO CITY

GENERAL OBREGON IS BLAMED FOR THE GRAVE CONDITIONS IN THE CAPITAL

(Foreigners and the better class of natives of Mexico City are in the gravest danger from starving, lawless mobs. General Obregon is preparing to withdraw his troops and leave the city to the hungry mobs, first cutting the water supply. This in reprisal for the city's submission to Zapata. Bread is not to be had and other food is at prohibitive prices. Shops and factories were closed by Obregon, putting thousands out of work. Foreign diplomats are daily calling upon Secretary of State Bryan and urging action by the United States.

DIRECT WIRELESS

Between U. S. and Neutral of Old World for First Time Since War

CHATHAM, March 8.—Direct wireless communication between the United States and a neutral nation of the old world will be possible for the first time since the outbreak of the war through stations now "virtually" completed on Cape Cod and the coast of Norway.

One of the early acts of war by the British was the cutting of direct cable communication between Germany and this country. German capital, however, had a short time before erected wireless stations at Elvez, Prussia, and Sayville, L. I., and in this way war news has been brought to this country direct from Germany without interference from other belligerents. Wireless communication between Clifden, Ireland, and Glace bay, N. S., also has continued but there has been no direct wireless service between this country and the other great neutrals. Accordingly all the wireless war matter from Europe has been censored by one of these two belligerents.

"TRIP LOCK" CRIBS

Commend themselves to mothers at sight. The absolute simplicity of the "Trip-Lock" appeals to them. It simply cannot get out of order. It cannot be reached by baby hands. It has no nuts or bolts to be lost and replaced at expense of money, time and temper. It has no chance to pinch or bruise the baby fingers in raising or lowering sides. The tip of the toe "trips the lock" and allows you to lower the side quickly and noiselessly with one hand. The perfectly adjusted slides allow you to raise it just as noiselessly. It automatically "locks itself," and "Baby" is safe night and day.

PRICES $7.50, $8.50, $10.00

The "Trip-Lock" Device adds not a penny to the cost of the crib. They are made in a variety of designs in brass or enamel.

28 POLITICIANS ON TRIAL

Terre Haute Men Charged With Conspiring to Corrupt Elections There Last November

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 8.—Twenty-eight politicians of Terre Haute were placed on trial before Judge Anderson in United States district court here today, charged with conspiring to corrupt the elections in Terre Haute last November. The defendants and the positions they held at the time of their indictment are: Don M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute and an avowed candidate for the democratic nomination for governor in 1916. Eli N. Redman, judge of the Vigo county circuit court. Dennis Shea, sheriff of Vigo county. E. E. Talbot, city controller of Terre Haute. Maurice Walsh, county sealer of weights and measures and treasurer of democratic campaign committee. Harry S. Montgomery, president of the board of works. John M. Massellink, city sealer and former state representative. Thomas C. Smith, city judge. George Ehrenhardt, member of board of works. Edward R. Driscoll, secretary democratic committee. Hilton Redman, attorney, and son of Judge Redman. Charles Houghton, assistant custodian of city hall. Louis Nunley, assistant city engineer. Joseph O'Mara, street commissioner. Frederick Morris, employee of city engineer's office. William S. Crockett, city cemetery employee. Richard Kinney, cemetery clerk. Alexander Acezel, alias Steel, inspector of street paving. Arthur Gillis, election board clerk. John E. Greene, store proprietor. George Sovern, saloon-keeper. Timothy Conway, former pugilist. Joseph Strauss, liquor salesman. George Woodall, saloon-keeper. William P. O'Donnell, saloon-keeper. William Doyle. Pearl McKay. Andrew O'Brien. The occupation of the last three defendants is designed as "gambler." A special venire of 60 men was on hand today. The federal grand jury investigation which resulted in the indictments lasted from Nov. 25 to Dec. 24. Of the 128 indicted, 88 pleaded guilty and 25 not guilty. One of the men not arrested, Clem Logan, was killed by another defendant, William Bunkley, during a fight over a dog. Bunkley was acquitted of the charge of murder and since pleaded guilty to the federal indictment.

CRUCIFIX UNTOUCHED VILLA IS HALTED

EVERYTHING ELSE IN THE CHURCH AT MESSINES, BELGIUM, DESTROYED

LONDON, March 8.—With the sole exception of a crucifix, which was untouched, everything in the church at Messines, a Belgian town six miles south of Ypres, was destroyed as the result of fire following a bombardment of that place by heavy guns, according to a report of the eye-witness with the British headquarters staff whose story this week includes a description of the remarkable resistance of medieval buildings to shell fire. Great blocks of masonry were blown off the Messines church, the belfry was shot away and the interior was completely burned out but the framework, though irregular in outline and full of gaping holes, is still standing, the writer says, defiant amid the surrounding ruins. The saved crucifix is life size and made of plaster. It was in the centre of a very fine screen.

ANNULLED AS CONFISCATORY

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The North Dakota lignite coal rate law was today annulled as confiscatory and unconstitutional by the supreme court when applied to the Northern Pacific and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroads. Justice Hughes, for the court laid down the far-reaching principle that a state cannot select a particular commodity, such as coal, to fix a rate, so long as the return from a railroad's entire intra-state business is remunerative. "The state has broad powers over railroads, but it does not enjoy the rights of an owner," declared the justice.

GREECE IN TURMOIL OVER THE QUESTION OF WAR OR NEUTRALITY

LONDON, March 9.—Greece is apparently at the parting of the ways, with her king exerting his influence to maintain the neutrality of his country in opposition to Eleutherios Venizelos, the retiring premier, who announced that his party would refuse to support the policy of the government about to be formed. M. Venizelos announced the resignation of himself and his cabinet, as King Constantine did not approve the policy of the government. M. Venizelos clearly indicated that the difference between himself and the monarch was over the question of peace and war. He said he had advised the king to select as his new premier M. Zaimis, governor of the National bank, who, he said, "will follow a policy of neutrality, which I hope will not endanger our newly acquired territory. Our party," M. Venizelos continued, "will refuse to support any government which may be formed. Besides, M. Zaimis, if he forms a cabinet, will not come before the chamber."

POLICE SEEK "ELLIS" HEAR BREWERS

SUSAN TALLENT IDENTIFIES PICTURE IN ROGUES' GALLERY AS HER ABDUCTOR

BOSTON, March 9.—After returning to her home, 38 Revere street, yesterday morning, with the story of her abduction by a man who lured her to the South station Saturday afternoon, 14-year-old Susan Tallent was brought by Sgt. Ramsey to the bureau of criminal investigation, where she identified in the rogues' gallery a picture of her abductor.

This man who represented himself as "S. T. Ellis, chief clerk of a camp in Rutland," where the child's father has been a patient, induced her to meet him at the South station to welcome home her father, who was cured, the man said.

The Tallent girl went there with a little brother, whom the man sent home on an errand. The girl said she was taken to a house on Milford street, where the man remained with her until yesterday morning.

The girl's father came home yesterday. He is fairly certain he has met "Ellis" before. Several members of the Tallent family saw the man when he visited their house last Friday.

A general alarm has been sent out for "Ellis." The police theory is that he was an inmate of some place, where he heard Tallent describing his daughter.

Burglars Entered Hub Building 100 Yards From Police Station

BOSTON, March 9.—Burglars operated on one of the city's busiest corners early today.

While many night workers and others early astir were in the streets the men broke into the Old Corner Bookstore building, an ancient structure at the corner of Washington and School streets, tore up a marble stairway in a futile endeavor to enter a cigar store, plundered a barber shop and a talking machine store on the second floor and escaped. The scene of the break was within 100 yards of a police station and less than 50 yards from "Newsaper row."

A SONG RECITAL

Madame Anita Rio Before the Middlesex Women's Club

Madame Anita Rio gave a really delightful song recital yesterday afternoon before the Middlesex Women's club, and, as on previous occasions, filled the hall to capacity. In a program of 16 numbers, with encores occasionally, she touched on every pulse of feeling and revealed many phases of technical perfection. Madame Rio throws herself heart and soul into her singing and seems to take as much enjoyment out of it as the audience, which says a great deal, for yesterday afternoon several hundred listened spellbound, responsive to every subtle shading of the artist whether leaning to tears or laughter. Once again Miss Mary E. Reilly charmed a club audience by her accomplished and sympathetic accompaniments. Following is the program:

- I. a—Amarilli, mia bella... Caccia! 1510
b—Ronde villageoise
c—Ah! Mon Berger
d—J'ai pleuré en rêve... Georges Rue e—A des Oiseaux... Georges Rue
- II. a—Whither... Schubert
b—My Sweet Repose... Schubert
c—Hedge Roses... Schubert
d—In Exile... W. Taubert
- III. Neapolitan Folk Songs
a—Vive e notte... de Cortis
b—Torna a Surriento... de Cortis
c—Marchiare (sung in dialect)... Tosti
- IV. a—Have you seen but a white little grow? (Old English)
b—Shedder! Thy demeanor vary (Old English)
c—Greetings of Hiawatha (Indian Song)
d—Will of the Wisp... Ch. G. Sprus

Madame Rio has a most magnetic personality which, if analyzed would reveal temperament, quaint humor, poetic feeling and intimate knowledge of the human heart. Given these and a voice as pure as a mountain stream and thrilling as the note of a bird, it is not strange that she has such an individual charm in all of her songs yesterday her expression was direct and with liquid living notes she gave vitality and a soul to her songs. She also showed a sensitive feeling for musical and rhythmic values, swaying many times to the fitting tune of some quaint old folk song and imparting to her audience a hungering for the ever-flowing joy of romantic experience. A slight cold slightly marred the effect of selections that otherwise were perfect and called attention to a mastery of vocal technique that was admirable. Generally one forgot all about the unusual and felt that Madame Rio sang songs as if they were old friends, sung—sang them in a way that made many forget colonial lull, the stage and the singer and opened the magic doors of memory that swing wide before the wand of music.

The opening group of songs was most effective. The singer seems to revel in folk music or some unusual composition with a distinct appeal. The old French songs were delicately shaded, sometimes thrilling with the joy of life, sometimes grave with a make believe gravity. The mood was suggested by tempered gesture and a play of feature that revealed the artist's delight in her songs.

In the second group the "Whither" in Schubert was haunting in its idealism, and "My Sweet Repose" of the same composer was characterized with an almost religious exaltation. The Neapolitan folk songs had a wonderful charm, showing all their southern abandon in the joyous interpretation of Madame Rio. The Tosti number had passages of lace-like intricacy through which the liquid voice of the singer played like sunshine. In old English songs were full of quaintness and poetry. The "Greetings of Hiawatha" had the spirit of Longfellow's poem, and the "Will of the Wisp" was rendered with fairy charm. For an encore she sang "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," with true feeling for the sentiment.

Madame Rio is now assured of a high place on the operatic and concert stage both in this country and abroad. She has a wide range of voices in many of the musical centers of Europe, but she has always made the singer secondary to the woman who loves to sing and wants to give pleasure. Yesterday she drew hearty and ready applause from a spellbound audience, in response to which she insisted that Miss Reilly should share. Many of the songs depended for their effect on the accompaniment, and Miss Reilly proved an ideal accompanist.

Answer to French and British Note Received Today

PARIS, March 9.—M. Gounaris, deputy for Patras, has consented at the request of King Constantine to undertake the task of forming a new cabinet. It is reported that M. Gounaris, who was foreign minister in the Theodoris cabinet, has consented to take that portfolio under the leadership of M. Gounaris.

M. Gounaris will submit his list of ministers to the king tomorrow. It is understood and obtained an agreement that the cabinet should be dissolved if the supporters of the ministry are in the minority, which is considered highly probable. The new premier is expected to favor the continued neutrality of Greece.

OPPOSED TO INTERVENTION

PARIS, March 9.—M. Rully, a former prime minister of Greece has given an interview to the correspondent at Athens of the Staff in which he says that King Constantine acted on the advice of his general staff in opposing the policy of intervention proposed by M. Venizelos. The staff was of the opinion that an expedition against Constantinople would weaken the military position of the Bulgarian frontier which in Athens was regarded as dangerous in view of Bulgaria's doubtful attitude.

LAD DIES IN CARRIAGE

NORTHAMPTON, March 9.—Philip Stanley, son of Joseph Stanley of Williamsburg, was found dead in a carriage yesterday at Gosport.

He was returning home from West Gosport. As the carriage passed Gosport station people noticed that the horse was going slowly, and that the driver was unconscious. They stopped the carriage and found the boy dead. He was on his way to Williamsburg, where he was a boarder, and was returning home from West Gosport.

Petitions for Pensions

The petition of Lyman C. Proouty for retirement on the pension list, under chapter 477 of the acts of 1912, was taken up today for final action and the council voted to grant the petition, the petitioner to receive $338.75 per annum.

Mr. Proouty is an employee of the street department and a veteran of the Civil war.

Action on the petition of Cornelius Collins, the fireman who petitioned to be retired on the pension roll, some time ago because of an injury that had rendered him unfit for active service, was deferred till Tuesday next. Mr. Collins right leg was broken while he was responding to a fire.

The accident occurred at Market and Suffolk streets. Mr. Collins was present at the hearing today. Action was postponed, not because there is any question as to his disability, but because

Carranza in Reply Denies Existence of Conditions Which U. S. Called Upon Him to Improve—Battleships Washington and Georgia Ordered to the Mexican Waters

WASHINGTON, March 9.—General Carranza has made a preliminary reply to the American representations, denying generally the existence of conditions in Mexico City which the United States has called upon him to improve.

When asked whether the United States had any new intentions in Mexico, the president declared that the government had represented its views on what appeared to be the situation in Mexico City. He added that, in all such situations it was necessary to discount reports of a great deal because certain persons would like to have the United States intervene in Mexico even if they had to manufacture the facts on which to base the intervention.

When the president was asked if the latest note to Carranza was an ultimatum, he replied that the administration did not issue ultimatums but expressed its views and acted accordingly.

Speaking of conditions in the Mexican capital, President Wilson referred to the fear of outrages there as being more pressing at present than at any previous time. The fear was, he said, that the city would be evacuated and left without protection.

No request had come from any foreign government, the president said, for action by the United States in Mexico although diplomatic representations of two foreign countries had expressed their anxiety over affairs in the southern republic. The president referred only briefly to the new naval movements, saying two battleships were going to Vera Cruz from Guantánamo preparatory to sending others home for repairs. At the navy department it has been said earlier that none of the ships at Vera Cruz would be relieved until conditions in Mexico had improved.

No complaints have come as to conditions in the territory under control of Villa, the president said, although he had been informed that for 75 miles south of the American border there was some distress and fear of famine. Duval West, personal representative of the president, who has been conferring with General Villa and his subordinate generals, is now on his way to Mexico City and will make an investigation of conditions there. He will report his movements to the president in person when he returns.

To Protect Foreigners

President Wilson said today that the latest note sent to Carranza called to his attention the serious situation reported to exist in Mexico City and called on him to protect foreigners in the capital. He added that evacuation of the city was the principal thing to be feared.

BRITISH SHIP SEIZED

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—The British steamship Wyvilbrook has been seized by Carranza authorities at Campeche and her commander, Captain Muir, has been placed in jail, according to mail advices reaching here from Progreso.

Right Wing Retreats to Within 8 Miles of Border — Russians Advance in Turkish Armenia and Take Important Points—Crisis in Bulgaria

Both the right and left flanks of the German forces in West Poland have been dislodged. Petrograd dispatches state from the positions which they took upon the advance from East Prussia. The German right wing is said to have beaten a hasty retreat to within eight miles of the border. Today's official report from Berlin, however, states that the Russian offensive is being met successfully. Several Russian assaults in this region are said to have been repulsed.

Battle in Champagne

The battle in Champagne has become less violent, snow has interrupted fighting in the Vosges and elsewhere along the western front there is no great activity. The day's official reports from Berlin and Paris mention only local engagements of comparative small importance.

Russians Rout Turks

A further advance by the Russian army which is striking into Turkish Armenia along the shore of the Black sea is announced at Petrograd. It is claimed that the Russians have occupied important positions beyond the Tchoruk river, throwing back the Turks with heavy losses.

Italy on Eve of "Decisive Events"

Although there is no direct evidence that Italy will depart from her policy of armed neutrality, Rome dispatches express the belief that the nation is on the eve of "great decisive events."

Preliminary Salandra is quoted as saying that "Italians will see the destiny of their country accomplished."

Crisis in Bulgaria

Bulgaria, the least likely of any of the Balkan nations now at peace to join the allies, is confronting an internal crisis over the question of peace or war. Reports reaching Paris state that Premier Radoslavoff has been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand because he desired immediate action against Turkey. The plan of the premier and his followers, as thus outlined was to occupy Adrianople, provided Greece threw her lot with the Triple Entente.

Staff Supports King of Greece

The course to be followed by Greece is still to be determined, although King Constantine in his opposition to war is said to have the support of the general staff. The main argument against joining with the allies is that an attack on Constantinople would weaken the military strength of Greece along the border of Bulgaria which would be regarded as dangerous in view of the relations of the two countries. M. Zaimis, requestor by King Constantine to form a new cabinet, has declined and the member of the chamber of deputies, M. Gounaris has undertaken the task.

Attacking the Dardanelles

Paris dispatches mention several warships not named before as members of the allied fleet which is attacking the Dardanelles. As the strength of the British North sea fleet apparently has not been weakened the inference is drawn that Great Britain and France are bringing in for this service vessels from the far corners of the world, the tying up of German shipping and the destruction of German warships on the high seas having made this possible.

15 British Ships Sunk

The British admiralty places at 15 the number of merchantmen sunk by German submarines from Jan. 21 to March 4 out of a total of 534 gallies and arrivals at ports of the United Kingdom.

OFFICIAL TURKISH REPORT SAYS BRITISH LOST 400 IN BATTLE AT PERSIAN GULF

AMSTERDAM, March 9.—An official statement from the Turkish war ministry, as received here today from Constantinople says that the British lost 400 men in the recent battle at the head of the Persian Gulf. The statement follows:

"Three battalions of British Infantry with two quick-firing field guns, two mountain guns, one machine gun section and one squadron of cavalry attempted March 7 to attack our positions in the region of Ahwas in Khuzistan. After a counter attack by our troops the British fled in disorder to their ships, leaving 400 dead or wounded."

THAW'S SANITY ISSUE OF CONSPIRACY TRIAL

Lawyers Contend Thaw Was Sane When He Fled From Matteawan—Trial Resumed

NEW YORK, March 9.—The prosecution's case against Harry Thaw and five co-defendants on trial for conspiracy to escape from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, was outlined by Deputy Attorney General Kennedy in the supreme court today and the taking of evidence began.

The selection of the jury in the first day of the trial was a surprise to most of those concerned in the case, as was also Thaw's self-effacement, which was considered remarkable in view of the active part he has insisted upon taking in his previous legal battles for freedom.

The Thaw Jury

Frank F. Bailey, foreman, 2311 Broadway, salesman.

Charles E. Caskey, 415 Fort Washington avenue, public accountant.

William R. Price, 118 West 11th street, salesman.

Fredrick J. Emmerich, 660 West 17th street, contractor.

Frank E. Mainhardt, 217 West 125th street, real estate.

Lawton Mackall, 620 West 122d street, magazine writer.

Charles B. Curtis, 1303 Lexington avenue, mechanical engineer.

Eugene Foley, 291 Edgecombe avenue, assistant manager.

Henry N. McConnell, 15 Fort Washington avenue, manager.

Robert O. Winger, 318 West 18th street, clerk.

John D. Blackburn, 415 Fort Washington avenue, railroad agent.

That Thaw's attorneys are determined the question of his sanity shall be made the issue of his conspiracy trial was evident from their statements after the adjournment of the court for the day. Their contention is that he was sane when he fled from the asylum in August, 1913, and that he came near to the trial for the prosecution. She was quoted as having said:

"I am tired of this case. I think Harry is being persecuted and it takes any interest whatever in it. I think he is doing what I can for him. I think he has been confined long enough and if his lawyers want me I will do anything I can for him."

For this reason, it was said, no subpoena was left with Thaw's wife. It was understood, however, that prosecution would not be surprised if she was called to the witness stand by the defense.

ABDUCTION IS CHARGED $250 REWARD IS OFFERED

THOMAS RYAN ARRESTED IN SALEM ON CHARGE OF KIDNAPING GIRL

SALFEM, March 9.—Thomas Ryan was arrested today, charged with the abduction of Susan Talent, 14 years of age, in Boston last week. Ryan, the police say, admitted his identity but denied charges that had been made against him.

TRIAL OF MRS. ANGLE

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT TODAY'S SESSION—STATE TO OFFER IMPORTANT EVIDENCE

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 9.—Expectation that the state would offer evidence bearing on the death of Walter R. Ballou in Stamford last June drew spectators in large numbers to the superior court today when the trial of Mrs. Helen M. Angle, on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of Ballou's death, was resumed.

The evidence presented last week was in the nature of foundation laying. Medical testimony was given to establish the fact that Ballou died a violent death and diagrams of the interior of the Rippovam building, where the tragedy occurred, were entered as exhibits by the state. Mrs. Angle lived on the third floor of this building and the maps were chiefly of her apartments and the stairs and hallways leading from the street entrance to her rooms.

GOOD FRIDAY

Gov. Holcomb of Connecticut Proclaimed April 2 as Fast Day in State—Urged People to Pray for Peace

HARTFORD, Conn., March 9.—Governor Marcus Holcomb today proclaimed Good Friday, April 2, as Fast Day in Connecticut. In exhorting the people to observe the day he asked them to offer thanks that the nation has been spared the scourge of war and to offer a sincere prayer for an early cessation of the bloody strife which is rending the nations of the old world.

FINN HELD IN $10,000

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 9.—Representative Dennis F. Finn, who was given a hearing in the district court last week, was found probably guilty today on a charge of assault with intent to kill Commissioner of Engineering Paul Hanningan and was held for the grand jury in the sum of $10,000. In default of which Finn was remanded to jail. The alleged shooting took place in the city engineer's office in city hall about two weeks ago, one bullet entering the alderman's throat. Alderman Hanningan attended a meeting of the city council for the first time since the shooting, but he was unable to speak above a whisper and his remarks were repeated to the other members by Mayor Kane.

STOPPED RUNAWAY

"Jimmie" Rourke, the A. D. T. boy, proved a hero this afternoon, shortly before 6 o'clock when he stopped a runaway horse in Moody street. The horse, blithely to a delivery wagon, was speeding up the street toward city hall when "Jimmie" Rourke, 14, rushed to the road and grasping the horse by the bridle brought it to a full stop before any damage was caused. After his heroic act "Jimmie" jumped into his wagon and drove the horse back where it started from, near the corner of Suffolk and Moody streets.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Lowell Bills Postponed in Senate —Drastic Restrictions in No-License Places

BOSTON, March 9.—It is expected that the legislative committee on roads and bridges will visit Lowell in the near future to look over the ground and make a decision as regards the extension of First street as proposed in Senator Marchand's bill to provide for the improvement of a highway along the northern bank of the Merrimack river.

The one day off in five bill came up in the senate yesterday afternoon and Senator Marchand asked that the matter be postponed till Thursday next.

On motion of Senator Marchand the senate yesterday postponed until next Wednesday action on the bill to authorize Lowell to pay a gratuity to the mother of John J. Kenney.

Liquor Permit Bill

The Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday postponed until next Wednesday action on the bill providing that a drugist in a no-license city or town, who holds a sixth-class liquor license, shall not sell to any one person more than eight ounces at any one time of any alcoholic liquor, nor make a second sale of any alcoholic liquor to the same person within 30 days.

Mr. Sawyer of Ware, the original petitioner, argued for substitution and said a city or town that votes no-license is entitled to have the sale of liquors prohibited. Under the present system he said, the drugist takes the place of the saloonkeeper.

Mr. Mulvey of Fall River opposed substitution and declared there are few drugists who abuse their privileges; that the board of registration in pharmacy has ample authority to deal with drugists who sell liquor improperly. Mr. Donovan of Boston favored substitution, which prevailed, 52 to 33.

Substitutions Refused

Mr. Sawyer failed to secure substitution for an adverse committee report of a bill providing for a nine-hour day for railroad employees not directly engaged in train service. The vote, a standing one, was 64 to 24.

Consideration was postponed until today on the bill forbidding inquiry of schoolteacher candidates for their religious belief, the committee on bills in third reading reporting the measure unconstitutional.

Mr. Bower presented a petition for legislation establishing day and evening classes in practical arts for women. The bill was referred to the committee on education.

Mr. Morrill was refused substitution on a vote vote on a bill forbidding employment of children under 14 years of age in manufacturing and mercantile establishments. He was refused substitution also on a bill to prohibit activities during the winter. He also failed to have substituted a bill permitting cities and towns to provide outings for school children.

A bill providing that candidates for public office shall file statements disclosing their receipts as well as their expenditures, was opposed by Mr. Sawyer on the ground that it would discourage contributions by friends or candidates who would not like to have their identity made known. The bill was ordered to a third reading, 58 to 41.

Investigate Milk Industry

Gov. Walsh sent a special message to the legislature yesterday afternoon on the deplorable state of the milk industry. He intimates that if a remedy is not soon found, municipalities may find it necessary to make the milk supply a public function. A resolution is attached to the message providing for the appointment of a special commission of inquiry of three persons, who shall receive such per diem compensation for actual time of service as the governor and council may approve, not to exceed, for services and expenses, $10,000; to report to the legislature not later than Jan. 10, 1915, and to the governor in part at such times as he may direct.

Rejected by Senate

The senate yesterday rejected the bill to change existing law so as to permit a county commissioner and an associate county commissioner to be elected from the same city or town.

Senator Bean of Cambridge moved to substitute for an adverse committee report a bill to permit political party designations on independent nomination papers if expressed in not more than two words, except in Boston and other cities where party designation in municipal elections are forbidden. Senator Martin of North Attleboro opposed substitution on the ground that the change would nullify the intent of the legislature to abolish party designations. The senate refused to substitute the bill.

On Motion of Senator McLean of Fall River

The senate substituted for an adverse committee report a bill to increase to $400 the salary of the justice of the second district court of Bristol county.

Social Welfare—Leave to withdraw

On Thomas J. Sawyer on his petition that prisoners on the ground that the state highways, to Joseph A. RHEUMASALTS IS FINE FOR TORPID LIVER

Learn How to Secure Quick, Safe Relief

The liver is the largest gland in the body, weighing nearly four pounds. Its main purpose is to aid digestion and make glycogen for the blood. It is important to keep it working right. If your liver is lazy and your kidneys throw with a dull ache, you need the scientifically blended and chemically pure carbonated lithia drink called Rheumal salts.

Lame back, shooting pains, tired feeling, dizziness and nervousness simply mean that your liver and kidneys are clogged with impurities and that poisonous uric acid is retarding their work of aiding the digestive functions and filtering the blood.

If your liver needs flushing and your kidneys are not working right, ask your druggist for about a dozen bottles of Rheumal salts. Take two teaspoonfuls in one-half glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days all the pains in your back will be gone and you will feel as "fine as a fiddle."

Rheumal salts is a delightful carbonated drink that cleans out the stomach and intestines, eliminates toxins and poisons and leaves the intestinal canal clean and sweet. It is a uric acid solvent, as well as a salubrious tonic. Acts quickly without griping or nausea. Plus for growing children. If your druggist cannot supply you, write to the Rheumal salt Co., Minneapolis, Minn. 25c, 50c, $1.00 bottles.

Taxation—Leave to withdraw on the petition that the tax commissioner may revise assessments made by local assessors. Mr. Fuller of the house dissenting.

Insurance—A bill in a new draft to provide for policies by mutual liability insurance companies, providing five options in the formation of corporations and prescribing the terms and restrictions under which these corporations may do business.

Committee reported a bill regulating the number of copies issued of the insurance commissioner's report; also a bill to amend the law as to reserve liability for total or permanent disability in policies of life insurance; leave to withdraw to Thomas H. Hamill on his petition to change the Massachusetts standard policy to make the insurance company liable in case of total loss to the amount named in the policy; to Dennis A. Murphy on his petition to permit persons insured under the Massachusetts standard policy a right to appeal to the superior court from the findings of referees; Frank Mulvey on his petition that all life, accident or health insurance companies give notice to the policyholder of any breach by him of the conditions in said policy; to Edward C. Mansfield and George P. Drury on their petition to increase the guaranty capital of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance company from $150,000 to $500,000; to Leo M. Harlow on regulating life insurance companies and the collection of premiums; to Ernest B. Moran on his petition that fire insurance companies and owners of real property shall agree upon the value of the same before insurance, as such.

Religious Commission

The petition of Susan E. Stevens for legislation to provide for a commission of 10, chosen from different denominations, to inspect public and private hospitals, almshouses, houses of detention, reformatory institutions, convicts, nurseries, asylums, seminaries and schools, maintained by religious denominations, was the subject of a hearing yesterday before the legislative committee on public institutions.

Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Josephine C. Brown, George Bailey, Joseph Kelly, Mary Sawyer, Charles M. Smith of Natick, R. M. Floyd, John C. Kent, Dorothy Nichols of Chicago, Martha A. Lewis and Benjamin B. Allen were heard in favor; ex-State Treasurer Frederick W. Mansfield, John P. Manning, David F. Tilley of the state board of charity, and Charles T. Daly, representing the Federation of Catholic Societies, in opposition.

Worcester was largely represented in the support of the bill providing that hotels holding liquor licenses in cities of more than 20,000 inhabitants may sell liquor until midnight. In a hearing held at such an early hour, Charles T. Talmann of Worcester explained that it is not to increase liquor revenues, but to enable hotels to give patrons the sort of service they demand. Much complaint is made, he said, because no liquor can be obtained at a Worcester hotel after 11 p. m.

The opposition was conducted by H. Housley Newton of Everett, attorney for the Antislavery league. Rev. A. K. Foster of Worcester said churches there having 20,000 parishioners were on record against the bill.

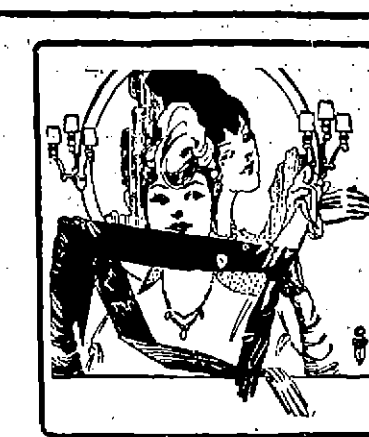

BILLERICA

Robert Ellis, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Ellis of North Billerica, wandered from home yesterday afternoon and was picked up by the local police and held at the station until called for by his parents. It seems that the lad rode into this city on a team and then was unable to get home.

James P. Higgins of 3 Rogers street, North Billerica, has returned to his home after an absence of five years, during which time he has visited many of the middle west, Japan, China, and the Philippine Islands. He also attended the opening of the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The Billerica grange has shipped a load of produce for the Belgian relief ship to sail from Boston tomorrow. The load consists of corn, turnips, canned peas, cereals, tea, coffee, corn, chickens, corn, shoes, linen and other articles.

SALE OPENS TOMORROW MORNING—COME EARLY

THE SICKABED LADY

Nurse says now is about the time to begin giving the children and the older ones of the family also, a mixture of sulphur and molasses to offset the effect of the enervating warm weather of early spring.

She directs that you buy five cents worth of sulphur. Rub three teaspoonfuls smooth in a tumbler or cup and add to this nine teaspoonfuls of molasses. Mix this well.

Then take one teaspoonful each morning and at night before retiring for three days. Then stop for an interval of three days. Then resume taking again and continue in three day periods until you have taken the blood purifier for nine days.

For your patient's comfort nurse suggests a mirror, fixed in the window at such an angle that it reflects the street as a real boon to an invalid. It isn't always possible to have the bed near the window, and it's dreadfully dull for a poor soul to lie there day after day, seeing nothing but the four walls.

But if she can watch in the mirror all the people who pass up and down the street she will have ample occupation.

Spread a table cloth over the top sheet before a meal and tuck it well under the bolster to prevent crumbs from falling into bed. Unless something of this kind is used the bed is nearly sure to get "crumbly" before the end of the day, and that is uncomfortable.

Some very nice dishes for invalids are suggested by nurse. Cornmeal gruel—All gruels must be thoroughly cooked, not very thick and free from lumps. Put three tablespoonfuls of cornmeal into a third of a cupful of water. Add two cups of boiling water. Boil twenty minutes, stirring constantly, or else cook in a double boiler for an hour.

Custard with fruit—Very often hard boiled custard can be served to advantage with fruit. The fruit adds attractiveness to the custard and so tempts the appetite. A few crumbs, neatly cut in pieces, can be covered with custard. Dates can be used in the same way, orange pulp cut in dice can be added to it or a spoonful of apple snow can be placed on top of a dishful of custard.

Grapefruit and orange—Grapefruit pulp cut in dice and served in a glass with the juice of an orange and a very little sugar, with a tablespoonful of brandy or sherry, if that is allowed makes a most refreshing dish for an invalid.

Little patients can be very trying indeed to the home nurse. They are not old enough to realize the importance of keeping away from their medicines, regularly and doing what they are told. They require constant watching, too, for many a dangerous illness has resulted from a child caught during convalescence after one of the most ordinary childhood ailments.

In nursing children the home nurse requires the utmost patience and tact. She must be gentle, though firm, with the little invalid, being able to make him realize that she is in absolute charge of the sickroom, and that in all things her will is law.

Children's ailments are always a worry. You never know what the most simple cold is going to lead to, and a great deal of the anxiety connected with the nursing of children is the real difficulty experienced at times in being able to distinguish between the symptoms of various illnesses. Lawrence Man Killed on the Haverhill Road Sunday Night

LAWRENCE, March 9.—Pasquale Lafranco of 295 Elm street was almost instantly killed and a companion, Antonio Digione, also of 295 Elm street, received injuries which necessitated treatment at the general hospital when they were struck and knocked down by an automobile on the Haverhill road Sunday night. The automobile was driven by S. Stensler, a wholesale leather merchant of Haverhill and his wife and the Misses L. Karelitz and L. Ajsterker were with him at the time.

The accident happened about 8 o'clock about 100 yards this side of Phillips' turnout. The automobile was Haverhill bound and the men were walking toward Lawrence. It is said that they started an argument and began to fool in the center of the road apparently unmindful of the approaching car. After the accident Mr. Stensler rushed the victims to the hospital where it was found that Lafranco was dead. The local police were notified and they in turn notified the Methuen police.

Chief Nimmo stated this morning that in making a thorough investigation of the case and if he secures any evidence of negligence on the part of the driver he will summon him to court on the charge of manslaughter.

SUFFRAGE HEARING

Suffragists and Anti-Suffragists Storm State House at Providence, R. I., Today

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 9.—Suffragists and anti-suffragists crowded the state house today for a public hearing on a bill to grant women the right to vote for presidential electors. United States Senator Works of California and Congressman Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming headed the suffragists' list of speakers.

The large attendance expected resulted in the granting of the use of the house chamber for the hearing, which was before the house judiciary committee.

GREECE IN TURMOIL OVER THE
QUESTION OF WAR OR NEUTRALITY

King CONSTANTINE and TYPE OF GREEK SOLDIERS

LONDON, March 9.—Greece is apparently at the paying of the ways, with her king exerting his influence to maintain the neutrality of his country in opposition to Eleutherios Venizelos, the retiring premier, who announced that his party would refuse to support the policy of the government about to be formed. M. Venizelos announced the resignation of himself and his cabinet, as King Constantine did not approve the policy of the government. M. Venizelos clearly indicated that the difference between himself and the monarch was over the question of peace and war. He said he had advised the king to select as his new premier M. Zaimis, governor of the National bank, who, he said, "will follow a policy of neutrality, which I hope will not endanger our newly acquired territory. Our party," M. Venizelos continued, "will refuse to support any government which may be formed. Besides M. Zaimis, if he forms a cabinet, will not come before the chamber."

POLICE SEEK "ELLIS" HEAR BREWERS

BOSTON, March 9.—After returning to her home, 38 Revere street, yesterday morning, with the story of her abduction by a man who lured her to the South station Saturday afternoon, 14-year-old Susan Tallent was brought by Sgt. Ramsey to the bureau of criminal investigation, where she identified in the rogues' gallery a picture of her abductor.

This man who represented himself as "S. T. Ellis, chief clerk of a company in Rutland" where the child's father has been a patient, induced her to meet him at the South station to welcome home her father, who was cured, the man said.

The Tallent girl went there with a little brother, whom the man sent home on an errand. The girl said she was taken to a house on Milford street, where the man remained with her until yesterday morning.

The girl's father came home yesterday. He is fairly certain he has met "Ellis" before. Several members of the Tallent family saw the man when he visited their house last Friday.

A general alarm has been sent out for "Ellis." The police theory is that he was an inmate of some place, where he heard Tallent describing his daughter.

Freight Rates on Beer, Ale and Porter Ordered Up

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Leading brewers of Massachusetts will be invited to attend a hearing, some day before March 20, by the interstate commerce commission on an order advancing freight rates on beer, ale and porter and on empty kegs, barrels and bottles returned to the shippers. The order is to become effective on March 20.

By the proposed change, the rate on beer, ale and porter in carload lots will be raised from 31.5 cents a hundred pounds to 36.8 cents; in less than carloads from 32.5 cents to 38.1 cents. Returned empty barrels and kegs in carload lots will rise from 25.3 cents to 31.5 cents a hundred pounds, less than carloads from 26 cents to 32.5 cents. Returned empty glass bottles in boxes carloads, from 25.3 cents to 31.5 cents, and less than carloads from 26 cents to 32.5 cents.

By some large brewers this advance is said to be prohibitive, while one firm says it means an increase of $200,000 a year in its expenses.

DARING ROBBERY

Burglars Entered Hub Building 100 Yards From Police Station

BOSTON, March 9.—Burglars operated on one of the city's busiest corners early today.

While many night workers and others early astir were in the streets the men broke into the Old Corner Bookstore building, an ancient structure at the corner of Washington and School streets, tore up a marble stairway in a futile endeavor to enter a cigar store, plundered a barber shop and a talking machine store on the second floor and escaped. The scene of the break was within 100 yards of a police station and less than 50 yards from "Newspaper row."

A SONG RECITAL

Madame Anita Rio Before the Middlesex Women's Club

Madame Anita Rio gave a really delightful song recital yesterday afternoon before the Middlesex Women's club, and, as on previous occasions, filled the hall to capacity. In a program of 16 numbers, with encores occasionally, she touched on every pulse of feeling and revealed many phases of technical perfection. Madame Rio throws herself heart and soul into her singing and seems to take as much enjoyment out of it as the audience, which sings a great deal, too, yesterday afternoon several hundred listeners spellbound, responsive to every subtle shading of the artist whether leaning to tears or laughter. Once again Miss Mary E. Reilly charmed a club audience by her accomplished and sympathetic accompaniments. Following is the program:

13. Will of the Wisp....Ch. G. Spess

Madame Rio has a most magnetic personality which, if analyzed would reveal temperament, quaint humor, poetic feeling and intimate knowledge of the human heart. Given these and a voice as pure as a mountain stream and thrilling as the note of a bird, it is not strange that she has such an individual charm. In all of her songs yesterday her expression was direct and with liquid living notes she gave vitality and a soul to her songs. She also showed a sensitive feeling for musical and rhythmic values, swaying many times to the fitting time of some quaint old folk song and imparting to her audience a hungering for the overflowing joy of romantic experience. A slight cold slightly marred the effect of selections that otherwise were perfect and called attention to a mastery of vocal technique that was admirable.

Generally one forgot all about the method and felt that Madame Rio sang songs as the composer wished them sung—sang them in a way that made many forget Colonial hall, the stage and the singer and opened wide before the wand of music.

The opening group of songs was the most effective. The singer seems to revel in folk music or some unusual composition with a distinctive appeal. The old French songs were delicately shaded, sometimes thrilling with the joy of life, sometimes grave with a make believe gravity. The mood was suggested by tempered gestures and called attention to a mastery of vocal technique that was admirable.

In the second group the "Whither" of Schubert was haunting in its idealism, and "My Sweet Repose" of the same composer was tinged with an almost religious exaltation. The Neapolitan folk songs had a wonderful charm, showing all their southern abandon in the joyous interpretation of Madame Rio. The "Torna a Sorrento" passed off with a delicacy through which the limpid voice of the singer played like sunshine. The old English songs were full of quaintness and poetry, the "Greetings of Hiawatha" had the spirit of Longfellow's poem, and the "Will of the Wisp" was rendered with fairy charm. For an encore she sang "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" with true feeling for the sentiment.

Madame Rio is now assured of a high place on the operatic and concert stage, both in this country and abroad. She has sung with success in many of the musical centres of Europe, but she has always made the singer secondary to the woman who loves to sing and wants to give pleasure. Yesterday she drew hearty and ready applause from a spellbound audience, in responding to which she insisted that Miss Reilly should share. Many of the songs depended for their effect on the accompaniment and Miss Reilly proved an ideal accompanist.

INVESTIGATING DAMAGE TO SHIPS

NEW YORK, March 9.—A report was expected today from a naval board of inquiry appointed by Rear Admiral Nathaniel Usher, commandant of the New York navy yard, to investigate the cause of the accident to the receiving ship Maine, which partly filled with water and almost sank at her pier in the navy yard last Saturday.

AMERICAN REPLY TO FORM NEW CABINET

Answer to French and British Note Received Today

PARIS, March 9.—The Journal in its issue of today says it understands the American reply to the French and British notes concerning the blockade of Germany has been received in Paris and London.

Its contents are very much as already has been announced in American newspapers. It asks the French and British governments for detailed information as to their purposes and particularly what measures they propose to adopt to carry them out.

TO FORM NEW CABINET

M. GOUNARIS HAS CONSENTED, AT REQUEST OF KING CONSTANTINE, TO UNDERTAKE TASK

ATHENS, March 9.—M. Gounaris, deputy for Patras, has consented at the request of King Constantine to undertake the task of forming a new cabinet. It is reported that M. Balladras, who was foreign minister in the Theodoris cabinet, has consented to take that portfolio under the leadership of M. Gounaris.

M. Gounaris will submit his list of ministers to the king tomorrow. It is understood, and obtained an agreement that the chamber shall be dissolved if the supporters of the ministry are the minority, which is considered highly probable. The new premier is expected to favor the continued neutrality of Greece.

OPPOSED TO INTERVENTION

PARIS, March 9.—M. Rullys, a former prime minister of Greece has given an interview to the correspondent at Athens of the Akrita in which he says that King Constantine acted on the advice of his general staff in opposing the policy of intervention proposed by M. Venizelos. The staff was of the opinion that an expedition against Constantinople would weaken the military situation on the Bulgarian frontier which in Athens was regarded as dangerous in view of Bulgaria's doubtful attitude.

LAD DIES IN CARRIAGE

NORTHAMPTON, March 9.—Philip Staab, son of Jacob Staab of Williamsburg, was found dead in a carriage yesterday at Goshen.

He was returning home from West Cummington, as the 11:25 passed through Goshen people noticed that the horse was going slowly, and that the driver was bent over. They supposed he was asleep. William S. Gabb, who was on his way to Williamsburg in an automobile, was attracted by Staab's strange position and discovered that he was dead. Medical Examiner Seymour of this city examined the body. He learned from Edward Streeter of West Cummington that young Staab was a guest at his home over Sunday and asked his adopted daughter to marry him. It is said she refused him and that he told her he would take his life unless she consented to marry him.

While it is said the medical examiner found no evidence that Staab had taken his life, he did not give an opinion as to the cause of death.
The lad's father says he had been subject to epileptic fits.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Division S. A. O. H. held its regular meeting last evening in Hibernian hall with President Daniel F. Reilly

WEDNESDAY'S SUN FEATURES

"Man in the Moon," "Everyday Etiquette," "French Mide," and "Other Interesting and Helpful Articles"

The "Man in the Moon" is a contribution to The Sun that is always read with the keenest interest. This contributor will have an article of interest in tomorrow's editions, in which he will discuss various topics of the day.

"Everyday Etiquette" will answer timely questions of etiquette and deportment.

"The Frank Apology" is the interesting and important topic which the "French Mide" chooses for discussion in tomorrow's Sun.

"Jack's Monkey" is the title of tomorrow's "Sleepytime Tale" for the little readers of The Sun.

MARY ANTIN TONIGHT

Mary Antin will give her rare and unusual lecture on "They Who Know at Our Gates" in the First Congregational church tonight. The occasion merits a large attendance. A distinguished writer has said recently that the close of the European war is likely to impose as great problems upon the United States as upon any other nation in the world. If this one great power remains at peace, it will indeed become "The Promised Land" of which Mary Antin has so earnestly written. Would millions of people seeking a refuge here become a menace, or could they be turned to account in the industrial boom that must be somewhere ahead?

This brilliant young Russian-American woman knows more about the subject than do most professors of economics, because she has lived "within the pale." She knows the vision of the immigrant, and she also knows that his dream seldom comes true. This is the interpretation that she gives in her lecture, and it is illumined with flashes of wit and such poetry as one finds in the Psalms. To miss this lecture will be to lose an opportunity of unusual interest. Tickets on sale at the Y. W. C. A. rooms and at Steinert's music store, or at the church tonight. The lecture begins at 8 o'clock.

Good Temples

An interesting meeting of Gen. Fiske lodge, 44, I. O. G. T., was held last evening with visitors present from Brook, Elrene and Mt. Zion lodges. One candidate was installed as chaplain. Remarks were made by Frank McLean, Mrs. Ida Tilton, Robert Johnston, Mr. T. Frank Tilton and Henry Flanders.

LA TOURAINE DOCKED RIGID INQUIRY BEGUN

HAYRE, March 9.—A rigid inquiry has been begun into all phases of the life of the French liner La Touraine which docked here Sunday afternoon and landed safely all her passengers. Admiral Charlier of the ministry of marine and Director Duret of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique boarded the vessel upon her arrival and started the investigation at once. The report of Admiral Charlier will be submitted to the government.

Thrilling Experience
The passengers apparently were none the worse for their thrilling experience. The fire, which was confined to one of the holds, was extinguished at midnight Sunday and the last stage of the voyage was completed without incident.

No Disorder or Panic
As soon as the fire was discovered the passengers and the boats were prepared for instant use but at no time was there any real danger, according to a statement made by Captain Causin, who declared the S. O. S. call for assistance was sent out merely as a measure of precaution. There was no disorder and no panic, he said, the passengers accepting the situation calmly in the belief that the fire would be quickly put out and that other steamers would reply promptly to the wireless summons.

Rotterdam Stood By
The steamer Rotterdam, one of the vessels which answered La Touraine's call and stood by until the fire was extinguished, left the French liner at Prout Point, England. The French cruisers Guichen and Dupetit Thouars, which also went to La Touraine's assistance, escorted her, however, as far as Cherbourg. Other vessels which answered Captain Causin's call were informed there was no need for their services and continued their trips after receiving the thanks of the liner's commander.

Captain's Story of Fire

Captain Causin told the story of the fire after he had taken his vessel safely to her dock.

"The fire was discovered at 2 a. m., Saturday, March 6," he said. "It was in the hold of one of the ventilators of the boiler room. Heavy smoke found its way to the bridge. While the men in the boiler room sought to extinguish the blaze, which was not serious in itself, I turned my attention to other parts of the ship.

"At this moment one of the night watch reported hearing the crackling flames forward. I ordered all the crew to their stations and as the ship was in a mist I gave directions to stop her in order to locate the scene of the blaze. We discovered flames eating their way toward the postoffice and beginning to attack neighboring cabins. We discovered that the flames were spreading to the upper decks. I ordered the engine room to stop the engine and to involve a large amount of freight. Believing that so large a part of the cargo might take fire and finding we were not able to deal with it easily I decided to send out a call for aid. Meanwhile through holes made in the partitions we obtained a view of the fire which then was attacked with water and steam. Sunday morning, the fire had mastered the blaze and the danger was past."

The ship shows no external sign of the fire. It was admitted that military supplies were included in the cargo which was threatened.

made for carrying out the campaign. The meeting will be the most interesting and important yet held and a full attendance is requested.

Barbers' Union

The Barbers' union held a largely attended and interesting meeting Sunday afternoon in Trades and Labor hall, and considerable business of importance was transacted. President Michael McMillen occupied the chair and called to order promptly at 2 o'clock. Two new members were admitted, several reports were read and accepted and the union took favorable action on the labor forward movement.

Butlers' Union

The Butlers' union held an interesting session in Cotton Spinnery hall last evening with President Timothy Bourke in the chair. Quite a list of important business was transacted and a number of progressive reports were read and accepted. Several communications from the International Union of Brewery Workers were referred to the secretary for disposal. Favorable action was taken on the labor forward movement and the organization pledged to comply with all requirements made by the committee in charge of the campaign in organizing the city.

Loomfixers' Union

The regular meeting of the Loomfixers' union held in Carpenters' hall in the Runels building last night, was probably one of the most largely attended and interesting in years. President Peter Coult occupied the chair, and after opening the meeting, he spoke feelingly on the work of the departed ex-president and brother member, Edmund Sear, who was one of the oldest members of the union. In respect to his memory, the business of the session was suspended for three minutes and the charter was ordered draped. A delegation was also appointed to attend the funeral which will be held tomorrow morning.

Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers was present and also spoke on the work of Mr. Sear.

In the business session which followed two members were admitted and several applications for membership were received. Several important reports were read and accepted and a number of communications from various locals were referred to the secretary for disposal. The secretary's report showed the union to be in excellent financial condition.

Organizer's Death Felt

The death of Edmund Sear came as a great surprise to the members of the various labor organizations in this city and keen regret was shown on every hand at the meetings held last night. Mr. Sear had been a member of a labor organization ever since he was old enough to remember, and had sacrificed much in order to promote the interests of the movement. A few short months ago his ability as a speaker was recognized by the executive board of the United Textile Workers and he was made an organizer. During his term as organizer he did excellent work, and was mainly instrumental in building up a great number of locals in New Hampshire, where he was assigned on taking up his duties. He also did good work in this city and in Maynard. Failing health made him lay off for a period and his death ended all yesterday.

A few years ago, Mr. Sear was president of the Loomfixers' union. He was then working in the Massachusetts mills and in many a conversation with the writer he spoke of his great friendship for Agent Mitchell, whom he considered one of the leading lights of the times. He successfully piloted the union through the recent strike and won the admiration of all the members for the cool manner in which he handled all questions. He was a successful business man and his passing will be regretted by all who knew him.

BAD AMUSEMENT

Evangelist Currie Condemns Theatres, Card Playing and Dancing

At Paige Street church, last night, Evangelist Currie spoke on "Amusement, Card Playing, Dancing and Theatricals."

"There was never a time," said Mr. Currie, "when dancing had people by the throats as it has today; never was there such a craze for the dance hall by all classes of people as today. People say that dancing is a benefit, that it produces grace, and that it is good physical exercise. Girls could get far better physical exercise if they would wash the dishes, scrub the floor or get the broom and sweep out the rooms. Instead of sitting at the piano and letting mother do it, and boys would find more benefit from getting a back saw and digging into a pile of wood or shoveling the snow in the winter instead of leaving it for father to do, or sometimes mother."

"The hardest people to convert are the dancers. They are harder to reach than the drunkard in the gutter. The so-called modern dances which are so popular today are all of an immoral origin. There is too much dancing in the schools. There can be no function whatever of any class in the high schools, but it must end with dancing. There is no reason whatever why the schools should be allowed to have the dances at functions where they will tempt the children of parents who believe and whose children believe that it is wrong to dance."

Gambling Affects Honesty

"Gambling has a bad effect on honesty. It creates a desire to cheat, to put something over on the other fellow. It creates a serious injury to the home. Many noted gamblers and liquor dealers who have been converted have testified that parlor card parties are far more dangerous than the gambling dens, and that many young men and women who have become in later years the patrons of these places are those who have been permitted when young to see their fathers and card parties and to take part in them. When you play for a prize there is as much of the gambling spirit as when you play for money, and I think that if it was going to play for a prize I would rather play for a silver dollar than for a silver spoon."

Church and Theatre

The next subject is the theatre. Many folks are saying much these days in favor of the theatre, and some people are even trying to link the church and theatre together. The purposes of the church and theatre are so far apart that there is no common ground on which they could meet. The purpose of the church is to minister to the soul. The purpose of the theatre is to make money, and managers do not hesitate to put on plays of a bad moral nature in order to make money. The sign of the church is the cross, of the theatre, the rattlebox.

"People are talking about clean plays and of the regulation of the stage. Edwin Booth, a great actor, tried to produce plays that would be perfectly clean and moral and lost $500,000 in the venture. The plays and moving pictures that attract the largest crowds are not often the clean and moral ones. A prominent stage critic has said that it was almost impossible for a person on the stage to live a life of purity. All actors and actresses are not good moral. There are some who are good and pure, but they have remained so not by the help of the stage but in spite of it. There is much talk of the so-called 'moral plays,' but it is certain that people do not go to the theatre to learn morals; they go to the church."

HORSE HAD TO BE SHOT

FELL ON PRESCOTT STREET FRACTURING LEG—HUMAN SOCIETY CALLED TO SCENE

A horse attached to one of the Barlow Market teams slipped on the car track at the junction of Prescott and Central streets shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and fell heavily to the pavement.

For a time the driver assisted by the usual first-aid spectators attempted to drag the horse to its feet. The animal was lifted from behind and hauled and pulled from in front but could not be gotten to its feet.

Finally it lay flatly down upon the pavement and the horse was pulled and pulled until it lay flat on its side. The horse might possibly be injured or it might have broken its leg. At any rate they finally allowed the animal to lie down again while the humane society's representative was sent for.

Then the amateur animal physicians in the crowd got busy. In spite of the fact that the injured horse groaned and tried to rise whenever it left, foreleg was touched these wise chaps among the crowd felt obliged to bend and twist the leg in order to give their personal diagnosis of the case.

The Horse Shot

Agent Richardson and his assistant, Frederick Gilmore, were soon on the scene, but Mr. Davis, the owner of the horse would not allow them to shoot the animal until his veterinary surgeon had examined him. Shortly after 11 o'clock Mr. Davis returned with his veterinary who found the animal had sustained a fracture of the left front leg. Accordingly Assistant Agent Gilmore despatched the horse with a bullet. Pratt & Whitman were notified and the horse was removed to the rendering works.

The shooting of the horse was witnessed by hundreds of spectators who had gathered at the junction of Central, Market and Prescott streets. Officers Connelley and Grady kept the crowd at a safe distance.

MINISTRY CRISIS IN BULGARIA—PREMIER OVERTHROWN

BY KING

PARIS, March 9.—A ministry crisis has occurred in Bulgaria, according to special despatches received here. Premier Radoslawoff is reported to have been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand and the followers of Dr. Ghenadiev, former minister because he desired to take immediate action against Turkey by occupying Adrianople.

Radoslawoff's opponents are said to have declared this policy, which would have placed Bulgaria in opposition to Germany and Austria, was too adventurous. The principal argument they reported to have used was that the resignation of Premier Velizelos at Athens left Greece more isolated than before and that Bulgaria remained neutral she put her hopes for advantages other than those she would find in Thrace.

Although this information has not been definitely confirmed it is generally believed in French official circles that Radoslawoff has resolved to march on Adrianople if Greece pronounced for the Triple Entente and that Velizelos made such an announcement at Athens when the question of intervention came up.

OBSTINATE FIGHTING MARKS BATTLE ALONG THE EAST.

ERN FRONT

LONDON, March 9.—Obstinate fighting marks the battles along the eastern front on the continent, with the German forces withdrawing from the river Niemen in the direction of their own East Prussian frontier. At the same time the new offensive movement against Warsaw and on the Pilica evidently has not as yet developed into the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature recently has been the allied air attack on Ostend, in the Champagne region, where the French have been assuming the offensive lately a snowstorm has given a forced rest to the troops. It is not unwelcome, for they have been almost constantly engaged.

REV. DR. BARTLETT EXPLAINS

Well Known Preacher Doesn't Care Who Holds the Jobs If the Law Is Enforced

Rev. Dr. Bartlett thinks the Sun's heading on his Sunday sermon might cause some people to surmise that he is meddling with politics or suggesting candidates for certain positions, which he is not. In his sermon he states he simply tried to show what had been accomplished by earnest efforts in Malden and New York. He doesn't care who has the jobs so long as law-breaking is stopped.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Lowell's war orders to date have been largely in woollens and shoes.

Several of the local mills are working full time in anticipation of foreign orders.

The Carpenters' union, local 45, will meet tonight in Carpenters' hall in the Runels building with President B. E. Golden in the chair.

Patrick Conner of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co., made a tour of investigation to Shedd park on Sunday.

Frank Flinnerty of the Saco-Lowell shops will spend in day with woods in Claremont, N. H., this coming summer.

Arthur Marshall of the A. G. Pollard Co., attended the "movies" last Saturday evening, which was his first Saturday night.

The Lowell Bleachery is still one of the busiest manufacturing plants in the city, and thousands of Turkish towels are turned out daily.

Frank O'Keefe of the Lowell felt Co., is having his twin cylinder motorcycle overhauled at a local workshop.

The next event to be conducted by the A. G. Pollard Mutual Benefit association will be the annual outing to be held in June.

A delightful party was held on Agawam street last Sunday evening by several young ladies employed in the local mills and factories.

Miss May Bradley of the J. F. Chaffin Co., has returned to her home in Lowell after a visit to New York.

James McEvoy of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co., has become quite interested in the workings of the Central Union of Advertisers.

The Westlake Girls, an organization of young ladies prominent in the social life of the city are planning many social events to be held after Lent.

A decided improvement in the business situation has been noted at the mill and factory prospects are looked for during the coming summer months.

Chester I. Campbell, who is at the head of the Boston auto show, has had considerable experience with mill affairs, and is well known by mill men all over the country.

John Tansey of the American Hide & Leather Co., has become a member of the prominent business social club, and his friends don't see him very often.

Joseph McDermott, the popular salesman at the A. G. Pollard Co., will organize a quartet among the customers of the store. Joe will sing first tenor.

Work on the new buildings to be erected by the U. S. Cartridge Co., in Lawrence street has been started and completion is looked for at an early date.

Plans are practically completed for the trolley ride and dancing party to be conducted by the members of the Leuten club after the Leuten season is over.

Thomas Conley of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co., has announced his intentions of spending next Sunday with friends in Nashua, N. H. The great little town on the Sabbath, Tom.

Bill Ryan, a prominent young member of the city has become quite an adept on the allex, and his work last night elicited admiration from all who witnessed his cleverness.

The Appleton mills of this city which have been running full time all the year will continue their busy schedule throughout the summer months and night operations may be carried on to some extent.

Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers left for Maynard today where he will speak before the textile workers at the mill before the textile workers at the mill.

Eugene Lewis, a fireman at the Silesia Worsted mills, North Chelmsford, was shot and seriously injured by a bullet fired from a machine gun during the early hours yesterday.

The employees of the Bon Marche Co. are planning for their annual dancing party which will be conducted soon after Lent, and the affair gives promise of being an unprecedented success.

Several local shoe firms would accept orders from foreign governments if they were assured of their money in payment for the orders, but no surety will be given, it seems, and all are holding off.

Who are the employees of the Massachusetts mills who are connected with the Massachusetts mills who positively refuse to contribute to the exchequer weekly for the purpose of purchasing the essential requirements? More soap, Jack?

On Thursday evening in Trades and Labor hall, an opening meeting of all unorganized workers connected with the textile industry will be held. The president of the Lawrence Dyes and Finishes' union will deliver the principal address of the evening.

Eddie Faher, the genial cashier of the Wakefield and Boston Street Railway Co., and a prominent resident of this city, has discovered a novel way of reducing superfluous weight, which he demonstrated before his friends at the Moody club last evening.

The open meeting held last Saturday afternoon for unorganized Greek Textile workers was very successful. Fifty new members were admitted into union membership. Organizer Thomas F. McMahon presided over the meeting and the operatives were addressed by prominent Greek business men.

Tomorrow night the ring spinners, fixers and carders connected with the textile industry in this city will hold an open meeting in Trades and Labor hall and present indications point to a large attendance. Prominent labor men will address the meeting and a theatrical program has also been arranged for. Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers who has strongly organized several branches of the industry since coming to this city will preside over the meeting.

Slasher Tenders' and Dressers' Union

The Slasher Tenders' and Dressers' union held its regular meeting in Trades and Labor hall last night, but only business of a routine nature was transacted. The meeting was addressed by Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers and two new members were admitted. The secretary's report showed the union to be progressing rapidly.

Labor Forward Committee

A meeting of the general committee which has charge of the labor forward movement which is being carried on in this city will be held in Trades and Labor hall on Wednesday night, and it is believed that final plans will be

NERVES AND MOODS

It is absurd and very uncomfortable treatment at least once a day. You for other persons, for one to indulge publicly in moods. Almost every woman has moments when she could scream or weep from sheer irritability and will power to control these moments should be exercised with extreme determination.

It is very necessary to learn how to rest properly. Do not think that change of occupation is rest for there is no greater delusion. To acquire perfect rest, settle yourself in a corner, arrange your feet and arms, and indeed your whole body, until you feel comfortable from head to foot.

Sit in this position for five minutes, motionless. Don't do anything but take long, slow, developing, easy breaths. Whether you close the eyes or leave them open makes no difference, but don't move. At the end of five minutes you will feel very much rested. If possible take these rest treatments two or three times a day. At any rate force yourself to observe the Hundreds of Jewelers throughout the country have written Mr. Wood as to how he conducts his bundle sale, and how he is able to attract such a crowd. His answer: Big value in each package, to advertise, and to clean up last year's stock quickly. To make a bundle sale a success you must give the public greater value than the small price asked for the bundles would indicate. This I have always done as my record in the past will prove.

Sale Starts Friday at 9 A. M.

CENTRALVILLE A CITY IN ITSELF

A BIG BOOM
IN BUILDINGNew Schools, Churches,
Factories and Street
ExtensionsPlayground for West
Centralville and New Bridge at Tilden St.

Centralville, that portion of Lowell across the Merrimack, has rather an interesting history of its own. If one were to go deeply into the matter, the district is one of the very largest and most important of any that go to make up Greater Lowell. Previously to 1851 Centralville, or the greater part of it, was a part of Dracut and in that year Lowell was increased by the annexation of a considerable portion of the territory of that town of Dracut. In later years other annexations were made, increasing the size and importance of the district across the Merrimack.

At the present time the matter of further extending the boundaries of Lowell by annexing even more of Dracut is being most favorably considered and, from the indications, this step will be taken in the near future. This means, it would seem, an even greater Centralville and added importance to the "Little City Across the Merrimack."

It is possible that within a short time Centralville will be the scene of real activity for it was stated this week that manufacturing concerns were looking for sites for tall buildings or suitable quarters in which to install machinery and start operations. The district is a most desirable one for business enterprises and residents are ready to offer inducements to new industries.

The entire district covers an area of 815 acres and has a population of about 25,000 made up of a thrifty and hard working element. It is figured about 40 per cent. of the residents of Centralville own their homes.

Centralville is divided into two sections, Centralville proper and West Centralville. The population of the first district is about 15,000, while that of the other is about 10,000. The district is well supplied with stores of all descriptions, and all that is really needed in the line of business now is a number of manufacturing concerns to offer greater opportunities of steady employment. Centralville is well adapted for a shoe concern and those interested in this particular line of work are in hopes that some day a good shoe shop will be started there.

Centralville proper was formerly a part of Dracut and the old Ferry Lane, which the farmers used as a driveway for leading their cattle to the river, is still pointed out near the Lakeview avenue primary school. The district has developed immensely for the past 25 years. Dwelling houses of all descriptions have been constructed, while schools and churches have been erected. There is considerable land to be developed and it is believed that during next spring and summer several cottages and tenement houses will be built. Centralville pays its share in taxes but it seems that the residents and taxpayers are not satisfied with what the city is doing for the district. There are two parochial schools in Centralville, St. Michael's and St.

Louis, and both are inadequate to satisfy the demands of the parishioners. The daily attendance at St. Michael's is about 600, this being composed of boys and girls, while that of St. Louis is 810, and it was stated today the pastors of both parishes, Rev. John J. Shaw and Rev. J. B. Labossiere are making arrangements to provide more room in order to take care of the many children who are forced to attend the public schools.

St. Michael's school was founded 25 years ago, and the Dominican Sisters were placed in charge. The old building, which is located in Sixth street next to the church, has outgrown itself twice and on two different occasions large additions were constructed. Even with its two additions the building is too small to accommodate the children of the parish and at the opening of the school last September a large number of boys and girls were turned away for lack of room.

Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor, has recently purchased a large tract of land in Seventh street and within a short time it is hoped work will be started on the construction of a new school building. This tract of land was formerly occupied by three buildings, one of which was moved across the street to the corner of Seventh and Read streets, where it now serves as an overflow school.

St. Louis' school, located in Boisvert street, was opened some eight years ago with the Sisters of the Assumption in charge. The school is for both boys and girls and at the opening of the fall term last year over 200 children were turned away, on account of lack of room. When the lamented pastor of the parish, Rev. J. N. Jacques, had the building erected, he thought at that time the school would be large enough for years but such was not the case, for children have been turned away for the past two or three years.

The present pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere, has made plans to build a new church and as soon as the building is finished and provision will be made to care for the many children who are forced to attend the public schools against the will of their parents. The plans for the new church are not yet completed, for the pastor will confer with Cardinal O'Connell in the near future, but it is his intention to erect the new structure on the land occupied by the present church and convert the present church into a parish hall. By so doing the present parish hall on the top floor of the school will be converted into class rooms, and in a few years it is probable a new school for boys will be erected on the tract of land adjoining the rectory.

Improvements

Among the many improvements wanted in Centralville is the extension of Boisvert street, where are located the school and church. It is proposed and a petition has been circulated among the residents of the district, asking the municipal council to extend the street from West Sixth street to Lakeview avenue. The petition already contains several hundred names and will be sent to the council at once.

One of the promoters of the movement in conversation with a Sun reporter said the extension of this street is an absolute necessity. It is believed, he said, because it will save many footsteps to children going to school and to adults as well as children going to church. People who come from the vicinity of West street are forced to go way around Ennell street in order to reach West Sixth street and that is very disagreeable. He said there are no houses to contend with and it would be a very cheap matter to push the street through to Lakeview avenue. The extension of the other end of Boisvert street as far as Bridge street is also advocated.

Other Improvements

"What is needed in this district for the betterment of the locality," queried the writer from a group of prominent residents of that part of the city. One of them quickly said the macadamizing of Hildreth street, while another advocated the building of a new bridge across the Merrimack river from Lakeview avenue to a point opposite Tilden street. Another said, "Give us a park and playground and electric cars across the Aiken street bridge." A few others said it would be a good thing if the board of health would do away with the foul smell coming from the dump. There was a number of other suggestions, such as the placing of curb stones on some of the streets, while some advocated the paving of Lakeview avenue from Bridge street to the Dracut line. Another said he believed it is about time the commissioner of streets and highways saw his way clear to macadamize Humphrey street, which is in a very dangerous condition. A prominent business man spoke of the proposed extension of First street and said he hopes this project will be carried out.

Park and Playground

The man who advocated a park and playground said: "It is strange why the city officials are so restrained in establishing a park and playground in Centralville. There are in this district thousands of children who have no other place to enjoy themselves but the streets, where their lives are in danger every moment of the day. There is a large number of families living in blocks and fresh air is almost unknown to them, for they have no place to get it. I say it is about time something were done to relieve the situation, and the most suitable place for a playground and park is that large tract of land extending from the Aiken street bridge to Beaver brook, which is a natural park, being adorned with numerous pretty trees. If a park were to be established there it is possible that the dump, which by the way is a very unhealthy proposition, would be done away with."

"Two years ago a petition was circulated in the district for the establishment of a park on that particular site and hundreds of signatures were placed on it. This was started by a committee from the Centralville Social club, which is our improvement society, and the matter was presented to the park commissioners, who, it is said, unanimously favored the project. The municipal council later, favoring the proposition and voted to purchase the land from the Locks & Canals Co., but when the new government took office, its first action was to rescind the vote of the council going out of office and Centralville is still without a park or playground."

The Maledoronic Dump

When the above tract of land was mentioned another resident of the district came to the front and expressed his views on conditions about "the Centralville Dump." He said it is one of the dirtiest spots in the city and he firmly believes no other section of Lowell would stand for it. "This time of the year," continued he, "we do not mind it, but during the hot days it is unbearable. It smokes from morning till night and from it emanates a sickening odor, which is very bad for the health. I believe the board ought to clear the district of this dirty spot. We have had it too long already."

"Speaking about the dump, it may be well to call to the attention of the board of health," said another party, "the fact that materials from the local hospitals are being burned there, and a change in such conditions of affairs should be made. Only a short time ago children who were playing on the dump or picking coal (a practice which cannot be stopped), found two human feet stuck down in the ground. The find at that time created considerable excitement in the district, for many believed a crime had been committed. It was not until Dr. J. V. Meigs, medical examiner, had examined the limbs that it was found they came from a local hospital. The throwing of hospital debris in a dump in a congested district is not very sanitary and it is the belief of many that such filthy material should be cremated."

New Bridge

The advocating of a new bridge across the Merrimack river opposite Tilden street is not a new project, for residents of Centralville have been talking this matter over for years. Of course the proposition would cost a considerable amount, but it would mean a lot to all who are living in Centralville, or who have business in the district. Most of the residents of that section of the city are employed in the Tremont & Suffolk and the Merrimack mills and a new bridge at the spot mentioned would cut the distance in half. Besides, it would mean a lot to all who reside in that part of the district. The question was taken up a few years ago but the project did not seem feasible at that time and it was dropped, but now it is believed the city could undergo the expense of a new bridge.

Humphrey Street

Humphrey street, which at one time was one of the best macadam roads of the city, is in a very bad condition and this, it is said, is due to the fact that the thoroughfare was never watered. When Commissioner Morse was superintendent of streets he macadamized the street, and to his credit let it be known that the job was a mighty good one. After the completion of the street a few residents objected to the watering of the street and they petitioned the municipal council to prevent the watering carts from visiting the said street. A hearing was held with the result that it was voted to have the street a "dry" one. The street was never watered and accordingly the surface quickly wore out and now the road is covered with bad holes, which are a menace to public safety.

Another Park

While the talk of a park and playground is going on in the western part of a district, the residents of Lakeview avenue and the side streets from the Central bridge to West street are speaking of approaching the municipal council for a playground in the local district. The old ball ground, extending along the Merrimack river is the spot mentioned and all are unanimous that the place would be ideal for such an improvement. It is true that land, which is owned by the Merrimack Mfg. Co. is opened and the boys and girls are not prevented from amusing themselves, but the place is a dangerous one and many feel the city should purchase it and erect a high fence on the banks of the river.

Lakeview Avenue

Lakeview avenue from Bridge street to the Dracut line is in a deplorable condition and many hope the commissioner of streets and highways will give this thoroughfare his attention this spring. The road is paved and it is certain the pavement has seen better days. The lower end of the avenue near Bridge street on rainy days is nothing but a mud hole, while the other section is badly broken up. Hildreth street is also badly in need of surfacing. The commissioner of streets is invited to inspect West Sixth street from the pumping station to Lilley avenue and he is also requested to go over this thoroughfare in his automobile and drive his car at a fair rate of speed. They do say, that if he is troubled with dyspepsia and follows the advice of the residents of the district, he is sure to find comfort after riding over the road, for the bumps and jolts he will receive will cure his illness. The street is really dangerous and should be looked after at once.

When the Hovey square line was constructed it was stated by officials of the company that if the new line proved successful within a year or two, the cars would be run across the bridge. Many who ride daily over this line claim it is as paying as any other of its kind in the city, and they believe it would be a better proposition for the company to have its cars cross the bridge. This would mean a lot for the mill people who have to walk home, rain or shine, whereas if the line were extended across the bridge many would take advantage and ride home.

As above stated Centralville is one of the most important districts of the city and ought to be looked after in a proper way. This applies not only to West Centralville, but to the other section as well. Many believe, Bridge street should be macadamized as far as the Dracut line, where starts one of the best roads in the country. The small park at the junction of Bridge and First streets should be taken care of, while the First street extension should be pushed through. There are numerous other improvements which would benefit the community, but they must wait until the more pressing receive attention.

Better Car Service

time the Bay State Street Railway Co. will again be petitioned to run its tracks across the Aiken street bridge. The residents of the district claim this is an urgent necessity and they fail to see why the company has not before this time extended its tracks across the bridge.

IMPORTANT IN BUSINESS SENSE

Trade in Many Cases Extends Throughout the City

From the standpoint of business activity as well as in size, Centralville is a most important section of Lowell. Bridge street is a veritable "main street" and on it are situated very many business firms dealing in a wide variety of lines. Lakeview avenue, Aiken street, Aiken avenue, Midway avenue and other streets in that vicinity in West Centralville also contain many business houses, and a great portion of them are meat, grocery and provisions stores.

A glance through the advertisements in this Centralville section will give one a good general idea of the number and variety of businesses located across the Merrimack. Centralville people find these many stores very convenient on their way home. As a result of the good business policy of the proprietors, they obtain and hold large numbers of satisfied customers. Many of the business places in Centralville are active in other sections of the city and some enjoy a large patronage from every part of Lowell.

J. W. Stewart Company

The J. W. Stewart Co., plumbing and heating contractors and sheet metal workers, is a prominent Centralville firm. Its business activities, however, have extended to every corner of the city and its patronage has by no means been limited to residents of the Centralville section. The headquarters of the J. W. Stewart Co. are located at 359 Bridge street and the place receives a distinctiveness from the very large display window through which one may view a tastefully arranged interior. The Minneapolis and Honeywell heat regulators are carried exclusively in Lowell by the Stewart company. These heat regulators are wonderful time and labor-saving inventions. Attached to the heating apparatus, they automatically keep the house at just the right temperature by a thermometer contrivance. By setting the regulator at night for any time, in a manner similar to the setting of an alarm clock, one can be assured of arising the following morning in a warm room. This regulator is a great saver of fuel. It has been installed in many Lowell homes by the Stewart Co. This firm is one of the most prominent in this line of business in Lowell as well as one of the dealing Centralville business houses.

286 BRIDGE ST.

One of Centralville's most enterprising business concerns is the meat and grocery establishment of John H. Burke at 28-32 Coburn street, opposite West Third street. Upon entering this store one is immediately impressed by the very large and varied stock which the business carries and at the same time the visitor realizes that this stock is very rapidly and frequently turned over, so wide is the patronage of Centralville people at Mr. Burke's provision store. Mr. Burke entered into business for himself some 37 years ago and is one of the oldest meat and grocery dealers in this city as well as in the Centralville section. Previous to the opening of his own store he was employed by J. P. Callahan. Mr. Burke is indeed a representative business man of Centralville even as his store is a representative business house. He still enjoys the patronage of some people who began to trade with him at the very beginning of his career in business, a fact which speaks well for his popularity as well as for quality and prices of the goods which he sells. Mr. Burke's store has ample facilities for prompt service for customers and particularly for prompt delivery of goods. In addition to being the proprietor of a business which has enjoyed marked success, Mr. Burke is also a member of several fraternal organizations, taking active part.

Bar Engraving Company

The Bar Engraving company, 53 Beach street, is a Centralville business house whose activities reach points everywhere throughout the city and also outside of Lowell. The proprietor is Mr. Harry Barr and samples of his expert work appear frequently in The Sun. Mr. Barr's work as an engraver has won wide commendation and he has, since going into business, enjoyed growing success. He is a strong believer in advertising and gives material demonstration of this. One of his specialties is helping customers in preparing their advertising copy, selecting appropriate trade marks, cuts, etc. His advertisement in this special Centralville section is worthy of special notice. Everyone knows that live illustrations are of great value in an advertisement and the business of the Bar Engraving Co. is to make live illustrations. In this field he enjoys an extensive wide patronage among the leading business men of the city and of points at considerable distance from Lowell in other cities. Mr. Barr is an energetic member of the board of "Booster." Even though he makes a specialty of promptness, nevertheless his work is always most satisfactory.

Mr. Barr may be reached by phone. Telephone 2244.

Thomas J. Fitzgerald

"Fitzgerald says 'Quality First.'" is characteristic of Mr. Thomas J. Fitzgerald's advertising as well as of his business policy. Mr. Fitzgerald is one of the leading cigar and tobacco dealers of this city and has a large branch store in Centralville located at 286 Bridge street. This is a genuinely successful Centralville business, being one of a very busy chain of stores which Mr. Fitzgerald has established in Lowell. The main store is located in Merrimack street, a short distance above city hall on the opposite side and he has another store in Middlesex street. His Centralville store is a very busy spot and enjoys a very large patronage. Mr. Fitzgerald conducts the local official Liggett and Myers premium station where cigar and tobacco tags and coupons may be exchanged for valuable articles of great variety. His Centralville store is a branch premium station. Valuable premiums are given by the Liggett and Myers company for these tobacco tags and coupons as stated in Mr. Fitzgerald's two advertisements on this section. In all of his stores, Mr. Fitzgerald makes a specialty of fine pipes, as well as dealing in all the leading brands of cigars, cigarette and tobacco. He is very well known in this city. In his Centralville store he has two Centralville boys as clerks.

First Street Garage

Another prominent and highly successful Centralville business is the First Street Garage, the proprietor of which is Mr. Philip Bibault. Mr. Bibault holds the local agency of the Vim delivery cars, a commercial motor vehicle that has won quite an enviable reputation throughout the country. The Vim is a car of 1000 pounds capacity, and in his advertisement in this Centralville section of The Sun, Mr. Bibault mentions the various models and their prices. During the past year or three weeks, Mr. Bibault has been kept constantly busy demonstrating this car to prospective buyers, and his activity in this line has resulted in very many sales. The Vim is a very neat appearing commercial car, and is capable of doing a whole lot of work in a manner that is highly satisfactory. It has been highly recommended by many users, and Mr. Bibault cheerfully refers the man who is looking for a good truck to any user of a Vim. The prices range from $520 to $725, according to the model selected. Mr. Bibault also deals in various motor supplies and equipment and makes a specialty of repairing. He anticipates a very busy spring season.

F. R. Strout & Son

The grocery and provision store of F. R. Strout & Son is a real pioneer in that line in Centralville, for it is not only one of the oldest in that section, but even in the entire city. This store was established in 1812. Mr. Strout assumed proprietorship in 1875, and since that time has flourished with growing success. The proprietors are at present Mr. Frank R. Strout and his son, A. B. Strout, who has recently entered into a partnership in the business. For years this store was known as the "Old Centralville Grocery." The store is very well equipped in every way and employs a large force of clerks and delivery men. The firm enjoys a very large patronage not alone in Centralville, though very many Centralville residents are numbered among the customers, but in other sections of the city. Frank R. Strout & Son's store is situated at 329 Bridge street and the telephone number is 2759. At all times it is a very busy spot. The proprietors strictly adhere to their long established policy of giving the very highest quality goods at the lowest possible prices, and as a result of this their patrons have always been satisfied and the trade has constantly increased. Prompt delivery of telephone orders is a pleasing feature of the activity of this provision establishment.

Kingsbury's Market

Another long established and thoroughly successful Centralville provision store is Kingsbury's market, located at 373 Bridge street. This market was established more than 30 years ago by John M. Kingsbury and is now conducted with equal success by Mr. Fred S. Kingsbury. This store won the confidence of a great host of customers by 30 years of unbroken prompt, courteous and in every respect highly satisfactory service. The goods which are sold are of the best quality obtainable and the prices asked are moderate. These facts denote that the store is a most economical place at which to make provision purchases. The Kingsbury market enjoys today the patronage of people who began trading there years ago when the business was first started. Mr. Kingsbury has ample resources for prompt delivery and up-to-date service in every particular. His stock embraces all kinds of groceries, meats and provisions and he has a number of competent clerks in his employ. The Kingsbury market is truly a representative Centralville business, though its trade extends to other sections of the city, and it is one of the class of firms which has endured because of its staunch policy of carrying only the best goods and giving the best service.

Edward M. Bowers

Mr. Edward M. Bowers is the proprietor of a flourishing grocery and provision store in Centralville, known as the Water Works Grocery, situated at the corner of West Sixth and Jewett streets. Mr. Bowers is another pioneer in this business, having conducted two stores in different sections of the city, and his present store has been under his control for the past 11 years, previous to his assuming pro-rietorship having been owned by the late Charles D. Washburn. Mr. Bowers carries full lines of choice provisions of every kind and has gained and retained a large host of friends and regular patrons. Mr. Bowers has for very many years been a leader and energetic worker in the cause of total abstinence, attaining prominence in the Lowell Reform club, and sparing no pains nor effort to aid in the success of this temperance movement. In this field Mr. Bowers gained distinction throughout the city. Mr. Bowers is also a member of several fraternal organizations and has for eight years acted as treasurer of the Lowell Retail Grocers and Butchers' association. In every respect, Mr. Bowers is well known as a "Booster" and a hard worker whose efforts have been crowned with success.

F. G. Baldwin

Mr. F. G. Baldwin is the progressive proprietor of the large store at 146-148 Bridge street where may be found large stocks of wall paper, paints, oils, varnishes, glass and hardware of every description. Mr. Baldwin's store is not only one of the very largest business houses in Centralville, but is among the leaders in this business in the entire city. He has been in business at his present location for the past nine years with marked success.

Keith's Market

Keith's market has been located at 350 Bridge street for the past 16 years. Previous to that time, Mr. Archibald J. Keith conducted a market in Lakeview avenue. All told, Mr. Keith has been in the provision business for the past 20 years, always with growing success. The people of Centralville, many of whom are regular customers of Keith's market, are thoroughly familiar with the fine quality of the goods sold there and with the prompt courteous service which is always accorded them. Telephone orders are a specialty at this market and are always given prompt attention. Mr. Keith always has on hand a large stock of all provisions and his prices spell economy for customers.

Henry P. Clough

Fruits, confectionery, cigars and tobacco are the specialty lines handled by Mr. Henry P. Clough in his store at 485 Bridge street, corner of Fifth street, one of Centralville's busiest and most popular places of business. In addition to these lines, Mr. Clough is agent for Cameron's ice cream and will supply this to church parties, picnics, etc., at special rates. Magazines, daily papers, and stationery are found at this store in large and varied quantities, and Mr. Clough is agent for the laundry of Mr. George H. Russell. Success has characterized the conduct of this business from its beginning because of the fine business policy which the store follows.

Webster's Drug Store

One of Centralville's leading drug stores is the Ray F. Webster, located at 415 Bridge street, and specializing in drugs of every description, specializing in putting up prescriptions. Webster's pills are a product of this live store and many users of this medicine have been strong in their praise of its fine qualities. The pills have a wide sale in this city and elsewhere and are taken for constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, indigestion and other ills. Webster's drug store is a genuinely successful business firm.

Desmarais and Bourret

E. S. Desmarais and C. E. Bourret are the members of the firm of Desmarais and Bourret, plumbing and heating contractors, whose place of business is located at 720 Aiken street. This company is the local agent for Richmond boilers, a heating apparatus much in demand. The members of the firm are well known throughout the city as well as in Centralville and they have extended their business activity to many places in other sections of Lowell. Their business patronage is large, and they form a representative and successful Centralville business.

George L. Hubbard Real Estate

Mr. George L. Hubbard is a prominent real estate man of Lowell with an office at 73 First street. His present location places him within the bounds of Centralville though in business, his activity extends throughout the city and elsewhere. He has property of all kinds for sale and is well known throughout Lowell. He may be reached by phone at 2152.

D. D. Smith Fish Market

Fresh, salt and pickled fish, oysters, clams, lobsters, etc., will be found in fine quality and in abundance at the fish market of D. D. Smith, situated at 311 Bridge street. Mr. Smith makes a specialty of providing fish to hotels, restaurants and boarding houses at a reduced rate, a fact which has greatly increased his already large patronage. The Smith market is well known to everyone in Centralville.

Vina Prentiss, Millinery

The millinery and ladies' specialty establishment of Vina Prentiss, situated at 405 Bridge street, is a store that is largely patronized by the Centralville ladies. This store will have its annual spring opening showing of newest styles in the near future and invites the public to visit the place and inspect the large stock of millinery and notions. The store is widely known throughout the city as well as in Centralville.

G. H. Miller, Candy Mfr.

Among the prominent and successful business men of Centralville is Mr. George H. Miller, manufacturing confectioner and caterer. Home-made candies are Mr. Miller's specialty and he makes new ones fresh every day. His store is located at 350 Bridge street. He specializes on large orders at reduced rates.

Noonan the Druggist

S. W. Wiggins, Coal, Etc.

S. W. Wiggins's office is situated at 25 First street. Mr. Wiggins has been doing a large business in coal, coke and wood in this city for many years and is one of the most largely patronized dealers. He has always a large stock of dry kindling on hand for immediate delivery.

Donnelly's Market

Another Centralville market that enjoys the patronage of a large number of satisfied customers is that of Emma F. Donnelly. This store is located at 665 Bridge street and carries a line of all high quality provisions at moderate prices.

George Dion's Market

A prominent business of West Centralville is the market and grocery store of George Dion, at 795-J Lakeview avenue. Mr. Dion is a pioneer in this business in Lowell, having been established for more than 20 years. His quality, goods and low prices attract many people.

Thomas J. Fitzgerald, Premiums

The Hearst-Selig News Pictorial view past is far better than could be expected, and the production, has that distinctive air of being of the better kind. When one considers the ridiculous prices charged for seeing this big production, it becomes a real mystery as to how the management can secure such attractions, and show them at the regular prices. But they consider it good advertising and any way, they stick to their policy of showing the best and first-show in Lowell. The five others that complete the show today are really very good, and are worthy of special mention. Tomorrow the eleven episode of "The Exploits of Elaine" will be shown, besides a seven-reel regular performance. Be sure to allow this great serial, for it contains some very clever plots.

Bridford—J. G. C. Smith, D.	440
Brewster—F. H. Nickerson, R.	440

This city, after having been under control of the democrats five years, was carried by the republicans, Elaine S. Viles having a majority of 193 over Niles J. Perkins. The total vote, 2918, was one of the largest ever polled in the city. The city government will be composed of 14 republicans and 10 democrats.

In Bangor, Frank Robinson, dem., was elected mayor, the vote being: Robinson, 2065; Utterback, ind., 1665; Kirslein, rep., 1338. Utterback was elected last year by a plurality of 825 over the republican candidate in a three sided contest. The republicans continue to control the city council, 13 to 12, on joint ballot.

In Biddeford for the first time in more than 12 years and the second in more than 20 years the voters had only one political ticket from which to select municipal officers—the democratic. James G. C. Smith was elected mayor for the third time, with a democratic city government.

A similar condition (except as to year) prevailed in Brewer, where Mayor F. H. Nickerson and a full republican board of aldermen were unopposed.

In Belfast, owing to troubles over a postoffice appointment, the democrats made no nominations, and the republicans gained control over the city government for the first time in nine years. Charles R. Coombs was chosen mayor by 250 ballots.

A working girl can clothe herself from head to foot for one year for $24.80, according to an estimate made by Joseph Elsenrath, vice president of the Chicago Garment Manufacturers' association.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"East Lynne," one of the favorite dramas of the present day, was presented at the Merrimack Square theatre last evening. There was a fair-sized audience and the wholesomeness of the play, together with the good work of the members of the company, was given merited recognition. The cast of characters was as follows:

Lady Isabella.....Laura Hudson
Madame Vane.....Laura Hudson
Barbara Hare.....Sadie Galloway
Miss Cornelia Carlyle.....Mr. Carlyle's half-sister
Joyce, maid to Lady Isabella.....Dorothy Ardle
Willie Carlyle, Lady Isabella's son.....Geoff Mason
Archibald Carlyle.....Herbert DeGore
Sir Francis Levison.....Sam A. McHenry
Lord Mount Severn.....Lady Isabella's guardian
Wm. H. Dimock
Richard Hare.....Stewart E. Wilson
Mr. Dill, clerk to Mr. Carlyle.....Joseph Thayer
Nelson, Mr. Carlyle's butler.....Frank McDonald

The play has been revised since seen in this city before, but it still relates an interesting story and is one of the best dramas presented here for some time. The story is set around a young woman of high social standing, whose jealous disposition causes her to suspect her husband of being attentive to a school chum. She is urged to leave her family by "Sir Francis Levison," and she departs, but later learns that she was deceived. Her love for her children causes her to return home in a short time, but she plays the part of a maid. Finally, happiness is brought to the home and the curtain goes down on a pleasant scene.

Miss Laura Hudson, the new leading lady of the company, takes the part of "Lady Isabella" and her interpretation is excellent. Samuel A. McHenry is unusually good in the part of "Sir Francis Levison," while the other members of the cast, including Miss Sadie Galloway, Marion Chester and Miss Dorothy Ardle are very good.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

"The Love Route," the big, multiple reel feature at the Academy of Music today and tomorrow, is one of the strongest and most thrilling western railroad dramas ever produced on the screen, and it features Harold Lockwood, a feature film actor of fame. A story of big men in a big country doing big things is embodied in this drama, which is of the thoughtful, human interest and true-to-life kind. In addition to the main feature, several other reels of the finest motion pictures, always characteristic of the Academy, will also be shown. Then again, there is the "big night" at this popular theatre, for there will, in addition to the complete regular program, be a fun providing amateur contest with no increase in the price of admission. "Amateur Night" has always been a big favorite at this house and those desiring to attend should be early in order to secure a seat.

GREECE TURNS TO U. S.

BUYING FROM THIS COUNTRY FROM 25,000 TO 40,000 TONS OF WHEAT A MONTH

WASHINGTON, March 9.—With the Russian wheat supply cut off by the closing of the Dardanelles to merchant ships, Greece has now turned to the United States and is buying from this country from 25,000 to 40,000 tons of wheat a month, according to American Consul General Weddell at Athens.

Consul Weddell reports that all negotiations for the purchase of American wheat are made at Athens and advises sellers wishing to enter the market to appoint a local agent to represent them.

E. F. SLATTERY, Jr.
201 SUN BUILDING

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Like a good many others who patronize the man who advertises, I've been reading some of Billy Sunday's sermons that are being published daily in the newspapers, and in one of them recently, Billy told an extremely interesting story of his conversion, while a member of the Chicago team. He named the different players who were on the team with him at that time, including John Clarkson and Mike Kelly, the two most famous ball players of their time, and Boston's renowned "Big Boy" Babe Ruth.

Sunday told how those who were not "converted" ended their days and relative to John Clarkson, he stated that Clarkson died in an asylum, a victim of the cigar habit and that he had seen him smoke 100 cigars in a day.

With due respect to Sunday, his sincerity, and his impassioned appeals to the emotions of his sinful audiences, I would state that John Clarkson, died five years ago of pneumonia and was not a cigar fiend, and my authority is Walter Clarkson, a brother of John, and proprietor of the Walk-Over Shoe Store in Central street. As Sunday left his diamond about a quarter of a century ago, he probably has mixed up Clarkson with some other player of days gone by. But it made an impressive sermon, anyway.

Quarter of a century ago the Boston Nationals had three famous pitchers, John Clarkson, "Kid" Madden, who at that time was the youngest pitcher in the big league, and Dick Conway, of this city. John Clarkson was the greatest pitcher of his time and as Billy Sunday said of him, in his sermon: "He could throw overhand and the ball would go up, down or any way he wanted it to go. He was the only man on earth I ever saw do that." And there hasn't been a pitcher since then who could present this peculiar delivery. But John wasn't the only famous ball player that the Clarkson family produced, for his brother Walter, several years his junior, has a lasting place in the hall of fame of college baseball for his performance as Harvard's crack pitcher for four seasons, while he afterward made his mark in the big league even as he is doing today in the shoe business.

Walter Clarkson is one of the few baseball players who was wise enough to quit the game at the right time, and hence today is a successful businessman instead of a good old has-been with little or no prospects for the future. He began his career as the pitcher of the Cambridge high school team in 1899. Upon graduating, he entered Harvard and was hailed by the student body as the man who would make Yale go home. He played with the freshman team during his first years and upon becoming a junior was given a place with the Varsity outfit. He pitched for the Varsity team for four years, two of which, 1903-04 he was captain of the team. At dear old Harvard it is the annual ambition of the boys to defeat their hated rivals of Yale. It was so in Clarkson's day. The team might lose to all of the minor colleges, if it could only beat out Yale all other defeats were forgiven. In the four years that Walter Clarkson was on the mound for Harvard, the crimson wallowed the blue with unflinching regularity.

In 1904 Clark Griffith took Walter in tow and for three years he held up his end with the Highlanders, except for a part of one season when New York was overburdened with pitchers, and he was loaned to Jersey City. From New York, Mr. Clarkson went to Cleveland where he played for a year and a half until one day in June, 1908, while playing at Chicago, he made up his mind in two hours time, to quit the game permanently and he did so, returning to Cleveland where he entered the shoe business with the Walk-Over Store. When asked by the writer why he quit the game while at the height of his popularity and baseball ability, Mr. Clarkson replied: "I had been thinking the matter over carefully and came to the conclusion that a young man in baseball spent the best 10 years of his life in the game and if at the end of that time he hadn't come through with a lot of money he was going to find life a rocky road to travel. I figured that in the case of two young men starting out together after leaving school, one to play baseball and the other to learn some good business, at the end of the decade, the average life of a professional ball player on the diamond, the business man had the income of his 10 years in business together with his business experience, while the ball player had nothing but what he had saved while playing the game, and at an age when it was rather late to start to get into business life. Unless a ball player becomes a star and draws down a large salary he should never continue in the game to the limit of his capacity as a player, for once out of the game his place in the public mind is speedily taken by rising stars and he is soon forgotten and the future holds out little of promise to him. I know of many fine ball players who, after having been in the game for 10 years, can't show $500. The history of some of the great men of the baseball diamond has been pathetic. A young ball player of ability should go into the game with a purpose. After playing three or four years unless he has become a shining star in the baseball firmament he should quit the game and seek other fields of endeavor while he is yet in the flower of youth. A mediocre ball player is a joke. I have often wondered that the great sporting writers have not imparted advice of this nature to the young generation of ball players.

A Freak Foul-Tip
Asked to relate some of his experiences on the diamond, Mr. Clarkson replied: "I read considerable about freak plays on the diamond but I participated in one, which beats anything that I have ever heard described. I was pitching one day for Jersey City, with Pete Cassidy behind the bat. There was a man at second, and the man at the bat whose name has slipped my memory was a slugger. I sent him up a fast one, right over the plate and he made a healthy swing at it. The ball met the bat with a resounding crack that was heard all over the field. But the ball? I looked for it but couldn't see it. The fielders were securing the heavens but it wasn't in sight. While Cassidy was "bending the crab" in an effort to locate it, Cassidy dashed back to the backstop, but it wasn't there. The players looked under the benches, but there was no ball in sight. It surely had disappeared. The runner on second came around to home and scored while the batter was going around the bases at top speed. Cassidy came running back from the backstop in a state of bewilderment and as he approached the plate a fan who was standing nearby cried out: "see it!" and running out he grabbed Cassidy and there was the ball stuck tight under the bottom part of his mask, the part that protrudes to protect the catcher's chin. The ball had struck the catcher's chin, rebounded into the small open space between the lower part of the mask and Cassidy's neck had stuck there. The ball was removed and when the umpire saw the situation he cried out lustily: "Foul ball!" and the runner had to go back to second. For a minute that ball was as completely out of sight as if the earth had swallowed it up."

Lajoie Made Good
"We were playing Cleveland in New York one day," continued Mr. Clarkson, "and after they had scored several runs on us, I went in to finish the game. I had never pitched to Lajoie before and like all other pitchers had the utmost respect for his prowess with the willow. Jim Maguire was catching and he signalled for a high one closing to Larry's head. I sent up a fast inshoot that just escaped his nose, Larry ducking quickly as you have seen a boxer duck a blow. Then I sent one even nearer to his head also ducked, though he narrowly escaped it. Before I could deliver the next one, Lajoie cried out to me: 'Now it's your turn to duck, young fellow.' I put one over and in an instant I ducked instinctively for I felt a whiff that made my hair curl and I sent a sizzling liner just an inch over my head into centre field for a single, and if it had ever hit me I'd played no more baseball. I was so scared occasionally that a batter can't place the ball, but Larry Lajoie could, and on that occasion he did. Every pitcher was afraid of Lajoie for he would walk them out from all deliveries, while they were willing to take a chance with Ty Cobb because Cobb would hit one to the infield and beat the outfielders as he would crash the ball out. A pitcher would take a chance on getting Cobb's bunts or infield hits, but in the case of Lajoie the only thing to do was to motion the outfielders to get back to the fence and take a chance on them catching what he sent out to them. It was nothing to try to fan him out. There was nothing that he couldn't hit."

Long Tom Got Square
While pitchers aren't batters as a general rule, I once won a game by a phony three-bagger off Tom Hughes, star in the baseball firmament, but he didn't forget until he had squashed me by getting a home run off me some time later. We were playing Washington in a tight game, with only a few hits and some beautiful fielding plays and no runs. Tom and I were both pitching effectively and it was certainly a tight battle. In the seventh inning, with a man on first, I went to the bat. Tom was pitching great ball, but I swung on a fast one and in doing so I didn't get my bat squarely around so that I met it a glancing blow and the ball, going directly over the first baseman's head, curved in and striking the foul line just beyond first base, rolled down to the bleachers' way out of reach of the right fielder. By the time they got the ball back I was on third, and of course the man on first had scored. Hughes yelled over to me: 'Tom son of a gun, you never made a hit like that before in your life,' and he was right for as it afterwards appeared that run won the game. Toward the close of the season we were playing them again and once more Hughes and I were on the mound against each other. Toward the close of the game, Tom came to the bat, with the score tied ones, I sent him a fast one. He went very low, almost to the ground. Tom always wielded an unusually long bat and as the ball came toward him he swung on it, not in baseball fashion, but after the style of a batter in a cricket game. He met the ball squarely, lifting it high into the air and away it sailed over the field fence for a home run. As Tom touched first he stopped and yelled at me: 'Look at it go.' When he reached second he gave me another salute; at third he did likewise, and when he reached home he yelled and exclaimed: 'Do you remember the time you put the phony three-bagger over on me? Now I'm square with you.'"

A Grand Old Man
Says The Sun of quarter of a century ago: "Rev. J. M. Greene of the Elliot church observed his 60th birthday on Wednesday (March 12) by holding a reception in the church vestry. A basket of 60 pinks was presented the venerable minister. The vestry was profusely decorated. Refreshments were served."

Thus, on Friday of this week, Rev. Dr. Greene will be 65 years of age, and undoubtedly will receive many happy returns from his host of friends and friends. Dr. Greene now resides in Pineknay street in Boston, and is in excellent health and spirits. His advanced age no longer permits him to take the pulpit or to appear on public occasions, but he takes a walk daily and is free from the painful lumbago that sometimes beset him in old age. Dr. Greene is well-beloved in Lowell by people of all denominations. He is a clergyman of the old school, a forceful preacher but not a sensationalist, kindly, amiable and charitable, a gentleman and a scholar. While in Lowell he took a deep interest in the welfare of the city. He was one of the founders of the Lowell High School, was always the guest of honor at its annual exercises. Dr. Greene was installed as pastor of the Elliot church July 20, 1870, and is still its pastor-emeritus. He was graduated from Amherst college in 1854 and later from the Bangor Theological seminary. He was ordained to the ministry Oct. 20, 1857. Before coming to Lowell he was pastor of churches at Hatfield, Mass., and South Hadley, Mass. His Lowell

RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN FROM SORE, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Pain Away With a Small Trial Bottle of Old "St. Jacob's Oil."

What's Rheumatism? Pain only. Stop drugging! Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism and a relief from rheumatism, which never disappoints and can not burn the skin. Lather up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. Old "St. Jacob's Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

It is nearly time now to lay aside heavy furs but one still needs some protection from the cool March winds and a muff and neck piece made from silk, lace, or tulle, are both easy to make and appropriate. As you have seen a woman with gloves well drawn back hair. It freshened her winter costume and gave an air of the coming spring to it. You can make a watermelon muff by sewing together four strips of black and four strips of sand colored satin, cut in the shape of pointed ovals, each twenty-two inches long and six inches across in the center. Interline with the frills of lace. The neck piece is made of rectangular strips of the two materials finished at the top and bottom with frills of lace to match the muff and fastened at the side with a rosette of lace and hooks and eyes. Tulle may be used in place of satin and finished with a huge bow of velvet ribbon both on the muff and neck piece.

Every housewife knows how hard it is to keep dollies from being mussed if they are just laid in a box after the children. A set of cases to keep them in will save a lot of trouble and will be well worth the little they cost. Choose a design in the soft blues and a plain blue for the lining. The blue will tend to keep the dollies white and will not soil easily. Cut circles of cardboard two inches larger than the size of the dollies for which the case is intended. Cut four circles of cardboard for each cover two for the outside and two for the lining. Cut the goods half an inch larger than the cardboard, turn it over the edges of the cardboard and fasten with long stitches taken from side to side. Then overhand the outside one with the lining in small stitches. A ribbon sewed with elastic with a buckle sewed to the edges is convenient for in this way it can be slipped back and forth for compressing or expanding the case and the dollies are used. Or they can be tied with ribbon, two pieces fastened and crossed in the center of one circle and tied over the other.

Anything that gives a barbaric touch is in great demand today and so of course beads used in anyway are greatly sought after. Narrow silk cords, finished at the ends with tassels are used to string large beads on. The beads are held in place by the service of the cord above and below them, or they are held by small beads strung at regular intervals with larger ones. Yellow beads on a black cord or friends wish him continued health and happiness.

Chief Saunders Promoted
While after 25 years of service many public officials begin to look over the pension laws to see how they fit their cases, others are just going ahead with the prospect of continuing in active service for years to come. Such is the case of Chief Edward E. Saunders, of the fire department, for the Sun of 25 years ago had the following: "Edward E. Saunders of the fire department has been appointed and confirmed as a lieutenant." In 1888, Chief Saunders joined the fire department as a substitute callman and after two years' watchful working received an appointment as a regular callman at the time the Hose 8 in Merrimack street was established, with the rank of lieutenant. In 1911 he was appointed an assistant engineer, for in those days there were four assistant engineers, two of whom were callmen. The following year he and District Chief Sullivan were appointed district chiefs, and in 1913 he was made chief. Until his appointment as district chief, Mr. Saunders was only a callman and while engaged in business with the Bradt-Biscuit company he had a fine record for responding to alarms. He was on both the year and the day he devoted all of his time to the fire department and is still among the "young fellows."

"Billy" O'Brien, the popular police officer, just missed celebrating his silver jubilee on St. Patrick's day by one day, for 25 years ago, March 18, he and Frank H. Whitney were confirmed by the board of aldermen as regular police officers. But for the silver in his sleeves, indicating his years of service, none would ever know that "Billy" had reached the "old timer" class, for he is as young and as active as a "super." Officer Whitney was recently retired as the result of a permanent illness that rendered him unfit for continuous work. Both men have fine records as members of the department and the board of aldermen of quarter of a century ago made no mistake in making them regular men.

A Tip on the Weather
While the clock that predicts the weather in Merrimack square had out signs to the effect that for Saturday or Sunday we'd have rain or snow, and that yesterday would be cloudy, none should write to Washington to have the government weather prophet removed from office, for he was dealing with the month of March, and March weather cannot be predicted but simply guessed at. While the weather man has handed out bad dope for the last few days, one should be prepared for bad weather before the month is over. Twenty-five years ago, according to The Sun, Lowell was visited by a heavy fall of snow on March 12. Stablemen and storekeepers got down their sleighs in anticipation of several days of sleighing. March 20 was fair and warm and by night there was no snow in sight. Weather history may repeat itself at any time.

THE OLD TIMER.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

Pieces of laces and soft bits of silk seem to fashion themselves without much help, into fascinating little things for the wee baby, but now nearly everyone is knitting or crocheting and it is quite a thing to have a bit of wool in one's hands, some of my friends have been crocheting the daintiest floor rugs for their babies. One of these rugs was being crocheted out of four-fold Germantown wool in afghan-stitch and in shades of brown and tan. The center was of brown with a border of tan, worked with cross-stitch figure of animals done with most careful cotton in black. Any cross-stitched pattern may be used, for the design is worked directly over the afghan-stitch, using one stitch for each cross-stitch of the pattern. Another was being crocheted in strips of two shades of red, sewed together after the strips are crocheted. This method of course would be more easy to handle while doing the work and is quite as effective. When the rug is finished line them with outing flannel or elder-down in a contrasting shade.

A novel sachet for a pot-pourri jar is made of flowered net with an interlining of stiff muslin and mounted on covered cardboard. The top of the net is hemmed, finished with lace and when filled with its pot-pourri of rose leaves is tied with loops and loops of pale pink ribbon. Charming little round sachets are made from chiffon or net filled with dried flowers, and then quilted through the center and finished with a velvet flower. Another round sachet is entirely lingerie for it is to be worn pinned under the flimsy blouse or undergarment. Direct make a circular flat pad of soft silk, lined with velvet and leaves of soft-lavender, and over this fit an embroidered linen case edged all the way round with lace. This can be slipped out of the inner case and laundered as often as it is necessary. Pink ribbon made into a single rose, each petal filled with rose leaves and the stem wound with green ribbon and all held in a crystal vase, makes a delightful sachet to perfume ones rooms and sachet as well, a pleasing touch of color.

A very pretty suggestion for a bride who is receiving all sorts of gifts for her "hopeshest" is a set of Turkish washcloths or towels and cloths, with monogram or initials worked in French knots in one corner. If the sets are white work the initials or monograms in colors. The French knots are well suited to Turkish towels because when worked in, they look as though they were woven into the towel. They should be worked rather heavily and in one corner. The Turkish towels are marked in the same manner only the initials are worked in the center and about three inches from the bottom.

heads combining green, gold and blue tones on a dull blue cord are wonderfully effective as are amber and jet beads in a yellow cord. Wonderful combinations can be made and as they are not at all expensive and if done at home one can possess a number of them. Some of them are finished with a silk tassel while others are made from small beads in tassel form ending at the top with a large bead.

Quite new are the long braided chains made of flat silk cord, using two contrasting colors to each strand and braiding as flat as possible. Finish each end with a tassel made by bringing the braid and fastening with a large bead.

LOWELL DRIVING CLUB
INTERESTING MEETING DISCUSSED PLANS FOR COUNTY FAIR IN LOWELL

An interesting meeting of the members of the Lowell Driving Club was held last night in their new quarters near Thackeray street, with President I. E. Wotton in the chair, and the chief topic of discussion was the revival of the old-time county fair. Many important suggestions were given in reference to this undertaking, and at the close of the meeting all the members agreed to do all possible, individually and collectively, to promote the project.

Present at the meeting was Allan Lowe, former horse editor of the Boston Globe and lessee of the Lowell Opera House, who spoke interestingly on this matter. Mr. Lowe said there is no reason why the Lowell fair cannot be made as much a success as the Brockton fair has been. He said it means persistent efforts and the outlay of considerable money, but the return will justify everything that is done. He closed by telling the members of the organization to secure the best in every direction, for, he said, the public may be fooled once, but it will not be fooled twice.

At the close of Mr. Lowe's remarks a motion was made to admit him as an honorary member of the club, but before the motion was put Mr. Lowe objected, saying his intention was to become a financial member of the organization. George L. Hunsdon also spoke on the

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-pauper burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage MUSTEROLE in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

And there is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pain and Aches of Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Stomachic, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia). AUTOMOBILE NEWS

THE BOSTON AUTO SHOW

LOWELL DEALERS PLEASANT WITH THE EXHIBITS AND THE BUSINESS RESULTS

Mechanics building, the place chosen for the 1915 annual automobile show, was crowded yesterday by the thousands who gathered there to see the greatest of all automobile exhibits ever shown in New England. From the very start of the show Saturday afternoon and during Monday and today there was an incessant influx of visitors to this motor car display, and in this mighty crowd there was a goodly number of visitors from Lowell. It is safe to predict that Lowell will see very little of the local dealers before the end of the week. It has been a tedious thing that has attended the show; no one seemed to be in haste to leave, so many and so great are the objects of interest to attract the eyes and minds of the visitors.

Among the Lowell dealers the universal plan seems to be to have a Lowell representative ever present in the space at the car for which he is agent. In this way any visitor from here will have a chance to talk to men of whom they have at least heard if they do not know them personally.

"Society" will be tomorrow, and as doubtless is universally the custom, on this day there will be a multitude of reasons why there shall be a record breaking attendance at the show.

Sawyer Carriage Co.

"Sawyer," a Swedish spring steel of very recent manufacture, is used by the Sawyer Carriage Co. in all its spring work. This steel has been carefully tested by experts of the United States government, who have pronounced it very favorably upon it, and they show proofs that it is 15 per cent more efficient than any other steel.

On the floor of the Sawyer Carriage Co., Worthen street, four machines are dismantled and are being thoroughly overhauled by the experts at work there. This is about the season when there is a waiting list in the painting department of the Sawyer Carriage company. Paul Chandler, manager of this shop, states that although he has his complete force hard at work, he predicts that the waiting list will soon start.

Boston Auto Supply Co.

Joe McGarry, the well known manager of the Boston Auto Supply company, 1110 North street, spoke very enthusiastically of the Boston Auto show which he attended yesterday. Joe said that the decorations alone were so beautiful that no one should fail to miss the show, not even those who might not be greatly interested in automobiles; that one's love for the beautiful should be sufficient incentive to bring one from far and near to this beautiful scene. Speaking of the cars displayed, Joe said that it far surpassed any of the previous years. At the Boston Auto Supply Goodrich tires are a big seller. During the past few days, Joe has sold quite a number of these popular make of tires which he so cheerfully recommends. Joe said his shop is headquarters for Goodrich tires.

One of the attractive features of the show is the display offered by the Packard manufacturers in the form of an armored car completely equipped with guns, turret and all the martial equipment such as is in use at the present time in the European war. One Cadillac light has its customary place of prominence at the show. Elevated on the stage in the main hall, it has attracted much attention and has elicited a great deal of comment and admiration.

SAVING SECONDS IN AUTO MAKING

Splitting seconds on the time required for automobile production in a development of scientific manufacturing which, in some of the big Detroit plants has been brought to so systematic an application as to affect radically the selling price of the product, through the saving of labor involved in the various processes.

The man with the stop watch roams about through the factories. Unobtrusively he times the fraction of a second, the various operations. Those which, to his mind, imply the waste of a single moment, become the subject of thought, deliberation and conference.

Changes in methods are determined on. These changes may imply new equipment. They may even demand the designing of an entirely new machine tool, but this is unobtrusively done. If the expense will save time, for seconds become minutes and grow into weeks, in the process of a year's continual operation.

One of these men stood for more than an hour not long ago, watching a highly specialized machine mill to mathematical smoothness the face of an aluminum casting. The entire tool was enclosed in a big sheet iron box, for a flow of oil was being constantly played on the part where the cutting was in progress.

The man with the watch stood by while the workman opened the door of the box, took out the completed piece, clamped in another, and started the tool. He noted that the time during which the tool stood idle was exactly equal to that employed by the milling operation. While the tool was at work, the tender stood by with nothing to do.

The efficiency man went away to report. That day the order went out for a duplicate of this milling machine. In a few days it was set up alongside the machine in use. The tool had become a twin.

With one day's practice, the workman in charge learned to load one of these machines, while the other was at work. The tool and the man were constantly busy. Production time was cut in half.

In some departments, one workman manufactures to materialize reduced selling price. At the same time, wages have been increased, due to the increased earning power of the workman. The reduction of the number of employees enabled Studebaker to centralize the work in the hands of the most competent.

HEAVY MOTOR TRUCKS

Heavy motor truck investments are now accentuating the optimistic spirit which prevails in many important lines of business. The persistence with which trucks are now bought by big concerns must be regarded as an expression of confidence in general business conditions.

The activity of the motor industry is now looked upon as a mirror of trade conditions. By their readiness to make heavy investments in motor trucks, many representative concerns have shown that they are preparing for a big improvement in business very soon. At the same time they have recognized the motor truck as a big economic factor in business.

CHALMERS' FACTORY

"We have never lost a sale to any prospective purchaser of an automobile who has visited the Chalmers factory in Detroit and seen these cars in the making," said Jack Hogan, the local Chalmers dealer, the other day.

"Every day finds visitors from many parts of the country making a tour of the great plant in Detroit."

"Among the most recent distinguished visitors was Elbert Hubbard, who after thoroughly inspecting the factory placed his order for a Chalmers 'Master Six' Torpedo. Mr. Hubbard plans to use this car for himself and Mr. Hubbard."

"On the occasion of his recent trip, Mr. Hubbard expressed his surprise at the growth which the Chalmers factory has shown since he last visited Detroit. He mentioned particularly the famous $160,000 Chalmers 'Hill' which in reality is the dynamometer test that scientifically measures the efficiency of every car before it leaves the factory. He was deeply interested also in the giant press which was installed at a cost of $72,000 for making the graceful, rounded oval fenders which are a feature of Chalmers cars."

"The rigorous methods of securing accuracy and testing every part to test that it measures up to the absolute standards of perfection caused favorable comment on the part of Mr. Hubbard. This is a feature, incidentally, that has helped to give the Chalmers factory the reputation for turning out a product of such a high standard as to cause the Chalmers company to adopt the slogan 'Quality First.'"

BETTER FIRE PREVENTION

N. E. Insurance Exchange Lays Down Scale of Improvements Demanded

At the request of the committee on fire prevention of the Lowell board of trade, the New England Insurance Exchange has issued a list of the improvements which Lowell must make in its fire protection before it can attain the eminence of being rated in Class A, which is a rating that gives a city the rank of 150 points and it refers principally to dwelling house risks, as mercantile and factory risks are rated individually although the class A will have much to do in establishing the basic rate for the city.

The statement is as follows:

CITY OF LOWELL, MASSACHUSETTS

WATER SUPPLY

Pumping Station

1. Automatic sprinklers to be installed throughout all pumping stations.

2. Standard fire doors bearing the label of the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. to be installed at all various sections of the West Sixth street station.

Pressure

3. The new 24-inch main, while furnishing increased volume, will not sufficiently increase the flow pressure so as to be classed as standard.

4. The only practical manner in which this deficiency can be met is by the installation of sufficient pumping engines which would be considered a partial offset for this deficiency. (See outline under fire department.)

Pipes and Valves

5. The high service force, main should be in duplicate and additional mains installed as recommended in the report of the national board of fire underwriters.

6. All dead ends to be eliminated and cross-overs connected and the gridiron completed wherever practicable. (See national board report.)

7. All 4-inch pipe to be replaced with 6-inch or larger as soon as practicable.

8. Additional gate valves to be installed so that no single case of breakage or repair to the system in the mercantile or manufacturing districts will necessitate shutting off a length of main greater than the length of a single block - a maximum of 500 feet, or in any other districts lengths greater than two sides of a single block with a maximum of about 500 feet.

Hydrants

9. All hydrants installed in the future to be provided with 4 1/2-inch outlets in addition to the 2 1/2-inch outlet to the post type in preference to the flush type.

10. All hydrants installed in the future to be equipped with a gate valve and to be replaced with an existing hydrant at present in the mercantile and manufacturing districts to be so equipped.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Paid Men

11. The number of paid men in the fire department to be increased from 133 to 170, necessitated by the addition of new apparatus and bringing present companies up to standard.

Engines

12. The present pumping engine equipment to be replaced and added to so as to make a total of three 300-gallon engines and six 750-gallon engines, all to be in active service and preferably motor driven.

Hose and Chemical Companies

13. The present equipment to be revised so as to consist of six combination and six plain hose wagons, all motor driven, hose and minor equipment being installed in accordance with the requirements of the recent national board report.

Emergency

14. Improvements carried out in the preceding items under fire department would allow full credit to be given under emergency.

FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Bells

15. All boxes of the noninterfering type located in the congested manufacturing and mercantile sections to be replaced with the latest type of non-interfering and succession, and the noninterfering boxes moved to outlying sections.

16. Thirteen additional boxes to be provided as specified in the national board report.

Headquarters

17. A standard fire alarm headquarters of fireproof construction with adequate protection against exposure to be provided for apparatus and personnel to be installed.

Outside Wires

18. Duplicate alarm circuits to be provided from headquarters to each station, one to operate tappers and registers and the other gongs and bells.

19. No zones or other instruments to be allowed on any circuits and not over 24 boxes on any one circuit.

20. Extension of underground wiring to be made as fast as practicable and all fire alarm wires should be excluded from light and high tension wires on poles and in conduits.

22. All wires overhead should be on the lower cross-arm.

STREETS

23. All main streets in the congested mercantile and manufacturing districts and main thoroughfares throughout the city should have improved pavement and all other streets in poor condition should be resurfaced, without delay.

Overhead Wiring

24. Trolley feed wires as mentioned in the national board report should be underground so as to prevent interruption in fire department operation.

STRUCTURAL CONDITIONS AND HAZARDS

Building Department

25. The building code to be revised to conform to modern requirements and to limitations to heights and areas, and protection to floor and exposed walls openings; also the installation of automatic sprinkler systems.

26. Fire limits to be extended to cover the entire area of mill and wood working districts in addition to the mercantile and the construction of the buildings outside the fire limits to be so regulated as to prevent the development of dangerous conditions.

ELECTRICAL INSPECTIONS

28. The inspection force to be increased as mentioned in the national board report, and complete reinspection of all old wiring to be made, and the defects corrected, and that all old wiring be subsequently reinspected at suitable intervals.

Respectfully submitted,

Daniel N. Sweetland, Engineer.

A Smooth, Hairless Skin for Every Woman

(The Modern Beauty)

With the aid of a plain delatone paste it is an easy matter to rid the skin of unsightly hairy growths. The paste is made by mixing some water with powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs, not washed off after 2 or 3 minutes. Rubbed off and the skin washed when every trace of hair will have vanished. When you go to your druggist for delatone, be sure you get the genuine article.

KEY WORKERS TAKE $200 MAYOR "RULED AS CZAR"

House in Centralville Robbed—Suspects Arrested But Culprits Still at Large

Key workers are getting busy in West Centralville again and only a few days ago the home of H. W. Allard, 2 Lilley avenue, was entered and robbed of $200 in cash. The matter has been reported to the police, but as yet no arrest has been made.

Mr. Allard, who conducts a business at the corner of Lilley avenue and West Sixth street, resides over his store and the main entrance to his home is in Lilley avenue. A few days ago while Mrs. Allard was away he questioned thieves entered the back shop of F. J. Brautigan in Alken avenue near the corner of West Sixth street and made a successful exit, taking away a lot of pastry and bread. Several other thefts of more or less importance have been reported from West Centralville during the past few weeks, and in all cases keys were used.

Jewelry were in the same drawer but they were not touched. When Mrs. Allard returned to her home she found the door unlocked and becoming suspicious she conducted an investigation with the above result. The police were notified and Inspector Walsh was detailed on the job.

It is stated that three suspects were taken to the station but they proved an alibi, and while these men were being questioned thieves entered the back shop of F. J. Brautigan in Alken avenue near the corner of West Sixth street and made a successful exit, taking away a lot of pastry and bread. Several other thefts of more or less importance have been reported from West Centralville during the past few weeks, and in all cases keys were used.

Violations of Pure Food Laws Leading Feature

—Other Cases

Alfred W. Lombard, an agent of the Massachusetts Dairy Bureau, and his assistants in the detection of violations of the pure food laws, made their appearance in the local police court this morning and brought in five defendants which they rounded up during the past month.

Krank Kavalaky and Charles Malleski were the first two victims of a state inspector's activities. Mayor Murphy appeared for the two men. They were charged with selling renovated or process butter without having the same properly labeled. Both of them were found guilty and the county was made $25 wealthier by Judge Knight's sentence.

Saranis Korretos also paid a fine of $25 for the same offense. The cases of two other butter cases, Peter Canapopane and Joseph E. Lalanne, were continued until next Thursday.

John J. Hart appeared in police court yesterday charged with drunkenness. Hart told the court that he was in very good circumstances financially speaking and that a bank book of his was in the custody of a local liquor dealer.

Inasmuch as the defendant owed several back fines to the probation department the case was held over until today to find out as to his bank ratings. Judge Knight sent Hart to the state farm this morning.

Dist. Atty. Dailey Declares Terra Haute Executive Was Head of Conspiracy—Trial of 28 "Pols"

INDIANAPOLIS, March 9.—With the reading of the indictment and his speech, U. S. Dist. Atty. Frank Dailey was expected to occupy most of the day in the trial of Mayor Don Roberts and 27 others charged with conspiracy to corrupt the election in Terra Haute last November.

The jury in the case was completed yesterday and consists of nine farmers, one retired farmer, a druggist and an insurance man.

United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey in his opening statement today at the trial of Mayor Don M. Roberts of Terra Haute and the 27 others charged with conspiracy to corrupt the election of Nov. 3, 1914, in Terra Haute outlined the facts the government expects to prove and declared that Roberts was the head of the conspiracy and that he "ruled as a czar."

He told how the government contends that the false registrations were made, the alleged slush fund and rough work at the polls, the manner of collecting and the amount of the so-called "slush fund" and spent much time discussing the law and the government's right to interfere in the election.

2000 False Registrations

"Roberts gave orders and his henchmen obeyed without question," asserted the district attorney. "He had long experience in the larceny of elections and he knew not only how to do it, but upon whom he could rely to do it. He made his appointments of city employees largely upon their qualifications as election manipulators."

About 2000 false registrations were prepared at Terra Haute police headquarters by Chief of Police Edward Holler, who pleaded guilty, at the direction of Roberts. Mr. Dailey told the jury. He said Roberts and Holler decided on the number of false registrations to make in each precinct and then each precinct was divided into sections for the fictitious voters.

Defied Injunctions

The district attorney told of the means employed by the defendants to get men whom they could control on the election boards. He said they defied injunctions and drove away special deputy sheriffs with revolvers in order to place the men they desired on the boards.

In dealing with the "slush fund" Mr. Dailey produced a table to show how much money Roberts assessed upon saloon men and resort keepers for registration and election purposes. Assistant Chief of Police John Nugent, who has pleaded guilty, was Roberts' collector. Mr. Dailey said, Chief Holler and Ell H. Redman, a defendant who was declared elected circuit court judge in the November election, also collected part of the fund which the district attorney said totalled about $6000.

Unaided Pickers

Mayor Roberts, the government's counsel asserted, called a meeting of his hand-picked election inspectors and told them that none had a right to touch the voting machines except the inspectors, and that when a man entered for voting the inspectors should do the work.

Often times, Mr. Dailey said, the inspectors would pull down the democratic lever, forcing the voter to vote that ticket; if the voter protested, brutally the inspector would permit him to vote again, thus pairing the votes and leaving both uncounted.

"The Roberts inspectors," Mr. Dailey asserted, "always stood in a position to see any person voted and, if the voter voted 'right,' communicated with the man on the outside, who handled the money."

As an example of the methods used by repeaters, Mr. Dailey gave the following:

"One of the fellows who was busy repeating in precinct A, sixth ward, was a one-legged colored man who voted eight times in the precinct, the time he came with a peg leg; another time he wore a cork leg; the third time without anything strapped to his leg; the fourth time an iron extension leg; another time with one crutch; one time for the purpose of deception he wore glasses."

ON VOLCANIC ACTIVITIES

NEW YORK MAN WHO SENT MESSAGE IN CODE ARRESTED AS SPY—LATER RELEASED

NATLES, March 9.—Frank A. Perret of New York, assistant director of the Royal observatory on Mount Vesuvius, is a member of the Volcanological institute, founded by Professor Friedlander of Berlin, who also is president of the organization.

Recently Prof. Perret had occasion to communicate with Prof. Friedlander on volcanic activities and he wrote his message in the code of the institute and sent it addressed to Berlin to the telegraph office. This gave rise to suspicions on the part of the Italian authorities that Prof. Perret was engaged in espionage. The message was stopped and an investigation quickly made. When the facts had been ascertained, Prof. Perret was rehabilitated and the scientific telegram was allowed to go forward.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

The local high school team has yet to meet defeat on its own floor this season. Although a reverse threatened for a time Saturday night the boys managed to slip over a win against the Boston English high school.

The high school track team this year is an evenly balanced group of athletes. There are no particularly brilliant stars on the team although Randall in the mile, and Cunningham in the hurdles, are as good as any on the schoolboys in New England on the local track.

South Boston high, the school which won the championship of the Boston high schools, is booked to appear here in a couple of weeks and the winner of this dual meet will be hailed as the champion high school track team of the state. It was for this reason that so much stress was put on last week's victory with Boston English.

Gardner Brooks and Phinney Boyle are living up to the expectations of their Lowell friends. Both boys are going along at a great clip under their New York management and the fans of the clubs where they have already exhibited their jabs and hooks are enthusiastic over them both.

Brooks' two victories last week have given him a big boost. Although there was no decision in his bout with Sam Diamond, the newspapers gave Brooks a wide margin and it was Phinney's way that the local boy handled Kaufman Saturday night.

In a communication to the writer Brooks states that both he and Phinney have been signed up for several battles on the strength of their performances.

It looks as though perhaps the job of secretary in the New England league would cease to exist after this year. Judications seem to point that way.

Phinney Boyle is appointing the umpires himself this season. Previous to this, if he appoints them he will probably assign them as well.

With this job out of the way there doesn't appear to be much for a secretary to do, except send postcards around to the managers when there's a meeting called.

Although the balmy breath of spring is making itself felt occasionally, bowling still continues to be popular. In fact, the warm days which we have had thus far have not dampened the ardor of the strike and spare aspirants in the slightest.

The alley has enjoyed a great run this winter. Bowling has been more generally taken up during the past few years than ever before in this city, we make free to say.

The cause is probably the lack of any other sporting diversion. While we all appreciate the fact that bowling is a clean, healthy sport, we feel that the game has been more popular since the war.

Wrestling has not proved to be much of a drawing card in this winter. The fans have failed to patronize the sport as they once did and it is a pity.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Joe Eagan and Terry Brooks will furnish the fireworks at Lenox A. C. of Gloucester next Monday night in a 12-round bout. Eagan will have to weigh in at 142 pounds. Brooks packs a terrific wallop in his right glove that spells slumber when it connects.

Joe Carroll and Eddie Salmon meet in the semi-final to the Joe Goldberg-Larry Burns tussle at Lawrence. Carroll has improved wonderfully during the past year, only losing one verdict to Tommy Carson.

Steve Kennedy will probably meet Willie Beecher at Lawrence in a few weeks. Kennedy has been training for the past three weeks and avers he will be in top-notch form when he clashes with the high class performer from New York.

Joe Goldberg and Larry Burns have been matched to meet in Lawrence Thursday night in the main bout of twelve rounds. The mill will take the place of the Mike Glover-Bill Fleming affair which is called off two days ago. Goldberg is the lad who defeated Harlem Eddie Kelley Monday night in New York at the same show in which Phinney Boyle won from Young Rector.

Johnny Griffiths, who beat Champ-

On Freddie Welsh at Akron, O. recently in a no-decision contest will have a chance to duplicate the trick at Pittsburgh, March 18. Griffiths made a fine showing in Australia last year defeating the pick of the Antipodes, while he did not meet with a reverse.

Out in Columbus, O. they think that Johnny Harvey who made Matty Baldwin say enough at Bridgeport, Conn. is a chap who will eventually wear the championship title. Johnny defeated Sammy Trott, one of the best boys of the middle west, the other night and the fans are wild about his work and want to see him pitted against some top notchers. He will beat Johnny Griffiths shortly in Akron, O.

Jimmy Coffey, the Dublin giant, who beat Arthur Polky in four rounds last week in New York, is scheduled to appear at the house in January before the principals enter the ring.

Walter Butler and Charley Myers will entertain the fans at No. Abingdon, Thursday night when they hook up in a ten round affair. Butler has two wins over the South Boston boy already and Butler's friends say it will be three when the smoke clears on the North Abington battlefield.

BOYLE WON BOUT IN NEW YORK

Defeated Young Rector of Jersey City Last Night

Lowell Boxer's Work Was Revelation to the Fans

Phinney Boyle of this city won his 10-round bout with Young Rector of Jersey City last night at the Olympic A. C. of New York in one of the most sensational affairs which that club has witnessed for some time. According to accounts of the go the Lowell boy won by a big margin.

Boyle's last night was a revelation to his opponent while his work at close range had Rector all but out on several occasions. Phinney pummeled as well as outlasted his man in every round of the bout.

The local ringster was the aggressor from the first lap of the going and after his opponent ever minute. In the second round a series of left jabs and right crosses all but put Rector to sleep.

In the final round Boyle showed at his best. The Jersey City lad could do more than stall while Phinney kept shooting rights and lefts into every vulnerable spot. There was no doubt in the minds of any of those who witnessed the bout that the Lowell boxer was far and away the class of the bill at last night's Olympic A. C. show.

soon as records can be compiled. Date of banquet will be published next week if possible.

STEWART LOSES JOBS

Defeated For Constable in Rockland, He Automatically Is Deposed as Chief of Police

ROCKLAND, March 8.—Michael E. Stewart was automatically deposed as chief of police last night when he was defeated for constable in the town meeting by John Fucillo. He has held the office several years and his contest for reelection was one of the causes for the meeting being the biggest in the history of the town.

The meeting started a week ago tonight, adjourned to Wednesday, again to Friday and again to last night. Sixty-three articles were disposed of, one being the acceptance of the state statute to include the town in the Metropolitan fire district.

Officers elected: James A. Cody, Bartholomew J. Fitzgerald, Mark W. Murrill, selectmen; E. R. Studley, clerk; J. S. Gray, treasurer; James A. Cody, Bartholomew J. Fitzgerald, Mark W. VOTES SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Wellesley Unanimously Approimates $150,000 to Begin Project to Cost About $600,000

WELLESLEY, March 8.—In one of the quietest of town meetings the citizens last night unanimously voted to construct a sewerage system to connect with the Metropolitan South system near the Dedham line.

The sewerage question has been a live issue here for years. Last night the citizens' committee of three in its report cited an engineering authority to the effect that in the center of the town, within 200 yards of the town hall, there is pollution that menaces the public health because of the lack of a proper town system.

The meeting appropriated $150,000 to start the work; it is expected that the whole cost will be about $600,000.

The other appropriations, which totaled $155,375.50, the principal were: Town officers, $1700; schools, $48,800; board of health, $3600; library, $2500; highways and bridges, $17,000; law department, $6500; police, $4750; suppression of moths, $4500; recreation, $3400; shade trees, $1500.

MORE PAY FOR FIREMEN

Reading Votes to Pay 28 Call Men $75 Instead of $50 a Year at Town Meeting

READING, March 8.—At an adjourned town meeting last evening it was voted to increase the annual pay of 28 call men of the fire department from $50 to $75.

These appropriations were made: General government, $11,700; police, $5700; fire department, $6475; suppression of moths, $3007; board of health, $1820; highways, bridges and sidewalks, $18,465; charities, $3200; aid to widows with dependent children, $1500; schools, $45,000; libraries, $3225; cemetery, $1200; recreation and celebrations, $542; forest warden, $500; tree warden, $500; concrete sidewalks, $1500.

The town also appropriated $2260 for continuing the macadamizing of Lowell street provided the state will appropriate a similar amount.

COUNTRESS AT DEATH'S DOOR

Former Miss Vanderbilt Contracted Smallpox Nursing Soldiers

On Way to Recovery Following Fortnight's Peril

BOSTON, March 9.—The Right Rev. Mgr. M. J. Splaine, D. D., rector of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, has been appointed by Cardinal O'Connell to be permanent rector of St. Joseph's church, Roxbury, to fill the vacancy caused by the death several months ago of the Rev. Denis J. Wholey. Monsignor Splaine will not take charge of St. Joseph's parish for several days, or until he has several matters now in hand cleared up.

His leaving the cathedral will cause regret among the clergy attached to that church and among the people of the parish. On the other hand, the people of the parish of St. Joseph, one of the oldest and best parishes in the diocese, are highly pleased that Mgr. Splaine would receive the appointment but nothing definite was done about the matter until the cardinal made the appointment late yesterday afternoon. Since the death of Father Wholey, St. Joseph's church has been in charge of the Rev. Father Fahy.

Mgr. Splaine was born in Watertown about 35 years ago. He attended the public and parochial schools of the town. He was graduated from the High school of Watertown, and in 1897 was sent to the American college at Rome, where he studied for five years. At the time Mgr. Splaine was studying at the American college, Cardinal O'Connell was the rector, so that in many ways he was practically trained by the cardinal.

He was ordained to the priesthood in 1902, in Rome, and came back to Boston. He was assigned to the cathedral and became assistant chancellor of the diocese. About four years later he was appointed chancellor of the diocese, being at that time the youngest priest that ever held that important office. He retained that office until the cardinal's office was re-located to the archbishop's house on Granby street.

In the meantime he was made rector of the cathedral, succeeding the Rt. Rev. Mgr. George J. Patterson, now pastor of St. Peter and Paul's church, Broadway, South Boston.

He was appointed to the mission of about four or five years ago, and has accompanied Cardinal O'Connell on his visits to the Vatican. On the death of Father Wholey, he accompanied the cardinal to Rome to act as his chaplain in the election of the new pope. They arrived too late, however, for the election, but the monsignor acted as chaplain to the cardinal at the coronation of the present pontiff.

He was recently appointed by Cardinal O'Connell to be chaplain-general of the Catholic Federation, an organization of federated Catholic societies with a membership of between 300,000 and 400,000 in the archdiocese.

If your teeth trouble you, see Dr. Gagnon, 466 Merrimack street.

LONDON, March 9.—It has just become known in Budapest, according to private advices received yesterday in London dated March 3, that Countess Lazlo Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, contracted smallpox and has been dangerously ill for the past fortnight.

The countess was nursing in a Budapest military hospital when she fell ill. She had been doing nursing work since the beginning of the war, and never ceased her voluntary duties when cases of infectious diseases such as smallpox, typhoid and even cholera began to be of almost daily occurrence in military hospitals.

The countess was working in a private mansion loaned for hospital purposes in the Landy Uteza in Budapest, and, leaving there, attended to the men brought in with smallpox.

A fortnight ago she fell ill with the disease. She was at once taken to her mansion in Andrássy avenue. For two weeks her condition was serious. News in regard to it was not made public until March 3, when the countess's medical advisers stated that she was doing well and that she would, it was expected, leave home in a few days.

The countess is said to have expressed a wish to return to her duties at the Landy Uteza hospital as soon as she recovers entirely.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE:

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, eat food which is not acid. Acidity in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin and feeble, and are lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to try a meal of fruit, all starch, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on glutin products, I would suggest that they eat a meal of fruit, food or foods which may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bluerated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and distress, you will find that your stomach agrees with you perfectly. Bismarated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining. It does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I am sure that if you take the sense of losing an indignant and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble—from your system, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bluerated magnesia as directed above, and see if you are not right."

AMERICAN NURSES, BOUND FOR WAR ZONE, DISPLAY BRAVERY ON BURNING LA TOURAINE

AMERICAN AMBULANCE CORPS NURSES — LA TOURAINE

Among the passengers on board the French steamship La Touraine, which caught fire at sea while bound from New York to Havre, France, were ten nurses, members of the American Ambulance corps. They were bound for the war zone. They aided in preventing a panic when the passengers were informed that the ship was on fire and to hold themselves in readiness to quit the ship if necessary. The nurses appear in the accompanying illustration from left to right as follows: Florence Gordon, Mollie McGrath, Cathlyne O'Hanlon, Eugenie Lyons, Boda Peterson, Alma McCormick, Nellie Parsons, Ellen O'Hanlon, Dorothy O'Connell and Victoria Frankford.

SEEKING LOST HUSBAND

Wojcik Wojciech, of 56 Lakeview avenue, this city, has received a letter from his brother, Stanislaw Wojciech, who is in a hospital in Budapest, Hungary, suffering from a broken leg, which he received as a result of being hit with a shell while engaged in combat against the Serbian army.

Two years ago, Mr. Wojciech, who was married in this city and had two children, decided to visit the old country, and went to Galicia, where he stayed with relatives for a short time, until the fact became known to the authorities that he had returned, when he was taken, and forced to serve in the army. Soon after the war broke out he was sent to the front and according to his letter he has engaged in many battles. In one of them he was hit by a shell which nearly tore the member from his body. Since that time he has been confined to the hospital in Budapest. An American doctor, who writes is attending him, and as he is himself able to speak English, the doctor and he are great friends. There are no Polish doctors in the hospital, he writes, and German and Hungarian doctors are taking care of the injured. He writes that he expects to be fully recovered in a few months, and that he will then be sent back to the front to fight against the allies.

But now comes the sad part of the story. Shortly after he arrived, he sent numerous letters to his wife in this country and all were answered, but finally came a day when a letter written by his wife, who was living in Coburn street, was sent to him and no answer was received. Others were sent and still no reply came. Frenzied with grief and believing her husband dead, Mrs. Wojciech took her two children and went to Boston whence she took passage for the old country, and although she has hunted everywhere for him, she has been unable to find him, as his letter to his brother, in which he asks as to her whereabouts will testify. Their old home in Galicia, which he first visited, has since been totally destroyed, and it can easily be seen by his letter that he still believes her to be safe in this country.

Just before leaving Mr. Wojciech had taken out second papers and writes that he wishes that he had remained in this country until he became a naturalized citizen.

The letter he sent came to his brother and was opened at the top. This was explained by him in the letter. He wrote that every letter sent from Austria-Hungary is first opened by the authorities who ascertain if there is anything contained in it that is detrimental to the German or Austrian interests. If not, the letter is allowed to proceed. Many of his friends in this city have written to their relatives in the old country asking them to try to locate his wife and children, but up to date nothing has been heard of them. His wife did not know of his being wounded and in the hospital. It is believed that the family home in Galicia has been leveled and that the people are driven to concentration camps.

BLACKJACKED, HE SHOT THIEF

Surprised Burglars in Allston — One Man Escaped With Loot

One British Seaplane Struck 28 Times — More Forts Silenced

BOSTON, March 9.—Beaten to the floor with a blackjack by one of two burglars he surprised on the first floor of the house at 15 Harvard terrace, Allston, about 8:30 last night, Patrolman Andrew J. Hurley fired at his assailant as he fell, wounding him fatally. The other thief escaped, probably with considerable loot, for the house had been ransacked.

The wounded burglar is dying at St. Elizabeth's hospital. The patrolman is in a critical condition at the same hospital, but is expected to recover.

The flat is occupied by J. Warren Buckman, a wealthy business man, who was out with his family for the evening. Mrs. J. W. Smith, who lives at 17 Harvard terrace, across the street, saw two rough-looking men approaching the Buckman house just as she was leaving her own home. She met Mrs. W. T. Pultz of 91 Harrington street, and the two women watched the men, who went to the front door of the Buckman apartment, with a blunt instrument supposed to be a blackjack. As Hurley, with blood streaming down over his face, sank to the floor, he drew his revolver and fired one shot, which took effect in his assailant's abdomen. The other intruder ran out. The wounded man walked from the house and went down Harvard terrace to the corner of Harvard street, where he staggered in behind a fruit store and fell unconscious.

Meantime Hurley had dragged himself to the house at 12 Harvard terrace, where he telephoned the Brighton station. The police ambulance that was sent to the scene was stopped at the corner by a girl who told the officers she had seen a man, apparently ill, go behind the fruit store. Hurley picked up the unconscious form, went to get Hurley and took both to the hospital.

Mr. Buckman returned home late in the evening with his wife to find policemen awaiting him. He found that the flat had been thoroughly ransacked, but was unable for the time to give an estimate of the loss.

The rear hall was sprinkled with blood and bore evidence that the officer had put up a fierce battle before he was overcome. Entrance to the flat was gained by forcing the door with a chisel and a screwdriver.

Hurley is 35 years old and married and lives at 143 Commonwealth avenue. He had six bad cuts on his head and is otherwise badly bruised. He has been on the force seven years, having been transferred from East Boston a year and a half ago.

The thing at the hospital is about 22, 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 150 pounds. His companion is described as 20 years old, 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighing about 150 pounds.

TO SPEAK ON CALIFORNIA

California is regarded by the world as a great show place. Nature has indeed been lavish with that state. Jas. W. Erwin, a Californian, residing at San Francisco, knows California and has delighted audiences on both sides of the Atlantic with his lectures on this subject. The exact subject on which he is to speak at Calvary Baptist church tomorrow (Wednesday) evening, is "California—its Wonders and Glories." He has a large collection of unusual slides, with natural coloring, and interestingly arranged motion pictures. The lecture is complete both as to quantity and quality. This season, his length, to make the lecture quite up to date, he has added valuable information and comprehensive illustrations of the two great expositions held this year at San Francisco and San Diego. This is a lecture none should miss hearing and seeing. It is quite out of the ordinary. Please see adv.

EXERCISE AND GRECIAN BEAUTY

WHAT IT MEANS

Many thousands of women are now, a-days paying attention to physical culture and the proper exercise of their body muscles, where thirty years ago or fifty years ago there was no thought expended on this science, which is quite necessary to physical beauty. The reason the Greeks, both men and women, excelled in beautiful and symmetrical forms was because of the attention they paid to the proper exercise. Then, too, they were untrammelled by corsets, shoes and the inconveniences of clothing. To the minds of some women the idea of physical exercise conveys only the idea of hard fatiguing work. Mild exercise continued day after day is best for the body and spirits and health. Without proper exercise there can be no health, and without health there can be no real beauty.

There is no stronger proof of the sound medical value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription than that it restores the wasted form to its wanted roundness.

The mighty restorative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription speedily causes all womanly troubles to disappear—compels the organs to properly perform their natural functions, corrects displacements, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women.

It is a wonderful prescription prepared only from Nature's roots with glycerine, with no alcohol to falsely stimulate. It banishes pain, headache, backache, low spirits, hot flashes, dragging-down sensations, worry and sleeplessness surely and without loss of time.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. Address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. —Adv.

HARDWARE STORE ROBBED

BURGLARS ARE CAUGHT

BOSTON, March 9.—The shadow of a man prowling about the hardware store of Bigelow and Dowse company, 229 Franklin street, last night, led to the arrest of two men on a charge of burglary. They gave their names as Frank Mitchell, 30, of 562 Tremont street, and Edward Harding, 32, married, and living at 55 Emerson street, South Boston.

Patrolman Peter Sullivan, passing the Wendell street side of the store, heard a peculiar noise, and looking through a window saw the shadow. He signalled to Patrolman Seavey to go to the front and rattle the door. At the rattling two men crossed to the window and came through the basement window into the arms of Sullivan. The latter turned him over to Patrolman Seavey and ran after the second fellow, who had turned and broken through the front entrance and darted down Franklin street.

John F. Todd, who lives at the Anchor House on Commercial street, joined in the chase and caught the fugitive at the corner of Pearl and Commercial streets. There was a sharp struggle, but Todd and the patrolman won. When the men were searched at the Court Square station they had four pearl-handled knives and a $2 nickel-plated watch. A case of razors was found near the window one of the men used as an exit.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and floral offerings, which helped to lighten the burden of sorrow in our recent bereavement caused by the death of our loving husband and father, Mr. John MacDougal, and Mrs. John MacDougal and Mr. and Mrs. Achille Pailou for their beautiful floral offerings which were unintentionally omitted and to all the people grateful and will ever remember their many acts of kindness.

AN EASY WAY TO END CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Destroys Germs of This Dangerous Disease

The reason why so many people who suffer from Catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are content with the temporary relief of sprays, douching, greasy creams, ointments, etc. Such things do open up the swollen nostrils and clear the head temporarily, besides stopping for a while the disgusting blowing, hawking, spitting and choking, but they never cure. To drive out Catarrh for good you have to get down to its real cause. Catarrh is a germ disease. The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and from the system does fall to throw off such germs they find permanent lodgment in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly.

The germs that cause Catarrh can be best destroyed by inhaling the pure medicated air of Iyomee (pronounced High-o-mee). This splendid and powerful combination of oil of Eucalyptus with other germicides has a wonderful germicidal action. You breathe its air into your nose, throat and lungs by means of a small hard rubber inhaler which is supplied with the Iyomee and vicinity supply with every treatment. This medicated air is certain death to the germs of Catarrh and drives them completely out of your system and when the germs are destroyed the catarrh with all its disagreeable symptoms will stop. Even after another outbreak of the system does fall to throw off such germs they find permanent lodgment in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly.

Right Wing Retreats to Within 8 Miles of Border—Russians Advance in Turkish Armenia and Take Important Points—Crisis in Bulgaria

Both the right and left flanks of the German forces in West Poland have been dislodged, Petrograd despatches state, from the positions which they took upon the advance from East Prussia. The German right wing is said to have beaten a hasty retreat to within eight miles of the border. Today's official report from Berlin, however, states that the Russian offensive is being met successfully. Several Russian assaults in this region are said to have been repulsed.

Battle in Champagne

The battle in Champagne has become less violent, snow has interrupted fighting in the Vosges and elsewhere along the western front there is no great activity. The day's official reports from Berlin and Paris mention only local engagements of comparative small importance.

Russians Rout Turks

A further advance by the Russian army, which is striking into Turkish Armenia, along the shore of the Black sea, is announced at Petrograd. It is claimed that the Russians have occupied important positions beyond the Teherik River, throwing back the Turks with heavy losses.

Italy on Eve of "Decisive Events"

"Although there is no direct evidence that Italy will depart from her policy of armed neutrality, Rome despatches express the belief that the nation is on the eve of 'great decisive events.' Premier Salandra is quoted as saying that 'Italians will see the destiny of their country accomplished.'"

THAW'S SANITY ISSUE OF CONSPIRACY TRIAL

State Declares Thaw Was Insane When He Escaped, But Competent to Conspire

NEW YORK, March 3.—The actual trial of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, and five co-defendants for conspiring to effect Thaw's escape from the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan, was begun in the criminal branch of the supreme court here today. Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy outlined the case of the state and four witnesses gave testimony of a technical nature.

Mr. Kennedy said it was the contention of the state that Thaw was insane at the time of his flight; that it would still constitute a menace to the public safety to allow him at large but that notwithstanding these facts, he was "by reason of his peculiar form of insanity" competent to conspire to defeat the administration of justice.

None of the witnesses examined during the forenoon session was subjected to cross-examination by attorneys for Thaw or his alleged co-conspirators. The witnesses were a photographer, an engineer, the clerk of the court and the attendant from the Matteawan hospital.

The courtroom was crowded to the doors long before the jury entered the room. There were as many women as men in the seats. As on yesterday Thaw's mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, his sister, Mrs. George Carnegie, and his half-brother, Josiah Thaw, occupied seats close up to the table of the Thaw staff of attorneys.

Thaw himself paid but little attention to the examination of the first witnesses today, although he appeared to be greatly interested in the remarks made about him by Mr. Kennedy.

LIMIT CAPACITY OF CARS BIG BRUSH FIRE

Threatened Destruction of Manning-Manse in North Billerica

A threatening brush fire broke out in North Billerica this afternoon and but for the prompt arrival and effective work of the fire department of the town it is probable one of the best known places in the village would have been gutted.

The fire broke out on the Cushing farm road in a heap of brush and worked its way across fields. An alarm to the central fire station of the town was sent in and the men of the department quickly responded. When the fire fighters arrived on the scene several acres of brush had been burned and the blaze was making rapid progress toward the Manning-Manse, one of the best known places in Billerica.

The men armed with steel brooms and other similar implements to fight brush fires got busy and in about ten minutes the threatening blaze was quenched. It is believed had the fire been left in responding to the alarm the blaze would have destroyed the old Manning land mark.

NEED WAR MUNITIONS

DRASTIC DEFENSE OF REALM ACT PRESENTED TO COMMONS BY LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, March 3.—A drastic defense of the realm act was unexpectedly presented to the house of commons this afternoon by Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George. His proposal was that the government be empowered to commandeer all factories required for war purposes. Up to the present time arms and factories already producing war material could be taken under governmental control. The amending bill of the chancellor extends this power to cover all other concerns which the government may wish to utilize for this purpose.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

DOVER, Del., March 3.—The Delaware house of representatives today defeated the equal suffrage amendment to the constitutional convention.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.—The passing of the Goulds from official connection with the Missouri-Pacific iron mountain system took place at the annual meetings of the two roads here today.

NOME, Alaska, March 3.—Mrs. Emma Dalquist, proprietor of a roadhouse at Safety, 22 miles east of here, was lost in a blizzard Sunday night and no trace of her can be found.

MARLIN, Tex., March 3.—New York National league baseball players today used superior practice here today instead of baseball. There was a four-inch snowfall, heavy and wet.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 3.—Jess Willard, heavyweight, left here today for Havana to meet Jack Johnson in a battle for the world's championship April 3. Willard has continued light training while here.

MITCHELL, Ind., March 3.—A masked bandit held up two paymasters of the stone quarries near here yesterday and escaped with a bag containing $2000. The paymasters were unarmed and were driving in a closed buggy.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Late today the cruiser Des Moines, en route to Vera Cruz, was ordered to return to Mexico, where there had been local trouble and friction over Carranza's export embargoes.

BOSTON, March 3.—Congressman George R. Tinkham, whose election is being contested by Francis J. Horgan, a former state senator, denied at a hearing of the case today that he ever made any trade of deal with James P. Timilty, chairman of the democratic city committee or expended any money improperly.

WARSHIPS RUSH TO VERA CRUZ

Carranza in Reply Denies Existence of Conditions Which U. S. Called Upon Him to Improve—Battleships Washington and Georgia Ordered to the Mexican Waters

OREGON'S FORCES EVACUATE MEXICO CITY

WASHINGTON, March 3.—American Consul Silliman telegraphed from Vera Cruz today that he had been reliably informed that the evacuation of Mexico City by the forces of General Obregon began at nine o'clock last night.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—General Carranza has made a preliminary reply to the American representations, denying generally the existence of conditions in Mexico City which the United States has called upon him to improve.

In a statement made orally to American Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz, which was laid before President Wilson and the cabinet today, the Mexican chief denied that General Obregon, his commander in Mexico City, had prevented food from reaching the Mexican capital or that he had sent supplies away.

Carranza's oral statement was taken in official quarters to forecast the tenor of his formal answer now being drafted. Generally, it was regarded in administration quarters as favorable and as an indication that Carranza would not approve any inconvenience to foreigners. Meanwhile, however, orders went forward to Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, to send two more battleships to Vera Cruz.

Admiral Fletcher selected the armored cruiser Washington, now in Haitian waters with Rear Admiral Caperton and the battleship Georgia.

GREECE IN TURMOIL OVER THE

King CONSTANTINE and TYPE OF GREEK SOLDIERS.

LONDON, March 9.—Greece is apparently at the parting of the ways, with her king exerting his influence to maintain the neutrality of his country in opposition to Eleutherios Venizelos, the retiring premier, who announced that his party would refuse to support the policy of the government about to be formed. M. Venizelos announced the resignation of himself and his cabinet, as King Constantine did not approve the policy of the government. M. Venizelos clearly indicated that the difference between himself and the monarch was over the question of peace and war. He said he had advised the king to select as his new premier M. Zaimis, governor of the National bank, who, he said, "will follow a policy of neutrality, which I hope will not endanger our newly acquired territory. Our party," M. Venizelos continued, "will refuse to support any government which may be formed. Besides M. Zaimis, if he forms a cabinet, will not come before the chamber."

POLICE SEEK "ELLIS" HEAR BREWERS

SUSAN TALLENT IDENTIFIES PICTURE IN HUGUES' GALLERY AS HER ABDUCTOR

BOSTON, March 9.—After returning to her home, 58 Revere street, yesterday morning, with the story of her abduction by a man who lured her to the South station Saturday afternoon, 14-year-old Susan Tallent was brought by Sgt. Ramsey to the bureau of criminal investigation, where she identified in the "Hugues" gallery a picture of her abductor.

This man who represented himself as "S. T. Ellis, chief clerk of a camp in Rutland," where the child's father has been a patient, induced her to meet him at the South station to welcome home her father, who was cured, the man said.

The Tallent girl went there with a little brother, whom the man sent home on an errand. The girl said she was taken to a house on Milford street, where the man remained with her until yesterday morning.

The girl's father came home yesterday. He is fairly certain he has met "Ellis" before. Several members of the "Hugues" family saw the man when he visited their house last Friday.

A general alarm has been sent out for "Ellis." The police theory is that he was an inmate of some place, where he heard Tallent describing his daughter.

Freight Rates on Beer, Ale and Porter Ordered Up

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Leading brewers of Massachusetts will be invited to attend a hearing, some day before March 20, by the interstate commerce commission on an order advancing freight rates on beer, ale and porter and on empty kegs, barrels and bottles returned to the senders. The order is to become effective on March 20.

By the proposed change, the rate on beer, ale and porter in carload lots will be raised from 31.5 cents a hundred pounds to 35.5 cents; in less than carloads from 52.5 cents to 55.1 cents.

Returned empty barrels and kegs in carload lots will rise from 26.3 cents to 31.5 cents a hundred pounds, less than carloads from 42 cents to 52.5 cents.

Returned empty glass bottles in boxes, carloads, from 26.3 cents to 31.5 cents, and less than carloads from 52.5 cents to 55.1 cents.

By some large brewers this advance is said to be prohibitive, while one firm says it means an increase of $200,000 a year in its expenses.

DARING ROBBERY

Burglars Entered Club Building 100 Yards From Police Station

BOSTON, March 9.—Burglars operated on one of the city's busiest corners early today.

While many night workers and others early astir were in the streets the men broke into the Old Corner Book store building, an ancient structure at the corner of Washington and School streets, tore up a marble stairway in a futile endeavor to enter a cigar store, plundered a barber shop and a talking machine store on the second floor and escaped. The scene of the break was within 100 yards of a police station and less than 50 yards from "Newspaper row."

A SONG RECITAL

Madame Anita Rio Before the Middlesex Women's Club

Madame Anita Rio gave a really delightful song recital yesterday afternoon before the Middlesex Women's club, and, as on previous occasions, filled the hall to capacity. In a program of 16 numbers, with encores occasionally, she touched on every pulse of feeling and revealed many phases of technical perfection. Madame Rio throws herself heart and soul into her singing and seems to take as much enjoyment out of it as the audience, which says a great deal for yesterday afternoon several hundred listened spellbound, responsive to every subtle shading of the artist whether leaning to tears or laughter. Once again Miss Mary E. Reilly charmed a club audience by her accomplished and sympathetic accompaniments. Following is the program:

- I.
- a—Amazilli, villa bella....Caccini 1546
- b—Ronde mallecole....Old French, 18th Cen.
- c—Ah! Mon Berger....Old French, 18th Cen.
- d—Pai pleure en reve....Georges Hue
- e—A des Oiseaux....Georges Hue
- II.
- a—Waltzer....Schubert
- b—My Sweet Repose....Schubert
- c—Jedige Rosen....Schubert
- d—In Exile....W. Taubert
- III.
- a—Neapolitan Folk Songs
- b—Voca e notte....de Curtis
- c—Torna a Sorrento....do Capua
- d—Marchiare (sung in dialect)....Tosti
- IV.
- a—Have you seen but a white Lilie grow? (Old English)
- b—Shepherd! Thy demeanor vary (Old English)
- c—Greetings of Hiawatha (Indian Song)....Carl Busch
- d—Will o' the Wisp....Ch. G. Sprus

Madame Rio has a most magnetic personality which, if analyzed, would reveal temperament, quiet humor, poetic feeling and intimate knowledge of the human heart. Given these and a voice as pure as a mountain stream and thrilling as the note of a bird, it is not strange that she has such an individual charm. In all of her songs yesterday her expression was direct and with liquid living notes she gave vitality and a soul to her songs. She also showed a sensitive feeling for musical and rhythmic values, swaying many times to the lilting tune of some quaint old folk song and imparting to her audience a hungering for the overflowing joy of romantic experience. A slight cold slightly marred the effect of selections that otherwise were perfect and called attention to a mastery of vocal technique that was admirable. Generally one forgot all about the method and felt that Madame Rio sang songs as the composer wished them sung—sang them in a way that made them forget. Colossal marks on the stage and the singer and opened the doors of memory that swing wide before the wand of music.

The opening group of songs was the most effective. The singer seems to revel in folk music or some unusual composition with a distinctive appeal. The old French songs were delightfully varied, sometimes thrilling with the joy of life, sometimes grave with a make believe gravity. The mood was suggested by tempered gesture and a play of feature that revealed the artist's delight in her songs. In the second group the "Waltzer" of Schubert was haunting in its idealism, and "My Sweet Repose" of the same composer was tinged with an almost religious ecstasy. The Neapolitan folk songs had a wonderful charm, showing all their southern abandon in the joyous interpretation of Madame Rio. The Tosti number had passages of lace-like intricacy through which the limpid voice of the singer played like sunshine. The old English songs were full of quaintness and poetry. The "Greetings of Hiawatha" had the spirit of Longfellow's poem, and the "Will o' the Wisp" was rendered with fairy charm. In an encore, a song called "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," with true feeling for the sentiment.

Madame Rio is now assured of a high place on the operatic and concert stage, both in this country and abroad. She has sung with success in many of the musical centres of Europe, but she has always made the singer secondary to the woman who loves to sing and wants to give pleasure. Yesterday she drew hearty and ready applause from a spellbound audience, in responding to which she insisted that Miss Reilly should share. Many of the songs depended for their effect on the accompaniment and Miss Reilly proved an ideal accompanist.

AMERICAN REPLY TO FORM NEW CABINET

Answer to French and British Note Received Today

PARIS, March 9.—The Journal in its issue of today says it understands the American reply to the French and British notes concerning the blockade of Germany has been received in Paris and London.

Its contents are very much as already has been announced in American newspapers. It asks the French and British governments for detailed information as to their purposes and particularly what measures they propose to adopt to carry them out.

TO FORM NEW CABINET

M. GOUNARIS HAS CONSENTED, AT REQUEST OF KING CONSTANTINE, TO UNDERTAKE TASK

ATHENS, March 9.—M. Gounaris, deputy for Patras, has consented at the request of King Constantine to undertake the task of forming a new cabinet. It is reported that M. Gounaris, who was foreign minister in the Theodoris cabinet has consented to take that portfolio under the leadership of M. Gounaris.

M. Gounaris will submit his list of ministers to the king tomorrow. It is understood, and obtained an agreement that the chamber shall be dissolved if the supporters of the ministry are in the minority, which is considered highly probable. The new premier is expected to favor the continued neutrality of Greece.

OPPOSED TO INTERVENTION

PARIS, March 9.—M. Rialles, a former prime minister of Greece has given an interview to the correspondent at Athens of the Martin in which he says that King Constantine acted on the advice of his general staff in opposing the policy of intervention proposed by M. Venizelos. The staff was of the opinion that an expedition against Constantinople would weaken the military situation on the Bulgarian front, which in Athens was regarded as dangerous in view of Bulgaria's doubtful attitude.

LAD DIES IN CARRIAGE

NORTHAMPTON, March 9.—Philip Staab, son of Jacob Staab of Williamsburg, was found dead in a carriage yesterday at Gosport.

He was returning home from West Cummington. As the rig passed through Gosport people noticed that the horse was going slowly, and that the driver was bent over. They supposed he was asleep. William S. Gable, who was on his way to Williamsburg in an automobile, was attracted by Staab's strange position and discovered that he was dead. Medical Examiner Seymour of this city examined the body. He learned from Edward Streeter of West Cummington that young Staab was a guest at his home over Sunday and asked his adopted daughter to marry him. It is said she refused him and that he told her he would take his life unless she consented to marry him.

While it is said the medical examiner found no evidence that Staab had taken his life, he did not give an opinion as to the cause of death.

The lad's father says he had been subject to epileptic fits.

WEDNESDAY'S SUN FEATURES

"Man in the Moon," "Everyday Etiquette," "French Maid," and "Other Interesting and Helpful Articles."

The "Man in the Moon" is a contribution to "The Sun" that is always read with the keenest interest. This contributor will have an article of interest in tomorrow's edition, in which he will discuss various topics of the day.

"Everyday Etiquette" will answer timely questions of etiquette and deportment.

"The Frank Apology" is the interesting and important topic which the "French Maid" chooses for discussion in tomorrow's Sun.

"Jack's Monkey" is the title of tomorrow's "Sleepytime Tale" for the little readers of The Sun.

"In Milady's Doudoir" will discuss "Complexion Complaints."

MARY ANTIN TONIGHT

Mary Antin will give her rare and unusual lecture on "They Who Knock at Our Gates" in the First Congregational church tonight. The occasion merits a large attendance. A distinguished writer has said recently that the close of the European war is likely to impose as great problems upon the United States as upon any other nation in the world. If this one great power remains at peace, it will indeed become "The Promised Land" of which Mary Antin has so earnestly written. Would millions of people seeking a refuge here become a menace, or could they be turned to account in the industrial boom that must be somewhere ahead?

This brilliant young Russian-American woman knows more about the subject than do most professors of economics, because she has lived "within the pale." She knows the vision of the immigrant, and she also knows that his dream seldom comes true. This is the interpretation that she gives in her lecture, and it is illumined with flashes of wit and such poetry as one finds in the Psalms. To miss this lecture will be to lose an opportunity of unusual interest. Tickets on sale at the V. W. C. A. rooms and at Steiner's music store, or at the church tonight. The lecture begins at 8 o'clock.

LA TOURAINE DOCKED

RIGID INQUIRY BEGUN

HAYRE, March 9.—A rigid inquiry has been begun into all phases of the fire at sea aboard the French liner La Touraine which docked here Sunday afternoon landing safely all her passengers. Admiral Charlier of the ministry of marine and Director Duror of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique boarded the vessel upon her arrival and started the investigation at once. The report of Admiral Charlier will be submitted to the government.

Thrilling Experience

The passengers apparently were none the worse for their thrilling experience. The fire, which was confined to one of the holds, was extinguished at midnight Sunday and the last stage of the voyage was completed without incident.

No Disorder or Panic

As soon as the fire was discovered lifeboats were distributed among the passengers and the boats were prepared for instant use but at no time was there any real danger, according to a statement made by Captain Cassin, who declared the S. O. S. call for assistance was sent out merely as a measure of precaution. There was no disorder and no panic, he said, the passengers accepting the situation calmly in the belief that the fire would be conquered and that other steamers would reply promptly to the wireless summons.

Rotterdam Stood By

The steamer Rotterdam, one of the vessels which answered La Touraine's call and stood by until the fire was extinguished left the French liner at Prawl Point, England. The French cruisers Gulchen and Duquesne, which also went to La Touraine's assistance, escorted her, however, as far as Cherbourg. Other vessels which answered Captain Cassin's call were informed there was no need for their services and continued their trips after receiving the thanks of the liner's commander.

Captain's Story of Fire

Captain Cassin told the story of the fire after he had taken his vessel safely to her dock. "The fire was discovered at 2 a. m., Saturday, March 6," he said. "It was in the base of one of the ventilators of the boiler room. Heavy smoke found its way to the bridge. When the men in the boiler room sought to extinguish the blaze, which was not serious in itself, I turned my attention to other parts of the ship.

"At this moment one of the night watch reported hearing the crackling of flames forward. I ordered all the crew to their stations and as the ship was in a mist I gave directions to stop her in order to locate the scene of the blaze. We discovered flames eating their way toward the postoffice and beginning to attack neighboring cabins. We discovered that the flames were spreading to the partitions and floor of compartment number 2 so as to involve a large amount of freight. Believing that so large a part of the cargo might take fire and finding we were not able to deal with it easily, I decided to send out a call for aid. Meanwhile through holes made in the partitions we obtained a view of the fire which then was attacked with jets of water and steam. Sunday morning, the 7th, we had mastered the blaze and the danger was past.

The ship shows no external sign of the fire. It was admitted that military supplies were included in the cargo which was threatened.

made for carrying out the campaign. The meeting will be the most interesting and important yet held and a full attendance is requested.

Barbers' Union

The Barbers' union held a largely attended and interesting meeting Sunday afternoon in Trades & Labor hall, and considerable business of importance was transacted. President Michael McMullen occupied the chair and called to order promptly at 2 o'clock. Two new members were admitted, several reports were read and accepted and the union took favorable action on the labor forward movement.

Butchers' Union

The Butchers' union held an interesting session in Cotton Spinners' hall last evening with President Timothy Bourke in the chair. Quite a list of important business was transacted and a number of progressive reports were read and accepted. Several communications from the International Union of Brewery Workers were referred to the secretary for disposal. Favorable action was taken on the labor forward movement and the organization pledged to comply with all requirements made by the committee in charge of the campaign in organizing the city.

Loomfixers' Union

The regular meeting of the Loomfixers' union held in Carpenters' hall in the Runels building last night, was probably one of the most largely attended and interesting in years. President Peter Coult occupied the chair, and after opening the meeting, he spoke feelingly on the work of the departed ex-president and brother member, Edmund Seward, who was one of the oldest members of the union. In respect to his memory, the business of the session was suspended for three minutes and the charter was ordered draped in black. Several important reports were read and accepted and a number of communications from various locals were referred to the secretary for disposal. The secretary's report showed the union to be in excellent financial condition.

Organizer's Death

The death of Edmund Seward came as a great surprise to the members of the various labor organizations in this city and keen regret was shown on every hand at the meetings held last night. Mr. Seward had been a member of a labor organization ever since he was old enough to remember, and had sacrificed much in order to promote the interests of the movement. A few short months ago his ability as a speaker was recognized by the executive board of the United Textile Workers and he was made an organizer. During his term as organizer he did excellent work, and was mainly instrumental in building up a great number of locals in New Hampshire, where he was assigned on taking up his duties. He also did good work in this city and in Maynard. Falling health made him lay off for a period and his death ended all yesterday.

A few years ago, Mr. Seward was president of the Loomfixers' union. He was born in the town of Massachusetts and in many a conversation with the writer he spoke of his great friendship for Agent Mitchell, whom he considered one of the leading men of the times. He successfully piloted the union through the recent strike and in the admiration of all the members for the manner in which he handled all questions. He was a successful business man and his passing will be regretted by all who knew him.

BAD AMUSEMENT

At Paige Street church, last night, Evangelist Currie spoke on "Amusement, Card Playing, Dancing and Theatricals."

"There was never a time," said Mr. Currie, "when dancing had people by the throats as it has today. Never was there so much crime for the dance hall as there is today. The dance hall is a place of sin and shame. People say that dancing is a benefit, that it produces grace, and that it is good physical exercise. Girls could get far better physical exercise if they would wash the dishes, scrub the floor or get the broom and sweep out the rooms. Instead of sitting at the piano and letting mother do it, and boys would find more benefit from getting a bucket and digging into a pile of wood or shoveling the snow in the winter instead of leaving it for father to do, or sometimes mother.

"The hardest people to convert are the dancers. They are harder to reach than the drunkard in the gutter. The so-called modern dances which are so popular today are all of an immoral nature. There is too much dancing in the schools. There can be no dancing whatever of any class in the high schools, but it must end with dancing. There is no reason whatever why the schools should be allowed to have these dances at functions where they will tempt the children of parents who believe and whose children believe that it is wrong to dance.

"Gambling Affects Honesty

"Gambling has a bad effect on honesty. It creates a desire to cheat, to put something over on the other fellow. It creates a serious injury to the home. Many noted gamblers and liquor dealers who have been converted have testified that part of their gambling does away with the home and women who have become in later years the patrons of these places are those who have been permitted when young to see the home whilst and card parties and to take part in them. When you play for a prize there is as much of the gambling spirit as when you play for money, and I think that if I was going to play for a prize I would rather play for a silver dollar than for a silver spoon.

Church and Theatre

"The next subject is the theatre. Many folks are saying much these days in favor of the theatre, and some people are even trying to link the church and theatre together. The purposes of the church and theatre are so far apart that there is no common ground on which they could meet. The purpose of the church is to minister to the soul. The purpose of the theatre is to make money, and managers do not hesitate to put on plays of a bad moral nature in order to make money. The sign of the church is the cross, of the theatre, the rattlebox. "People are talking about clean plays and of the regulation of the stage. Edwin Booth, a great actor, tried to produce plays that would be perfectly clean and moral and lost $500,000 in the venture. The plays and moving pictures that attract the largest crowds are not of the clean and moral ones. A prominent stage critic has said that it was almost impossible for a person on the stage to live a life of purity. All actors and actresses are not immoral, but they have remained so not by the help of the stage but in spite of it. There is much talk of the so-called 'moral plays,' but it is certain that people do not go to the theatre to learn morals; they go to the church."

HORSE HAD TO BE SHOT

FELL ON PRESCOTT STREET FRACTURING LEG—HUMANES SOCIETY CALLED TO SCENE

A horse attached to one of the Barlow Market teams slipped on the car track at the junction of Prescott and Central streets shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and fell heavily to the pavement.

"For a time the driver assisted by the usual first-aid spectators attempted to draw the horse to the curb, but the animal was lifted from behind and hauled and pulled from in front but could not be gotten to its feet.

Evidently it finally dawned upon the pull-and-haul gang that the horse might possibly be injured or it might have broken its leg. At any rate they finally allowed the animal to lie down again while the Humane society's representative was sent for.

Then the amateur animal physicians in the crowd got busy. In spite of the fact that the injured horse groaned and tried to rise, however its left foreleg was touched, they were obliged to bend and twist the leg in order to give their personal diagnosis of the case.

The Horse Shot

Agent Richardson and his assistant, Frederick Gilmore, were soon on the scene, but Mr. Davis, the owner of the horse would not allow them to shoot the animal until his veterinary surgeon had examined it. Shortly after 11 o'clock Mr. Davis returned with his veterinary who found the animal had sustained a fracture of the left front leg. Accordingly Assistant Agent Richardson despatched the horse with a bullet. Pratt & Whitman were notified and the horse was removed to the rendering works.

The shooting of the horse was witnessed by hundreds of spectators who had gathered at the junction of Central, Market and Prescott streets. Officers Connelley and Grady kept the crowd at a safe distance.

MINISTRY CRISIS IN BULGARIA—

PREMIER OVERTHROWN BY KING

PARIS, March 9.—A ministry crisis has occurred in Bulgaria, according to special despatches received here. Premier Radoslawoff is reported to have been overthrown by the king, King Ferdinand, and the followers of Dr. Ghenadoff, former minister because he desired to take immediate action against Turkey by occupying Adrianople.

Radoslawoff's opponents are said to have declared this policy, which would have placed Bulgaria in opposition to Germany and Austria, was too adventurous. The principal argument reported to have been used was that the resignation of Premier Venizelos at Athens left Greece more isolated than before and that if Bulgaria remained neutral she might hope for advantages other than those she would find in Thrace.

Although this information has not been definite, it is generally believed in French official circles that Radoslawoff has resolved to march on Adrianople if Greece pronounced for the Triple Entente and that Venizelos made such an announcement at Athens when the question of intervention came up.

OBSTINATE FIGHTING MARKS

BATTLE ALONG THE EASTERN FRONT

LONDON, March 9.—Obstinate fighting marks the battles along the eastern front on the continent, with the German forces withdrawing from the river Nemen in the direction of their own East Prussian frontier. At the same time the new offensive movement against Warsaw and on the Pilsa evidently has not as yet developed into the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature recently has been the allied air attack on Ostend. In the Champagne region, where the French have been assuming the offensive lately a snowstorm has given a forced rest to the troops. It is not unwelcome, for they have been almost constantly engaged.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Lowell's war orders to date have been largely in woollens and shoes. Several of the local mills are working full time in anticipation of foreign orders.

The Carpenters' union, local 49, will meet tonight in Carpenters' hall in the Runels building with President B. B. Golden in the chair.

Patrick Flannery of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. made a tour of investigation to Shedd park on Sunday.

Frank Finnerty of the Saco-Lowell shops will spend 10 days with friends in Claremont, N. H., this coming summer.

Arthur Marshall of the A. G. Pollard Co. attended the "movies" last Saturday evening, which was his first Saturday night.

The Lowell Bleachery is still one of the busiest manufacturing plants in the city, and thousands of turkish towels are turned out daily.

Frank O'Keefe of the Lowell Fell Co. is having his twin cylinder motorcycle overhauled at a local workshop.

The next event to be conducted by the Lowell Mutual Benefit association will be the annual outing to be held in July.

A delightful party was held on Agawam street last Sunday evening by several young people employed in the local mills and factories.

Miss May Bradley of the J. F. Chaffoux Co. has returned to work after being confined to her home for the past several days with illness.

James McCreary of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. has become quite interested in the workings of the Centralville Associates.

The Westbury Girls, an organization of young ladies prominent in the social life of the city are planning many social events to be held after Lent.

A decided improvement in the business situation has been noted at the local mills, and brighter prospects are looked for during the coming summer months.

Chester J. Campbell, who is at the head of the Boston auto show has had considerable experience with mill affairs, and is well known by mill men all over the country.

John Tansey of the American Hide & Leather Co. has become a member of a prominent Belvidere social club, and his friends don't see him very often.

Joseph McDermott, the popular salesman at the A. G. Pollard Co. will organize a quartet among the employees of the store. Joe will sing first tenor.

Work on the new buildings to be erected by the U. S. Cartridge Co. in Lawrence street has been started and their completion is looked for at an early date.

Plans are practically completed for the trotter ride and dancing party to be conducted by the members of the Warren club after the Lenten season is over.

Thomas Conley of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. last announced his intentions of spending next Sunday with friends in Nashua, N. H. It's a great little town on the Sabbath, Tom.

Bill Ryan, a prominent young plumber of the city has become quite an admirer of the silent screen. Last night elicited admiration from all who witnessed his clever work.

The Appleton mills of this city which have been running full time all the year will continue their busy schedule throughout the summer months and night operations may be carried on to some extent.

Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers left for Maynard today where he will speak before the textile workers at the mill.

Eugene Lewis, a fireman at the Silas Worsted mills, North Chelmsford, it was, who shouted and frightened the safe blowers away from the postoffice during the early hours yesterday.

The employees of the Don Marche Co. are planning for their annual dancing party, which will be conducted soon after Lent, and the affair gives promise of being an unprecedented success.

Several local shoe firms would accept orders from foreign governments if they were assured of their money in payment for the shoes, but no surety will be given, it seems, and all are holding off.

Who are the employees of the machine plant connected with the Massachusetts mills positively refused to contribute to the exchequer weekly for the purpose of purchasing the essential toilet requirements? More soap, Jack?

On Thursday evening in Trades & Labor hall an opening meeting of all unorganized workers connected with the textile industry will be held and the president of the Lawrence Dyers' union will deliver the address of the principal address of the evening.

Jeddie Fahey, the genial cashier of the Wakefield office of the Hay State Street Railway Co., and a prominent member of this city, has discovered a novel way of reducing superfluous weight, which he demonstrated before his friends at the Moody club last evening.

The open meeting held last Saturday afternoon for unorganized Greek Textile operatives was very successful and 27 new members were admitted into the union. The meeting was held at the United Textile Workers' hall and the president of the union, Thomas F. McMahon, presided over the meeting and the operatives were addressed by prominent Greek business men.

Tomorrow night the ring spinners, leaders and carriers of the textile industry in this city will hold an open meeting in Trades & Labor hall and present indications point to a large attendance. Prominent labor men will address the meeting and a musical program has also been arranged for. Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers, who has strongly organized several branches of the industry since coming to this city will preside over the meeting.

Slasher Tenders' and Dressers' Union

The Slasher Tenders' and Dressers' union held its regular meeting in Trades & Labor hall last night but only business of a routine nature was transacted. The meeting was addressed by Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers and two new members were admitted. The secretary's report showed the union to be progressing rapidly.

Labor Forward Committee

A meeting of the general committee which has charge of the labor forward movement which is being carried on in this city will be held in Trades & Labor hall on Wednesday night, and it is believed that final plans will be

NERVES AND MOODS

It is absurd and very uncomfortable treatment at least once a day. You for other persons, for one to indulge in public in moods. Almost every woman has moments when she could scream or weep from sheer irritability and will power to control these moments should be exercised with extreme determination.

It is very necessary to learn how to rest properly. Do not think that change of occupation is rest for there is no greater delusion. To acquire perfect rest, settle yourself in a corner, arrange your feet and arms, and indeed your whole body, until you feel comfortable from head to foot.

Sit in this position for five minutes, motionless. Don't do anything but take long, chest developing, easy breaths. Whether you close the eyes or leave them open makes no difference, but don't move. At the end of five minutes you will feel very much rested. If possible take these rest moments twice in three times a day. At any rate force yourself to observe the

This is the guy and this is the place where the first bundle sale originated over 20 years ago, which are now being universally held all over the country. Hundreds of jewellers throughout the country have written Mr. Wood as to how he conducts his bundle sale, and how he is able to attract such a crowd. His answer: Big value in each package, to advertise, and to clean up last year's stock quickly. To make a bundle sale a success you must give the public greater value than the small price asked for the bundles would indicate. This I have always done as my record in the past will prove.

Sale Starts Friday at 9 A. M.

Be on hand early and avoid the crowd. Music and barrels of fun. You know what it means when I announce my annual Bundle Sale.

Playground for West
Centralville and New
Bridge at Tilden St.

Centralville, that portion of Lowell across the Merrimack, has rather an interesting history of its own, if one were to go deeply into the matter. The district is one of the very largest and most important of any that go to make up Greater Lowell. Previously to 1851 Centralville, or the greater part of it, was a part of Dracut and in that year Lowell was increased by the annexation of a considerable portion of the territory of the town of Dracut. In later years other annexations were made, increasing the size and importance of the district across the Merrimack.

will be taken in the near future. This means it would seem, an even greater Centralville and added importance to the "Little City Across the Merrimack."

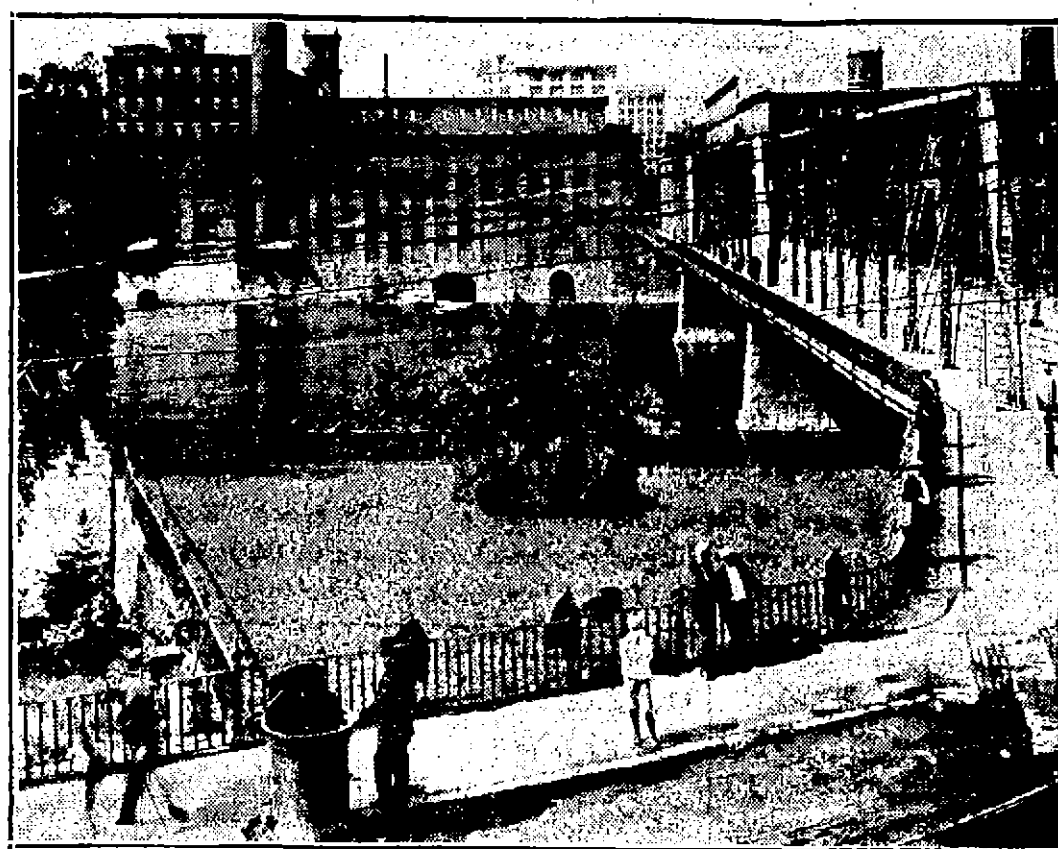

It is possible that within a short time Centralville will be the scene of real activity for it was stated this week that manufacturing concerns are looking for sites for mill buildings or suitable quarters in which to install machinery and start operations. The district is a most desirable one for business enterprises and residents are ready to offer inducements to new industries.

The entire district covers an area of 875 acres and has a population of about 25,000 made up of a thrifty and hard working element. It is figured about 40 per cent. of the residents of Centralville own their homes.

Centralville is divided into two sections, Centralville proper and West Centralville. The population of the first district is about 15,000, while that of the other is about 10,000. The district is well supplied with stores of all descriptions, and all that is really needed in the line of business now is a number of manufacturing concerns to offer greater opportunities of steady employment. Centralville is well adapted for a shoe concern and those interested in this particular line of work are in hopes that some day a good shoe shop will be started there.

Centralville proper was formerly a part of Dracut and the old Ferry Lane, which the farmers used as a driveway for leading their cattle to the river, is still pointed out near the Lakeview avenue primary school. The district has developed immensely for the past 25 years. Dwelling houses of all descriptions have been constructed, while schools and churches have been erected. There is considerable land to be developed and it is believed that during next spring and summer several cottages and tenement houses will be built. Centralville pays its share in taxes but it seems that the residents and taxpayers are not satisfied with what the city is doing for the district.

There are two parochial schools in Centralville, St. Michael's and St.

A VIEW FROM CENTRALVILLE'S THRESHOLD SHOWING CENTRAL BRIDGE AND VARNUM PARK

Louis, and both are inadequate to satisfy the demands of the parishioners. The daily attendance at St. Michael's is about 600, this being composed of boys and girls, while that of St. Louis is $10, and it was stated today the pastors of both parishes, Rev. John J. Shaw and Rev. J. R. Labrosse are making arrangements to provide more room in order to take care of the many children who are forced to attend the public schools.

St. Michael's

St. Michael's school was founded 25 years ago, and the Dominican Sisters were placed in charge. The old building, which is located in Sixth street next to the church, has undergone itself twice and on two different occasions large additions were constructed. Even with its two additions the building is too small to accommodate the children of the parish and at the opening of the school last September a large number of boys and girls were turned away for lack of room.

Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor, has recently purchased a large tract of land in Seventh street and within a short time it is hoped work will be started on the construction of a new school building. This tract of land was formerly occupied by three buildings, one of which was moved across the street to the corner of Seventh and Read streets, where it now serves as an overflow school.

St. Louis

St. Louis' school, located in Bolsovert street, was opened some eight years ago with the Sisters of the Assumption in charge. The school is for both boys and girls and at the opening of the fall term last year over 200 children were turned away on account of lack of room. When the lamented pastor of the parish, Rev. J. N. Jacques, had the building erected he thought at that time the school would be large enough for years but such was not the case, for children have been turned away for the past two or three years.

The present pastor, Rev. J. R. Labrosse, has made plans to build a new church and as soon as the building is finished ample provision will be made to care for the many children who are forced to attend the public schools against the will of their parents. The plans for the new church are not yet completed, for the pastor will confer with Cardinal O'Connell in the future, but it is his intention to erect the new structure on the land occupied by the present building and convert the present church into a parish hall. By so doing the present parish hall on the top floor of the school will be converted into class rooms, and in a few years it is probable a new school for boys will be erected on the tract of land adjoining the rectory.

Improvements

Among the many improvements wanted in Centralville is the extension of Bolsovert street, where are located the school and church. It is proposed and a petition has been circulated among the residents of the district, asking the municipal council to extend the street from West Sixth street to Lakeview avenue. The petition already contains several hundred names and will be sent to the council at once.

One of the promoters of the movement in conversation with a Sun reporter said the extension of this street is an absolute necessity. It is wanted, he said, because it will save many footsteps to children going to school and to adults as well as children going to church. People who come from the vicinity of West street are forced to go way around Ennell street in order to reach West Sixth street and that is very disagreeable. He said there are no houses to contend with and it would be a very cheap matter to push the street through to Lakeview avenue. The extension of the other end of Bolsovert street as far as Bridge street is also advocated.

Other Improvements

"What is needed in this district for the betterment of the locality," queried the writer from a group of prominent residents of that part of the city. One of them quickly said the macadamizing of Hildreth street, while another advocated the building of a new bridge across the Merrimack river from Lakeview avenue to a point opposite Tilden street.

Another said: "Give us a park and playground and electric cars across the Aiken street bridge. A new corner said it would be a cool thing if the board of health would do away with the foul smell coming from the dump. There was a number of other suggestions, such as the placing of curb stones on some of the streets, while some advocated the paving of Lakeview avenue from Bridge street to the Dracut line. Another man said he believed it is about time the commissioner of streets and highways saw his way clear to macadamize Humphrey street, which is in a very dangerous condition. A prominent business man spoke of the proposed extension of First street and said he hopes this project will be carried out.

Park and Playground

The man who advocated a park and playground said: "It is strange why the city officials are so restrained in establishing a park and playground in Centralville. There are in this district thousands of children who have no other place to enjoy themselves but the streets, where their lives are in danger every moment of the day. There is a large number of families living in blocks and fresh air is almost unknown to them, for they have no place to get it. I say it is about time something were done to relieve the situation, and the most suitable place for a playground and park is that large tract of land extending from the Aiken street bridge to Beaver brook, which is a natural park, being adorned with numerous pretty trees. If a park were to be established there it is possible that the dump, which by the way, is a very unhealthy proposition, would be done away with.

"Two years ago a petition was circulated in the district for the establishment of a park on that particular site and hundreds of signatures were placed on it. This was started by a committee from the Centralville Social club, which is our improvement society, and the matter was presented to the park commissioners, who, it is said, unanimously favored the project. The municipal council later favored the proposition and voted to purchase the land from the Locks & Canals Co., but when the new government took office, its first action was to rescind the vote of the council going out of office and Centralville is still without a park or playground."

The Malodorous Dump

When the above tract of land was mentioned another resident of the district came to the front and expressed his views on conditions about this land, which is commonly called "The Centralville Dump." He said it is one of the dirtiest spots in the city and he firmly believes no other section of Lowell would stand for it. "This time of the year," continued he, "we do not mind it, but during the hot days it is unbearable. It smokes from morning till night and from it emanates a sickening odor, which is very bad for the health. I believe the board ought to clear the district of this dirty spot. We have had it too long already."

"Speaking about the dump, it may be well to call to the attention of the board of health," said another party, "the fact that materials from the local hospitals are being burned there, and a change in such conditions of affairs should be made. Only a short time ago children who were playing on the dump or picking coal (a practice which cannot be stopped), found two human feet stuck down in the ground. The fact that at that time created considerable excitement in the district, for many believed a crime had been committed. It was not until Dr. J. V. Meigs, medical examiner, had examined the limbs that it was found they came from a local hospital. The throwing of hospital debris in a dump in a congested district is not very sanitary and it is the belief of many that such filthy material should be cremated."

New Bridge

The advocating of a new bridge across the Merrimack river opposite Tilden street is not a new project, for residents of Centralville have been talking this matter over for years. Of course the proposition would cost a considerable amount, but it would mean a lot to all who are living in Centralville, or who have business in the district. Most of the residents of that section of the city are employed in the Tremont & Suffolk and the Merrimack mills and a new bridge at the spot mentioned would cut the distance in half. Besides, it would mean a lot to all who reside in that part of the district. The question was taken up a few years ago but the project did not seem feasible at that time and it was dropped, but now it is believed the city could undergo the expense of a new bridge.

Humphrey Street

Humphrey street, which at one time was one of the best macadam roads of the city, is in a very bad condition and this, it is said, is due to the fact that the thoroughfare was never watered. When Commissioner Morse was superintendent of streets he macadamized the street, and to his credit let it be known that the job was a mighty good one. After the completion of the street a few residents objected to the watering of the street and they petitioned the municipal council to prevent the watering carts from visiting the said street. A hearing was held with the result that it was voted to have the street a "dry" one. The street was never watered and accordingly the surface quickly wore out and now the road is covered with bad holes, which are a menace to public safety.

Another Park

While the talk of a park and playground is going on in the western part of the district, the residents of Lakeview avenue and the side streets from the Central bridge to West street speak of approaching the municipal council for a playground in their locality. The old ball ground extending along the Merrimack river is the spot mentioned and all are unanimous that the place would be ideal for such an improvement. It is true that land, which is owned by the Merrimack Mfg. Co. is opened and the boys and girls are not prevented from amusing themselves, but the place is a dangerous one and many feel the city should purchase it and erect a high fence on the banks of the river.

Lakeview Avenue

Lakeview avenue from Bridge street to the Dracut line is in a deplorable condition and many hope the commissioner of streets and highways will give this thoroughfare his attention this spring. The road is paved and it is certain the pavement has seen better days. The lower end of the avenue near Bridge street on rainy days is nothing but a mud hole, while the other section is badly broken up. Hildreth street is also badly in need of surfacing. The commissioner of streets is invited to inspect West Sixth street from the pumping station to Lily avenue and he is also requested to go over this thoroughfare in his automobile and drive his car at a fair rate of speed. They do say, that if he is troubled with dyspepsia and follows the advice of the residents of the district, he is sure to find comfort after riding over the road, for the bumps and jolts he will receive will cure his illness. The street is really dangerous and should be looked after at once.

When the Hovey square line was constructed it was stated by officials of the company that if the new line proved successful within a year or two, the cars would be run across the bridge. Many who ride daily over this line claim it is as paying as any other of its kind in the city, and they believe it would be a better proposition for the company to have its cars cross the bridge. This would mean a lot for the mill people who have to walk home, rain or shine, whereas if the line were extended across the bridge many would take advantage and ride home.

As above stated Centralville is one of the most important districts of the city and ought to be looked after in a proper way. This applies not only to West Centralville, but to the other section as well. Many believe Bridge street should be macadamized as far as the Dracut line, where starts one of the best roads in the country. The small park at the junction of Bridge and First streets should be taken care of, while the First street extension should be pushed through. There are numerous other improvements which would benefit the community, but they must wait until the more pressing receive attention.

time the Bay State Street Railway Co. will again be petitioned to run its tracks across the Aiken street bridge. The residents of the district claim this is an urgent necessity and they fail to see why the company has not before this time extended its tracks across the bridge.

IMPORTANT IN BUSINESS SENSE

Trade in Many Cases Extends Throughout the City

From the standpoint of business activity as well as in size, Centralville is a most important section of Lowell. Bridge street is a veritable "main street" and on it are situated very many business firms dealing in a wide variety of lines. Lakeview avenue, Alken street, Alken avenue, Lily avenue and other streets in that vicinity in West Centralville also contain many business houses, and a great portion of their meat, grocery and provisions stores.

A glance through the advertisements in this Centralville section will give one a good general idea of the number and variety of businesses located across the Merrimack. Centralville people find these many stores very convenient on their way home. As a result of the good business policy of the proprietors, they obtain and hold large numbers of satisfied customers. Many of the business places in Centralville are active in other sections of the city and some enjoy a large patronage from every part of Lowell.

J. W. Stewart Company

The J. W. Stewart Co., plumbing and heating contractors and sheet metal workers, is a prominent Centralville firm. Its business activities, however, have extended to every corner of the city and its patronage has by no means been limited to residents of the Centralville section. The headquarters of the J. W. Stewart Co. are located at 339 Bridge street and the place receives a distinctiveness from the very large display window through which one may view a tastefully arranged interior. The Minneapolis and Honeywell heat regulators are carried exclusively in Lowell by the Stewart company. These heat regulators are wonderful time and labor-saving inventions. Attached to the heating apparatus, they automatically keep the house at just the right temperature by a thermometer contrivance. By setting the regulator at night for any time, in a manner similar to the setting of an alarm clock, one can be assured of arising the following morning in a warm room. This regulator is a great saver of fuel. It has been installed in many Lowell homes by the Stewart Co. This firm is one of the most prominent in this line of business in Lowell as well as one of the leading Centralville business houses.

John H. Burke

One of Centralville's most enterprising business concerns is the meat and grocery establishment of John H. Burke at 25-32 Coburn street, opposite West Third street. Upon entering this store one is immediately impressed by the very large and varied stock which the business carries and at the same time the visitor realizes that this stock is very rapidly and frequently turned over, so wide is the patronage of Centralville people at Mr. Burke's provision store. Mr. Burke entered into business for himself some 37 years ago and is one of the oldest meat and grocery dealers in this city as well as in the Centralville section. Previous to the opening of his own store he was employed by J. F. Callahan. Mr. Burke is indeed a representative business man of Centralville even as his store is a representative business house. He still enjoys the patronage of some people who began to trade with him at the very beginning of his career in business, a fact which speaks well for his popularity as well as for quality and prices of the goods which he sells. Mr. Burke's store has ample facilities for prompt service for customers and particularly for prompt delivery of goods. In addition to being the proprietor of a business which has enjoyed marked success, Mr. Burke is also a member of several fraternal organizations, taking active part.

Barr Engraving Company

The Barr Engraving company, 53 Beach street, is a Centralville business house whose activities reach points everywhere throughout the city and also outside of Lowell. The proprietor is Mr. Harry Barr and samples of his expert work appear frequently in "The Sun." Mr. Barr's work as an engraver has won wide commendation and he has, since going into business, enjoyed growing success. He is a strong believer in advertising and gives material demonstration of this. One of his specialties is helping customers in preparing their advertising copy, selecting appropriate trade marks, cuts, etc. His advertisement in this special Centralville section is worthy of special notice. Everyone knows that live illustrations are of great value in an advertisement and the business of the Barr Engraving Co. is to make live illustrations. In this field he enjoys an extremely wide patronage among the leading business men of the city and of points at considerable distance from Lowell in other cities. Mr. Barr is an energetic member of the board of trade of Lowell, and in every way a "Booster." Even though he makes a specialty of promptness, nevertheless his work is always more than satisfactory. Mr. Barr may be reached by phone. Telephone 2244.

Thomas J. Fitzgerald

"Fitzgerald says 'Quality First,'" is characteristic of Mr. Thomas J. Fitzgerald's advertising as well as of his business policy. Mr. Fitzgerald is one of the leading cigar and tobacco dealers of this city and has a large branch store in Centralville located at 254 Bridge street. This is a genuinely successful Centralville business, being one of a very busy chain of three stores which Mr. Fitzgerald has established in Lowell. The main store is located in Merrimack street, a short distance above city hall on the opposite side and he has another store in Middlesex street. His Centralville store is a very busy spot and enjoys a very large patronage. Mr. Fitzgerald conducts the local official Liggett and Myers premium station where cigars and tobacco tags and coupons may be exchanged for valuable articles of great variety. His Centralville store is a branch premium station. Valuable premiums are given by the Liggett and Myers company for these tobacco tags and coupons, as stated in Mr. Fitzgerald's advertisements on this section. In all of his stores, Mr. Fitzgerald makes a specialty of fine pipes, as well as dealing in all the leading brands of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. He is very well known in this city. In his Centralville store he has two Centralville boys as clerks.

First Street Garage

Another prominent and highly successful Centralville business is the First Street Garage and repair shop, which is Mr. Philip Bibeault. Mr. Bibeault holds the local agency of the Vim delivery car, a commercial motor vehicle that has won quite an enviable reputation throughout the country. The Vim is a car of 1000 pounds capacity, and in his advertisement in this Centralville section of "The Sun," Mr. Bibeault mentions the various models and their prices. During the past two or three weeks, Mr. Bibeault has been kept constantly busy demonstrating this car to prospective buyers, and his activity in this line has resulted in very many sales. The Vim is a very neat appearing commercial car, and is capable of doing a whole lot of work in a manner that is highly satisfactory. It has been highly recommended by many users, and Mr. Bibeault cheerfully refers the man who is looking for a good truck to any one of a number of the Vim cars. The prices range from $520 to $725, according to the model selected. Mr. Bibeault also deals in various motor supplies and equipment and makes a specialty of repairing. He anticipates a very busy spring season.

F. R. Strout & Son

The grocery and provision store of F. R. Strout & Son is a real pioneer in that line in Centralville, for it is not only one of the very oldest in that section, but even in the entire city. This store was established in 1842. Mr. Strout assumed proprietorship in 1878, and since that time has flourished with growing success. The proprietors are at present Mr. Frank R. Strout and his son, A. H. Strout, who has recently entered into a partnership in the business. For nearly this store was known as the "Old Centralville Grocery." The store is very well equipped in every way and employs a large force of clerks and delivery men. The firm enjoys a very large patronage not alone in Centralville, though very many Centralville residents are numbered among the customers, but in other sections of the city. Frank R. Strout & Son's store is situated at 324 Bridge street and the telephone number is 2259. At all times it is a very busy spot. The proprietors strictly adhere to their long established policy of giving the very highest quality goods at the lowest possible prices, and as a result of this their patrons have always been satisfied and the trade has been constantly increased. Prompt delivery of telephone orders is a pleasing feature of the activity of this provision establishment.

Kingsbury's Market

Another long established and thoroughly successful Centralville provision store is Kingsbury's market, located at 313 Bridge street. This market was established more than 30 years ago by John M. Kingsbury and is now conducted with equal success by Mr. Fred S. Kingsbury. This store won the confidence of a great host of customers by 25 years of unbroken prompt, courteous and in every respect highly satisfactory service. The goods which are sold are of the best quality obtainable and the prices asked are moderate. These facts denote that the store is a most economical place at which to make provision purchases. The Kingsbury market enjoys today the patronage of people who began trading there years ago when the business was first started. Mr. Kingsbury has ample resources for prompt delivery and up-to-date service in every particular. His stock embraces all kinds of groceries, meats and provisions, and he has a number of competent clerks in his employ. The Kingsbury market is truly a representative Centralville business, though its trade extends to other sections of the city, and it is one of the class of firms which has endured because of its staunch policy of carrying only the best goods and giving the best service.

Edward M. Bowers

Mr. Edward M. Bowers is the proprietor of a flourishing grocery and provision store in Centralville, known as the Water Works Grocery, situated at the corner of West Sixth and Jewett streets. Mr. Bowers is another pioneer in this business, having conducted two stores in different sections of the city, and his present store has been under his control for the past 11 years, previous to his assuming pro-rietorship having been owned by late Charles D. Washburn. Mr. Bowers carries full lines of choice provisions of every kind and has gained and retained a large host of friends and regular patrons. Mr. Bowers has for very many years been a leader and energetic worker in the cause of total abstinence, attaining prominence in the Lowell Reform club, and applying no pains nor effort to aid in the success of this temperance movement. In this field Mr. Bowers gained distinction throughout the city. Mr. Bowers is also a member of several fraternal organizations and has for eight years acted as treasurer of the Lowell Reform club. In every respect, Mr. Bowers is well known as a "Booster" and a hard worker, whose efforts have been crowned with success.

F. G. Baldwin

Mr. F. G. Baldwin is the progressive proprietor of the large store at 444-448 Bridge street where may be found large stocks of wall paper, paints, oils, varnishes, glass and hardware of every description. Mr. Baldwin's store is not only one of the very largest business houses in Centralville, but is among the leaders in this business in the entire city. He has been in business at his present location for the past nine years with marked success.

Keith's Market

Keith's market has been located at 330 Bridge street for the past 16 years. Previous to that time, Mr. Archibald J. Keith conducted a market in Lakeview avenue. All told, Mr. Keith has been in the provision business for the past 29 years, always with growing success. The people of Centralville, many of whom are regular customers of Keith's market are thoroughly familiar with the fine quality of the goods sold there and with the prompt courteous service which is always accorded them. Telephone orders are a specialty at this market and are always given prompt attention. Mr. Keith always has on hand a large stock of all provisions and his prices spell economy for customers.

Henry P. Clough

Fruits, confectionery, cigars and tobacco are the special lines handled by Mr. Henry P. Clough in his store at 185 Bridge street, corner of Fifth street, one of Centralville's busiest and most popular places of business. In addition to these lines, Mr. Clough is also a dealer in ice cream and will supply this to church parties, picnics, etc., at special rates. Magazines, daily papers, and stationery are found at this store in large and varied quantities, and Mr. Clough is agent for the laundry of Mr. George H. Russell. Success has characterized the conduct of this business from its beginning because of the fine business policy which the store follows.

Webster's Drug Store

One of Centralville's leading drug stores is the Webster drug store, located at 415 Bridge street, and specializing in drugs of every description, specializing in putting up prescriptions. Webster's pills are a product of this live store and many users of this medicine have been strong in their praise of its fine qualities. The pills have a wide sale in this city and elsewhere and are taken for constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, indigestion and other ills. Webster's drug store is a genuinely successful business firm.

Desmarais and Bourret

Desmarais and Bourret are the members of the firm of Desmarais and Bourret, plumbing and heating contractors, whose place of business is located at 720 Alken street. This company is the local agent for Richmond boilers. The members of the firm are well known throughout the city as well as in Centralville and they have extended their business activity to many places in other sections of Lowell. Their business patronage is large, and they form a representative and successful Centralville business.

George L. Hubbard Real Estate

Mr. George L. Hubbard is a prominent real estate man of Lowell with an office at 73 First street. His present location places him within the bounds of Centralville though in business he extends throughout the city and elsewhere. He has property of all kinds for sale and is well known throughout Lowell. He may be reached by phone at 2162.

D. D. Smith Fish Market

Fresh, salt and pickled fish, oysters, clams, lobsters, etc., will be found in fine quality and in abundance at the fish market of D. D. Smith, situated at 311 Bridge street. Mr. Smith makes a specialty of providing fish to hotels, restaurants and boarding houses at a reduced rate, a fact which has greatly increased his already large patronage. The Smith market is well known to everyone in Centralville.

Vina Prentiss, Millinery

The millinery and ladies' specialty establishment of Vina Prentiss, situated at 405 Bridge street, is a store that is largely patronized by the Centralville ladies. This store will have its annual spring opening showing of newest styles in the near future and invites the public to visit the place and inspect the large stock of millinery and notions. The store is widely known throughout the city as well as in Centralville.

G. H. Miller, Candy Mfr.

Among the prominent and successful business men of Centralville is Mr. George H. Miller, manufacturing confectioner and caterer. Home-made candies are Mr. Miller's specialty and he makes new loafs fresh every day. His store is located at 369 Bridge street. He specializes on large orders at reduced rates.

Noonan the Druggist

S. W. Wiggin, Coal, Etc.

S. W. Wiggin's office is situated at 25 First street. Mr. Wiggin has been doing a large business in coal, coke and wood in this city for many years and is one of the most largely patronized dealers. He has always a large stock of dry kindling on hand for immediate delivery.

Donnelly's Market

Another Centralville market that enjoys the patronage of a large number of satisfied customers is that of Emma F. Donnelly. This store is located at 565 Bridge street and carries a line of all high quality provisions at moderate prices.

George Dion's Market

A prominent business of West Centralville is the market and grocery store of George Dion, at 795-7 Lakeview avenue. Mr. Dion is a pioneer in this business in Lowell, having been established for more than 20 years. His quality, goods and low prices attract many people.

Thomas J. Fitzgerald, Premiums

Thomas J. Fitzgerald, tobacconist, conducts a live wire store at 255 Bridge street. This is a branch station for his official Liggett & Myers premium station and he invites Centralville people to bring their tobacco tags and coupons there to receive the very highest value for them. Fine premiums are given in exchange for these coupons and Mr. Fitzgerald is the official representative of the company in this city.

A. W. Cluer

Centralville's dealer in light and heavy express and driving harnesses is Mr. A. W. Cluer, whose place of business is situated at 340 Bridge street. He also carries a full line of carriage supplies, including blankets, robes, whips, combs and brushes. He has had a long period of business success.

J. B. Arthur & Co.

A long established grocery store in Centralville is that of J. B. Arthur & Co. at 401 Bridge street. Mr. Arthur is a popular resident of this section and his business life has been one of success. The store has a complete line of all groceries and is widely patronized.

E. Bertrand, Furniture

The furniture store of E. Bertrand, at 337 Bridge street, is a representative Centralville business house, doing a large business. House furnishings of all kinds are found here and Mr. Bertrand deals in both new and second-hand goods. He invites the public to inspect his stock.

W. J. Blake, Fruit, Etc.

A busy fruit, confectionery and cigar store, and one of long standing is that of W. J. Blake, 377 Bridge street. Mr. Blake has constantly on hand a large stock of the finest fruit, candies, cigars and tobacco which he sells at moderate prices. This store is popular among Centralville people.

B. Roux, Shoes

Mr. B. Roux is a leading shoe dealer of Centralville and his store is at 349 Bridge street. He has been in business for 15 years. Mr. Roux makes a specialty of repairing rubber footwear, which is a novel feature. He also does expert shoe repairing at low prices.

Robert E. Means

Robert E. Means conducts one of Centralville's most popular fruit, candy and cigar stores, at 336 Bridge St. He deals in fancy fruits, fine quality cigars and tobacco and candy. Mr. Means is a "Booster."

well fitted to his genial personality. Lolita Robertson also shows very well in her characterization. The supporting cast is far better than could be expected, and the production, has that distinctive air of being of the best kind. When one considers the ridiculous prices charged for seeing this production, it becomes a real mystery as to how the management can secure such attractions, and show them at the regular prices. But they consider it good advertising and any way, they stick to their policy of showing the best and first shown in Lowell. The five others that complete the show today are really very good, and are worthy of special mention. Tomorrow the eleventh episode of "The Exploits of Elaine" will be shown, besides a seven-reel regular performance. Be sure to follow this interesting trial, for it contains some very clever plots.

MERRINACK SQUARE THEATRE
"East Lynne," one of the favorite dramas of the present day, was presented at the Merrinack Square theatre last evening. There was a fair-sized audience and the wholesomeness of the play, together with the good work of the members of the company, was given merited recognition. The cast of characters was as follows:

Lady Isabella.....Laura Hudson
Madame Vine.....Laura Hudson
Barbara Hara.....Sadie Galloupe
Miss Cornelia Cartley, Mr. Cartley's half-sister.....Marion Chester
Joyce, maid to Lady Isabella.....Dorothy Ardie
Willie, Cartley, Lady Isabella's son.....Cecil Mason
Archibald Cartley.....Herbert DeGere
Sir Francis Levison, Sam A. McHarry
Lord Mount Severn, Lady Isabella's guardian.....Wm. H. Dimock
Richard Hark.....Stewart E. Wilson
Mr. Dill, clerk to Mr. Cartley.....Joseph Thayer
Nelson, Mr. Cartley's butler.....Frank McDonald

The play has been revised since seen in this city before, but it still retains an interesting story and is one of the best dramas of the present day for some time. The story is centered around a young woman of high social standing, whose jealous disposition causes her to suspect her husband of infidelity. She is urged to leave her family by "Sir Francis Levison," and she departs, but later learns that she was deceived. Her love for her children causes her to return home in a short time, but she plays the part of a maid. Finally, happiness is brought to the household and the curtain goes down on a pleasant scene.

Miss Laura Hudson, the new leading lady, the company, takes the part of "Lady Isabella" and her later pretension is excellent. Samuel A. McHarry is unusually good in the part of "Sir Francis Levison," while the other members of the cast, including Miss Sadie Galloupe, Marion Chester and Miss Dorothy Ardie are very good.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
"The Love Route," the big multiple reel feature at the Academy of Music today and tomorrow, is one of the strongest and most thrilling western railroad dramas ever produced on the screen, and it features Harold Lockwood, a feature film actor of fame, a story of big men in a big country doing big things is embodied in this fine drama, which is of the thoughtful, human interest and true-to-life kind. In addition to the main feature, several other reels of the finest motion pictures, always characteristic of the Academy, will also be shown. Then again, tonight is the "big night" at this popular theatre, for there will, in addition to the complete regular program, be a feature showing a contest with no increase in the price of admission. "Amateur Night" has always been a big favorite at this house and these contests, if given, should be early in order to secure a seat.

BUYING FROM THIS COUNTRY
FROM 25,000 TO 10,000 TONS OF WHEAT A MONTH
WASHINGTON, March 2.—With the Russian wheat supply cut off by the closing of the Bosphorus to merchant ships, Greece has now turned to the United States and is buying from this country from 25,000 to 40,000 tons of wheat a month, according to American Consul General Weddell at Athens.

Consul Weddell reports that all negotiations for the purchase of American wheat are made at Athens and advises sellers wishing to enter the market to appoint a local agent to represent them.

ELECTIONS IN MAINE

FIVE CITIES CHOOSE OFFICERS—THREE MAYORS EXPOSED—AUGUSTA GOES REPUBLICAN

AUGUSTA, Me., March 2.—Three republican and two democratic mayors were elected yesterday in Maine.

MAINE MAYORS ELECTED

City	Mayor	Party
Augusta	B. S. Viles	Rep.
Bangor	Frank Robinson	Dem.
Belfast	C. H. Coombs	Rep.
Bridgford	J. G. C. Smith	Dem.
Brewster	F. H. Nickerson	Rep.

This city, after having been under control of the democrats for years, was carried by the republicans. Blaine S. Viles having a majority of 198 over Niles L. Perkins. The total vote, 2248, was one of the largest ever polled in the city. The city government will be composed of 14 republicans and 10 democrats.

In Bangor, Frank Robinson, dem., was elected mayor, the vote being: Robinson, 2065; Utterback, Ind., 1555; Knapelin, rep., 1338. Utterback was elected last year by a plurality of 825 over the republican candidate in a three sided contest. The republicans continue to control the city council, 13 to 12, on joint ballot.

In Bridgford for the first time in more than 12 years and the second in more than 30 years the voters had only one political ticket from which to select municipal officers—the democratic James G. C. Smith was elected mayor for the third time, with a democratic city government.

A similar condition (except as to year) prevailed in Bangor, where Mayor F. H. Nickerson and a full republican board of aldermen were unopposed.

In Belfast, owing to troubles over a postoffice appointment, the democrats made no nominations, and the republicans gained control over the city government for the first time in nine years. Charles R. Coombs was chosen mayor by 250 ballots.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Like a good many others who patronize the man who advertises, I've been reading some of Billy Sunday's sermons that are being published daily in the newspapers, and in one of them recently, Billy told an extremely interesting story of his conversion, while a member of the Chicago team. He named the different players who were on the team with him at that time, including John Clarkson and Mike Kelly, the two most famous ball players of their time and Boston's renowned "10,000 Beauties." Sunday told how those who were not "converted" ended their days and relative to John Clarkson, he stated that Clarkson died in an asylum, a victim of the cigarette habit and that he had seen him smoke 10 packs of cigarettes in a day.

With due respect to Sunday, his sincerity, and his impassioned appeals to the emotions of his sinful audience, I would state that John Clarkson died five years ago of pneumonia and was not a cigarette fiend, and my authority is Walter Clarkson, a brother of John, and proprietor of the Walk-Over Shoe Store in Central street. As Sunday left the diamond about a quarter of a century ago, he probably has mixed up Clarkson with some other player of days gone by. But it made an impressive sermon, anyway.

Quarter of a century ago the Boston Nationals had three famous pitchers, John Clarkson, "Kid" Madden, who at that time was the youngest pitcher in the big league, and a featherweight into the bargain, and Dick Conway, of this city. John Clarkson was the greatest pitcher of his time and as Billy Sunday said of him, in his sermon, "He could throw overhand and the ball would go up, down or any way he wanted it to go. He was the only man on earth I ever saw do that." And here wasn't a pitcher since then who could present this peculiar delivery. But John wasn't the only famous ball player that the Clarkson family produced, for his brother Walter, several years his junior, has a lasting place in the hall of fame of college baseball for his performances as Harvard's crack pitcher for four seasons, while he afterward made his mark in the big league even as he is doing today in the shoe business.

Walter Clarkson is one of the few baseball players who were wise enough to quit the game at the right time, and hence today is a successful business man instead of a good old has-been with little or no prospects for the future. He began his career as the pitcher of the Cambridge High school team in 1892. Upon graduating, he entered Harvard and was hailed by the student-fans as the man who would make Yale go home. He played with the freshman team during his first years and upon becoming a junior was given a place with the Varsity outfit. He pitched for the Varsity team for four years, two of which, 1903-04 he was captain of the team. At the end of Harvard it was the annual ambition of the boys to defeat their hated rivals of Yale. It was so in Clarkson's day. The team might lose to all of the minor colleges, it could only beat out Yale all other teams were forgiven. In the four years that Walter Clarkson was on the mound for Harvard, the crimson wallowed the blue with unflinching regularity.

In Past Company

In 1904 Clark Griffith took Walter to town and for three years he held up his end with the Highlanders, except for a part of one season when New York was overburdened with pitchers, and he was loaned to Jersey City. From New York, Mr. Clarkson went to Cleveland where he played for a year and a half until one day in June 1908, while playing at Chicago, he made up his mind in two hours time, to quit the game permanently and he did so, returning to Cleveland where he entered the shoe business with the Walk-Over people.

When asked by the writer why he quit the game while at the height of his popularity and baseball ability, Mr. Clarkson replied: "I had been thinking the matter over carefully and came to the conclusion that a young man in baseball spent the best 10 years of his life in the game and if at the end of that time he hadn't come through with a lot of money he was going to find life a rocky road to travel. I figured that in the case of two young men starting out together after leaving school, one to play baseball and the other to learn some good business, at the end of the decade the average life of a professional ball player on the diamond, the business man had the income of his 10 years in business together with his business experience, while the ball player had nothing but what he had saved while playing the game, and at an age when it was rather late to start to get into business life. Unless a ball player becomes a star and draws down a large salary he should never continue in the game to the limit of his capacity as a player, for once out of the game his place in the public mind is speedily taken by rising stars and he is soon forgotten and the future holds out little of promise to him. I know of many fine ball players who, after having been in the game for 10 years, can't show $500. The history of baseball is full of great men who have never continued in the game. A young ball player of ability should go into the game with a purpose. After playing three or four years unless he has become a shining star in the baseball firmament he should quit the game and seek other fields of endeavor while he is yet in the flower of youth. A mediocre player should quit the game as soon as he can, and the great sporting writers have not imparted advice of this nature to the young generation of ball players.

A Freaky Football
As asked to relate some of his experiences on the diamond, Mr. Clarkson replied: "I read considerable about freak plays on the diamond but I participated in one, which beats anything that I have ever heard described. I was pitching one day for Jersey City, with Pete Cassidy behind the bat. There was a man at second, and the man at the bat was a slugger. I sent him up a fast one, right over the plate and he made a healthy swing at it. The bat met the ball with resounding thump that was heard all over the field. The ball, however, was not hit, but it was in the air. The fielders were scurrying the heavens but it wasn't in sight, while Cassidy was "bouncing the crab" in an effort to locate it. Cassidy dashed back to the backstop, but it wasn't there. The players looked under the benches, but there was no ball in sight. It surely had disappeared to home and scored while the batter was going around the bases at top speed. Cassidy came running back from the backstop in a state of bewilderment and as he approached the plate a fan who was standing nearby cried out: "I see it, and running back he grabbed the ball and threw it back to the pitcher. The ball had struck the plate and, bounding up into the small open space between the lower part of the mask and Cassidy's neck had stuck there. The ball was removed and when the umpire saw the situation he cried out justly: "You're out!" and the runner had to go back to second. For a minute that ball was as completely out of sight as if the earth had swallowed it up."

Lajole Made Good
"We were playing Cleveland in New York one day," continued Mr. Clarkson, "and after they had scored several runs on us I was sent in to finish the game. I had never pitched to Lajole before and like all other pitch-

RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN FROM SORE, ACHING JOINTS

What's Rheumatism? Pain only. Stop drugging! Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica liniment, which never disappears and can not burn the skin. Rub it on! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle sent to you, drug-gist, and in just moments you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. Old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

Every housewife knows how hard it is to keep dollies from being mussed if they are just laid in a drawer with other linen. A set of cases to keep them in are very easy to make and will be well worth the little they cost. Choose a design in blue and white, and a plain blue for the lining. The lining will tend to keep the dollies white and will not soil easily. Cut circles of cardboard two inches larger than the size of the dollies for which the case is intended. Cut four circles of cardboard for each case, cover two for the outside and two with the lining. Cut the goods half an inch larger than the cardboard, turn it over the edges of the cardboard and fasten with long stitches taken side to side. Then overhand the outside one with the lining in small stitches. A ribbon, covered with elastic with a buckle sewn to the edges is convenient, for in this way it can be slipped back and forth compressing or expanding the case as the dollies are used. Or they can be tied with ribbon, two pieces fastened and crossed in the center of one circle and tied over the other.

Anything that gives a barbaric touch is in great demand today and so of course heads used in anyway are greatly sought after. The silk cords, finished at the ends with tassels are used to string large heads on. The beads are held in place by knots taken in the cord above and below them, or they are held by small beads strung at regular intervals with larger ones.

Chief Saunders Promoted
While after 25 years of service many public officials begin to look over their pension laws to see how they fit their cases, others are just going ahead with the prospect of continuing in active service for years to come. Such is the case of Chief Edward P. Saunders, of the fire department, for The Sun of 25 years ago had the following: "Edward P. Saunders of the fire department has been appointed and confirmed as a lieutenant."

A Grand Old Man
Says The Sun of quarter of a century ago: "Rev. J. M. Greene of the Elliot church, observed his 60th birthday on Wednesday (March 12) by holding a reception in the church vestry. A basket of 60 pinks was presented the venerable minister. The vestry was profusely decorated. Refreshments were served."

Thus, on Friday of this week, Rev. Dr. Greene will be 55 years of age, and undoubtedly will receive many happy returns from his host of Lowell friends. Dr. Greene now resides in Pinkney street in Boston, and is an excellent health and spirits. His advanced age no longer permits him to take the pulpit or to appear on public occasions, but he takes a walk daily and is free from the painful infirmities that sometimes accompany old age. Dr. Greene is well-beloved in Lowell by people of all denominations. He is a clergyman of the old school, a forcible preacher and a sensation-alist. Kindly, amiable and charitable, a gentleman and a scholar. While in Lowell he took a deep interest in the welfare of Rogers Hall school and was always the guest of honor at its graduation exercises. Dr. Greene was installed as pastor of the Elliot church July 20, 1870, and is still its pastor-emeritus. He was graduated from Amherst college in 1853 and later from the Bangor Theological seminary. He was ordained to the ministry Oct. 20, 1857. Before coming to Lowell he was pastor of churches at Hatfield, Mass., and South Hadley, Mass. His Lowell

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS
In what women are called who all over this broad land, make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon receipts which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

Pieces of lace and soft bits of silk seem to fashion themselves without much help, into fascinating little things for the wee baby, but now that nearly everyone is knitting or crocheting and it is quite the thing to have a bit of wool in one's hands, some of my friends have been crocheting the daintiest floor rugs for baby's feet. One of these rugs was being crocheted out of four-fold Germantown wool in afghan-stitch and in shades of brown and tan. The center was of brown with a border of tan, worked with cross-stitch figures of animals done with mercerized cotton in black. Any cross-stitched pattern may be used, for the afghan-stitch, using one stitch for each cross-stitch of the pattern, is another way of being crocheted in strips of two shades of red, sewed together after the strips are crocheted. This method of course would be more easy to handle while doing the work and is quite as effective. When the rugs are finished, line them with outing flannel or elder-down in a contrasting shade.

It is nearly time now to lay aside heavy furs but one still needs some protection from the cool March winds and a muff and neck piece made from silk, lace, or tulle, are both easy to make and appropriate. A set I saw the other day was worn by a chic looking woman with glossy, well drawn back hair. It freshened her winter costume and gave an air of the coming spring to it. You may make a watermelon muff by sewing together four strips of black and four strips of sand colored satin, cut in the shape of pointed ovals, each twenty-two inches long and six inches across in the center. Interline with wide frills of lace. The neck piece is made of rectangular strips of the two materials finished at the top and bottom with frills of lace to match the muff and fastened at the side with a tassel of lace and hooks and eyes. Tulle may be used in place of satin and finished with a huge bow of velvet ribbon both on the muff and neck piece.

heads combining green, gold and blue tones on a dull blue cord are wonderfully effective as are amber and jet beads on a yellow cord. Wonderful combinations can be made and as they are not at all expensive and if done at home one can possess a number of them. Some of them are finished with a silk tassel while others are made from small beads in tassel form ending at the top with a large bead.

Quite new are the long braided chains made of flat silk cord using two contrasting colors to each strand and braiding as flat as possible. Finish each end with a tassel made by fringing the braid and fastening with a large bead.

A novel sachet for a pot-pourri jar is made of flowered net with an interlining of stiff muslin and mounted on covered cardboard. The top of the net is hemmed, finished with lace, and when filled with its pot-pourri of rose-leaves is tied with loops and loops of pale pink ribbon.

Charming little round sachets are made from chiffon or net filled with dried flowers and then quilted through the center and finished with a velvet flower. Another round sachet is entirely lingerie for it is to be worn pinned under the flimsy blouse or undergarment.

First make a circular flat pad of soft silk, filled with dried rose leaves or lavender, and over this fit an embroidered linen case edged all the way round with lace. This can be slipped out of the inner case and laundered as often as it is necessary.

Pink ribbon made into a single rose, each petal filled with rose leaves, the stem wound with green ribbon and all held in a crystal vase, makes a delightful sachet to perfume one's rooms and adds, as well, a pleasing touch of color.

A very pretty suggestion for a bride who is receiving all sorts of gifts for her "hopeshest" is a set of Turkish shawls or towels and cloths, with monogram or initials worked in French knots in one corner. If the sets are white work the initials or monograms in colors. The French knots are well suited to the Turkish towel because, when they are worn, they look as though they were woven into the towel. They should be worked rather heavily and in one corner. The Turkish towels are marked in the same manner only the initials are worked in the center and about three inches from the bottom.

White towels and washcloths, with a crocheted edge in a color to match the initials, are very effective and, when made with a ribbon of the same color, make a pleasing addition to the "hope chest" of the spring bride.

LOWELL DRIVING CLUB

INTERESTING MEETING DISCUSSED PLANS FOR COUNTY FAIR IN LOWELL

An interesting meeting of the members of the Lowell Driving Club was held last night in their new quarters near Thorndike street, with President E. E. Wotton in the chair, and the chief topic of discussion was the revival of the old-time county fair. Many important suggestions were given in reference to this undertaking and at the close of the meeting all the members agreed to do all possible, individually and collectively, to promote the project.

Present at the meeting was Allan Lowe, former horse editor of the Boston Globe and lessee of the Lowell Opera House, who spoke interestingly on this matter. Mr. Lowe said there is no reason why the Lowell fair cannot be made as much a success as the Brookline fair has been. He said it means persistent efforts and the outlay of considerable money, but the return will justify everything that is done. He closed by telling the members of the organization to acquire the best in every direction, for he said, the public may be fooled once, but it will not be fooled twice.

At the close of Mr. Lowe's remarks a motion was made to admit him as an honorary member of the club, but before the motion was put Mr. Lowe objected, saying his intention was to become a financial member of the organization.

George L. Hutton also spoke on the Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effect. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquor or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that icky feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and heavy. Note how they "clear" clouded brains and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbia, O.

AUTOMOBILE REGULATION

In a very short time the "Honk-Honk" of the auto shall be heard in the land. The air is filled with anxious anticipation. Already the odor of gasoline is blended with that of the daisies and other spring flowers and garage windows have a terrible fascination for many who have an inward craving that only the vibration of the throbbing engine can cure. Auto intoxication is literally and figuratively upon us.

There was a serpent in Eden, there are thorns with roses, and there are automobile laws to temper the enthusiasm of the speed maniac. Those who are compelled to walk while others ride once again remember that the right to life and liberty is an inalienable American right and they clamor for more stringent rules to curb the speed epidemic; reasonable autoists call for regulations to curb the road hog; all automobilists ask for co-operative regulations to take some of the torture out of interstate touring. On the one hand the claim is made that we have too many conflicting laws and petty local regulation, and on the other, the counter claim is advanced that in the maze of auto regulation the safety of the public is not conserved, and that consequently we need one wide sweeping law or group of laws which will make auto regulation more effective and more just.

While Massachusetts is thus trying to devise some way out of the maze of difficulties presented respectively by auto enthusiasts and auto victims, Maine is about to pass a bill which seems to be the best yet framed towards the settlement of automobile problems in any state. The bill contains amendments to existing automobile and highway laws. It has been drawn up very carefully, covers every phase of the subject and seems to meet with general commendation. Many of its requirements will be sanctioned by autoists in Massachusetts and elsewhere as the abuses it would offset have interfered with drivers and owners from all states, and been the occasion of gross injustice.

If the new bill becomes law, any automobilist entering Maine will find a realization of the driver's dream—uniform speed regulation under state auspices. Official signboards will be erected at leading points which will give the speed limit in plain letters and figures. All changes along the route will be indicated by additional signboards. This will do away with the petty graft that has operated against traffic in Maine and New Hampshire, and even in parts of Massachusetts. In some parts of Maine a limit of six miles an hour was enforced, with the result that autoists unconsciously offended daily, only to be haled before the local authorities. Usually the trial would be set ahead ten days or so and the offender was let out on bail. Rather than lose valuable time or come back great distances the autoist would forfeit his bail and get out of Maine as quickly as his car and the speed laws would let him. The country constables and bail commissioners seemed to be quite satisfied with such an outcome of an arrest and violating autoists were, as they were meant to be, prolific sources of easy revenue.

While in the Maine bill the law is made as fair as possible for the automobilist, the penalties for breaches of regulation are strict and there is little opportunity for a misunderstanding by anybody. If there are no official signboards on a highway, no automobilist can be arrested unless he exceeds a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, and in crowded sections—which are defined—he must limit himself to 15 miles per hour. Any violator who is arrested for a breach of any of the regulations will be given an immediate trial, and if he fails to appear in court at the time specified, he will lose his license and the registration of his car will be annulled. The bill provides that at all times the speed must be "reasonable" and any citizen shall have the right to complain of a reckless driver to the secretary of the state who will give the complaint immediate consideration. The bill seems like a workable solution of a problem that Massachusetts must meet in the near future.

STREET CONSTRUCTION

A recent issue of the Municipal Journal had several articles on the paving problems of leading cities, the sense of which seemed to be that the continual tearing up of streets and cutting into sidewalks for one purpose or another is one of the greatest difficulties connected with proper street maintenance. In the case of one city, it is claimed that more than 2 per cent of the entire paved area was cut out in one year. The cost of repairing the cuts of that one year was $300,000, which does not include the additional cost that must follow: repaired streets and sidewalks cannot be expected to last as long as those that have been left in their original finished condition.

The practice is now growing generally throughout the country, to make those who cut into streets and sidewalks not only pay in full for the damage but repair in as thorough a fashion as possible. In the past there was a lack of co-operation between city authorities and private companies, and work was not laid out with any degree of scientific preparation. Consequently, some public service corporation or some other municipal department desiring to rip up a street for something or other would often make application soon after the repair of a street or sidewalk, and the street would be marred, thereby incurring a large waste of money. Now there is an apparent desire to avoid such a condition, and the fullest co-operation should be fostered, so as to eliminate waste and duplication of effort.

The constructive program announced officially for our street department is most gratifying, but it will be found that after the spring rains and thaws, flaws in street repair will become manifest, necessitating attention to details now unforeseen. Here and there imperfections will appear, small at first but growing in magnitude if neglected. Now is the time to set aside a repair gang as advocated by The Sun for the scientific repair of streets and pavements. To repair properly is one of the essentials of modern street maintenance.

THOUGHT IN BUYING

Everything in the country is systematized except retail buying. That is a lost art, or more probably it never was an art at all. Our development in every line is a slow process. We expend our greatest energies on the trivial, while we reserve for the important, the vital, our minor thought and inferior forces. We fall into the pernicious habit of throwing our money at anybody who will take it.

Is there anything that touches more intimately the life of the household and is there anything that as a rule the situation in parts of that unhappy country are worse than in the wildest days following the killing of Madero. In Mexico City the greatest lawlessness prevails and there are many stories of terrible excesses. Priests and nuns have been subjected to all manner of indignities, churches have been desecrated and appropriated by the powers that rule, hundreds have been mysteriously killed. General Obregon, friend and ally of Carranza, seems to have beaten Villa at his worst, and there is no hope of permanent or even temporary peace.

Meantime Secretary Bryan declares that the outlook is "serious but hopeful." Alas, it has been hopeful to the secretary for a long time, and with his habit of imagining beautiful and peaceful things, probably no Mexican situation would or could strike him as hopeless. If Mexico faces a hopeful future, the mental training of most of us has been sadly neglected. Few, outside of the circle of the administration are hopefully impressed with the Mexican outlook, though all pray for peace. At this time, most Americans are ready to admit that President Wilson prudently steered the country through a terrible crisis, but a serious mistake was made in showing preference to one Mexican bandit above another. The tacit support of the administration, if it did not directly induce the present outrages, certainly did not discourage them. If there is any hope, it is that Mexico must soon be so weary from blood letting that it must have a rest. Anarchy run to seed may be the beginning of Mexican sanity, while the people of the United States watch and pray, letting Secretary Bryan do most of the hoping.

GREECE Wavers

The effect of the partial success of the allied fleets along the Dardanelles is already evident in the popular unrest in Greece which is stirred to the depths by the plight of her ancient enemy. King Constantine is desirous of maintaining neutrality, at least for the present, but the premier who has just retired and in all probability the populace are in favor of immediate war against Turkey. The participation of Greece would probably be followed by war in Bulgaria, Rumania and Italy as the fall of Constantinople would affect the future of all these powers. Greece is intensely patriotic and its people are always ready to respond to the call from their king, but so deep is their hatred of Turkey and their sense of resentment against Turkish rule that regardless of consequences they would sanction a war against Turkey at any time. The king, however, and many of the leaders, have to consider future contingencies which might make matters worse for Greece than in the darkest days of Turkish rule before declaring war. If the allies succeed in their attack on Constantinople there is little doubt that war will spread to the entire Balkan belt, each nation being anxious to conserve its own interest in the division of the spoils. It is not strange that King Constantine hesitates though he may not hesitate long.

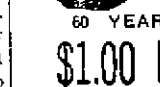

Once in a Lifetime a Trip Like This

There are two wonderful Expositions in California this year and rail rates will be much reduced. You can get the most out of your trip to California by including the marvelous ride through the Colorado and the West. There are several ways of taking it all in, but only one best way, without extra expense and inconvenience.

Everybody knows that the Burlington Route (C. & Q. R. R.) is the standard, highly equipped "On Time" railroad to Denver, but if you want to see the most of the country, you must take about our through service to California, passing in daylight, Denver, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, Pueblo, the marvelous Royal Gorge and Salt Lake City.

And then I can tell you about coming home by way of either Glacier National Park or Yellowstone Park. In fact I can help you plan your trip and suggest the most comfortable, interesting and economical way of going and returning. That is, you can let me do it for you. I will call on you at any time, or shall be glad to see you at my office. Write, telephone or call.

NORTH CHELMSFORD ROBBERY

The robbery of the North Chelmsford postoffice Sunday night was one of the most daring outrages perpetrated in this vicinity for a long time, and under existing conditions there is little to prevent its repetition. In fact, a band of looters seems to regard the federal postoffices as a source of easy treasure, not only in North Chelmsford but in all the towns and villages of this part of the country, and the annual loss to the government from this source must be enormous. For a long time, residents of North Chelmsford have declared that the police protection there is wholly inadequate and those who read of the robbery will not doubt it. In the midst of a residential section a band of robbers brazenly caused explosions and got away with a large sum of money while helpless spectators telephoned to the Lowell police department. It will probably take some further crimes of a similar nature to show the town and federal authorities that to leave large sums unprotected in town and village postoffices is to invite robberies and kindred crimes.

If all those bombs that have been dropped on Ostend were effective, there would be no Ostend but a number of holes in the ground. The news has a

If Peevish, Feverish and Sick, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a tea-spoonful, and in a few hours all the food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love the harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

SIGNS OF SPRING

One of the indications of the approach of spring is the appearance of grass fires and the calls that are heard made under the fire department to keep them under control. In spite of the laws that have been made in regard to setting of such fires, it is to be expected that there will be a number of them before the season is over. Over the years there have been in the suburbs many fires that have been caused by the careless growths of the fire to spread to the dry grass and the trees. A little care and a little common sense would save a lot of trouble to the firemen and a lot of expense to the taxpayers. Another pretty good sign that the spring is here is the fact that a snake has been killed down in Hingham. The frogs have not yet begun their spring music, however, and until they do, there are a lot of people who will refuse to be convinced.

Everyone Admires This

Good-Looking Woman

Wherever you go you hear people comment upon a pretty woman and it is really beautiful hair more than perfect features that give her the appearance of charm, youth and beauty.

Any woman can merit this praise, for beautiful hair is only a matter of care. Just as a plant needs attention and nourishment so must the hair have care and attention to make it grow long, thick, soft, fluffy and lustrous. The scalp must be free from dandruff, and the hair roots properly nourished, as nature intended.

Parlison Sage, which is delicately perfumed and easily applied is just what is needed. It tones up and invigorates the roots of the hair and furnishes the necessary elements to make it grow long, soft, abundant and full of life.

One application of this scientific tonic removes every trace of dandruff and cleanses the hair of dust and excess oil.
Why not start now to beautify your hair by using Parlison Sage, the great tonic treatment? It is inexpensive and easily applied at home. It can be had at any drug counter, and will surely work a miracle even if the hair is dandruff, oily, faded, streaked, dull and lifeless.

"I Won't" hates books and slates.

So the seasons come and the seasons go, in their never-ceasing race, And each little boy, now a stalwart man, in the busy world finds his place.

"I Will" with a courage undaunted
Tells, with high and resolute aim,
And the world is better because he lives, and he gains both honor and fame.

"I Can't" finds life an uphill road; he faints in adversity.
And spends his life unloved and unknown in hopeless poverty.

"I Won't" opposes all projects and plans, and scoffs at what others have wrought.
And so his life is idleness wrapped in lies and is soon forgot.

GAMBLING CASE A FIZZLE

DISMISSED BY A JURY AT PALM BEACH—EX-MAYOR FITZGERALD MENTIONED

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 8.—The state's case against John H. and Edward Bradley, arrested on warrants which alleged they had allowed Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and others to gamble at the Beach club, which they own, fizzled out last night. One detective testified he had seen gambling there. Of the 22 prominent men for whom subpoenas had been issued, only three were served. New subpoenas were issued yesterday for John Pullman of Boston and Steven Utman of New York, but the sheriff could not locate them. It was said that most of those concerned had gone fishing.

The jury therefore dismissed the complaint and the machinery of the law ground out a sort of byproduct by finding Col. James M. Schoonmaker, vice-president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, and A. H. Gleason, a New York lawyer, $35 each for contempt of court because they failed to show up at the closing session of the jury, though they testified Saturday.

James T. Fitzgerald, brother of the ex-mayor, left for Boston last night. He said: "A great mistake was made in naming my brother in the warrant. He was not even a frequenter of the Beach club, although I think he went there once to a dinner. Neither was my brother Henry. On the contrary, went there quite a good deal, and think the detective who summoned them and ignored me got us mixed up."

FAVORS FOR A PARTY

"I am going to have a bridge party at home this week, Marie," began Marjorie, "and I want to give some little favor to each girl present aside from the regular prizes. Can you suggest anything?"

"I think I have the very thing," replied Marie. "Why, not make some Sweethearts?"

"Whatever are Sweethearts?" responded the puzzled girl.

"Sweethearts are the pretty little or chiffon bags cut in the shape of a heart, filled with lavender and not poured and tied with little bows of ribbon at the top. To make them, take but a few minutes after the pot pourri is made. Rose petals may be bought at this time of year at any druggist's, or if you can get the rose petals at a hot-house you can prepare them yourself.

"Pack the rose petals in a jar in layers two inches deep, sprinkle two tablespoons of dry salt upon each layer. Continue this until the jar is full, adding fresh petals and salt daily.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

THE BOSTON AUTO SHOW

LOWELL DEALERS PLEASED WITH THE EXHIBITS AND THE BUSINESS RESULTS

Mechanics building, the place chosen for the 1915 automobile show, was crowded yesterday by the thousands who gathered there to see the greatest of all automobile exhibits ever shown in New England. From the very start of the show Saturday afternoon and during Monday and today there was an incessant influx of visitors to this motor car display, and in this mighty crowd there was a goodly number of visitors from Lowell. It is safe to predict that Lowell will see but very little of the local dealers before the end of the week. "It has been a leisurely throng that has attended the show; no one seemed to be in haste to leave, so many and so great are the objects of interest, to attract the eyes and minds of the visitors."

Among the Lowell dealers the universal plan seems to be to have a Lowell representative ever present at the space in the car for which he is agent. In this way any visitor from here will have a chance to talk to men of whom they have at least heard if they do not know them personally. "Society Day" will be tomorrow, and as doubtless is universally the custom, on this day there will be a multiplicity of reasons why there shall be a record breaking attendance at the show."

Sawyer Carriage Co.
"Sisco," a Swedish spring steel of very recent manufacture, is used by the Sawyer Carriage Co. In all its spring work. This steel has been fully tested by experts of the United States government, who have pronounced very favorably upon it and they show proofs that it is 15 per cent more efficient than any other steel.

On the floor of the Sawyer Carriage Co., Worthen street, four machines are displayed and are being thoroughly overhauled by the experts at work there. "This is about the season when there is a waiting list in the painting dept. of the Sawyer Carriage company. Paul Chandler, manager of this shop, states that although he has his complete force hard at work, he predicts that the waiting list will soon start."

Boston Auto Supply Co.
Joe McGarry, the well known manager of the Boston Auto Supply company, Bridge street, spoke very enthusiastically of the Boston Auto show which he attended yesterday. Joe said that the decorations alone were so beautiful that no one should fail to miss the show, not even those who might not be greatly interested in automobiles; that one's love for the beautiful should be sufficient incentive to bring people from far and near to this beautiful scene. Speaking of the cars displayed, Joe said that it far surpassed any of the previous years. At the Boston Auto Supply Goodrich tires are a big seller. During the past few days, Joe has sold quite a number of this popular make of tires which he so cheerfully recommends. Joe said his shop is headquarters for Goodrich tires.

One of the attractive features of the show is the display offered by the form of an armored car completely equipped with guns, turret and all the martial equipment such as is in use at the present time in the European war.

The Cadillac Light has its customary place of prominence at the show. Elevated on the stage in the main hall, it has attracted much attention and has elicited a great deal of comment and admiration.

George R. Dana reports the sale of several used cars and the sale of a 1915 six-cylinder Buick to John J. Conway.

SAVING SECONDS IN AUTO MAKING
Splitting seconds on the time required for automobile production is a development of scientific manufacturing which, in some of the big Detroit plants has been brought to so systematic an application as to affect radically the time of the product, through the saving of labor involved in the various processes.

The man with the stop watch roams about through the factories. Unobtrusively he times the fraction of a second, the various operations. Those which, to his mind, imply the waste of a single moment, become the subject of thought, deliberation and conference.

Changes in methods are determined on. These changes may imply new equipment. They may even demand the designing of an entirely new machine tool, but this is unhesitatingly done, if the expense will save time, for seconds become minutes and grow into weeks, in the process of a year's continual operation.

One of these men stood for more than an hour not long ago, watching a highly specialized machine mill to mathematical smoothness the face of an aluminum casting. The entire tool was enclosed in a big sheet iron box, for a flow of oil was being constantly played on the part where the cutting was in progress.

The man with the watch stood by while the workman opened the door of the box, took out the completed piece, clamped it in another, and started the tool. He noted that the time during which the tool stood idle was exactly equal to that employed by the milling operation. While the tool was at work, the tender stood by with nothing to do.

The efficiency man went away to report. That day the order went out for a duplicate of this milling machine. In a few days it was set up alongside the machine in use. The tool had become a twin.

With one day's practice, the workman in charge learned to load one of these machines, while the other was at work. The tool and the man were constantly busy. Production there was cut in half.

In some departments, one workman tends six machines. Labor cuts of this sort enable manufacturers to materially reduce selling price. At the same time, wages have been increased, due to the increased earning power of the workmen. The reduction of the number of employees enabled Studebaker to centralize the work in the hands of the most competent.

HEAVY MOTOR TRUCKS

Heavy motor truck investments are now accentuating the optimistic spirit which prevails in many important lines of business. The persistence with which trucks are now bought by big concerns must be regarded as an expression of confidence in general business conditions. The activity of the motor industry is now looked upon as a mirror of trade conditions. By their readiness to make heavy investments in motor trucks, many representative concerns have shown that they are preparing for a big improvement in business very soon. At the same time they have recognized the motor truck as a big economic factor in business.

CHALMERS' FACTORY

"We have never lost a sale to any prospective purchaser of an automobile who has visited the Chalmers factory in Detroit and seen these cars in the making," said Jack Hogan, the local Chalmers dealer, the other day. "Every day finds visitors from many parts of the country making a tour of the great plant in Detroit. Among the most recent distinguished visitors was Elbert Hubbard, who after thoroughly inspecting the factory, placed his order for Chalmers 'Master Six' Torpedo. Mr. Hubbard plans to use this car for himself and Mrs. Hubbard. On the occasion of his recent trip, Mr. Hubbard expressed his surprise at the growth which the Chalmers factory has shown since he last visited Detroit. He mentioned particularly the famous 100,000 Chalmers 'hill' which in reality is the dynamometer test that scientifically measures the efficiency of every car before it leaves the factory. He was deeply interested also in the giant press which was installed at a cost of $75,000 for making the graceful molded oval fenders which are a feature of Chalmers cars. "The rigorous methods of securing accuracy and testing every part to see that it measures up to the absolute standards of perfection caused favorable comment on the part of Mr. Hubbard. This is a feature incidentally that has helped to give the Chalmers factory the reputation for turning out a product of such a high standard as to cause the Chalmers company to adopt the slogan 'Quality First.'"

BETTER FIRE PREVENTION

N. E. Insurance Exchange Lays Down Scale of Improvements Demanded

At the request of the committee on fire prevention of the Lowell board of trade, the New England Insurance exchange, has issued a list of the improvements which Lowell must make in its fire protection before it can attain the eminence of being rated in Class A, which is a rating that gives a city the rank of 100 points and it refers principally to dwelling house risks, as mercantile and factory risks are rated individually although the class A will have much to do in establishing the basic rate for the city.

The statement is as follows:

CITY OF LOWELL, MASSACHUSETTS

Requirements necessary for grading as a first class city.

Pumping Station

1. Automatic sprinklers to be installed throughout all pumping stations.

2. Standard fire doors bearing the label of the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. to be installed at the various sections of the West Sixth street station.

Pressure

3. The new 24-inch main, while furnishing increased volumes, will not sufficiently increase the flow pressure so as to be classed as standard.

4. The only practical manner in which this deficiency can be met is by the installation of sufficient pumping engines which would be considered a partial offset for this deficiency. (See engines under fire department.)

Pipes and Valves

5. The high service force main should be in duplicate, and additional pipes, installed as recommended in the report of the national board of fire underwriters.

6. All dead ends to be eliminated and cross-overs connected and the gridiron completed wherever practicable. (See engines under fire department.)

7. All 3-inch pipe to be replaced with 6-inch or larger as soon as practicable.

8. Additional gate valves to be installed so that no single case of breakage will result in the system. In the mercantile or manufacturing districts will necessitate shutting off a length of main greater than the side of single block for a maximum of 500 feet, or in any other districts length greater than two sides of a single block with a maximum of about 500 feet.

Hydrants

9. All hydrants installed in the future to be provided with 4 1/2-inch outlets in addition to the 2 1/2-inch and to be of the post type in preference to the flush type.

10. All hydrants installed in the future to be provided with a gate valve in the branch line and all existing hydrants at present in the important mercantile and manufacturing districts to be so equipped.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Man

11. The number of paid men in the fire department to be increased from 123 to 170, by the addition of new apparatus, and bringing present companies up to standard.

Engines

12. The present pumping engine equipment to be replaced and added to so as to make a total of three 900 gallon engines and six 750 gallon engines, all to be in active service and preferably motor driven.

Hose and Chemical Companies

13. The present equipment to be revised so as to consist of six combinations and six plain hose wagons, all motor driven, hose and minor equipment being installed in accordance with the requirements of the recent national board report.

Efficiency

14. Improvements carried out in the preceding items under fire department would allow full credit to be given under efficiency.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

The local high school team has yet to meet defeat on its own floor this season. Although a reverse threatened them for a time Saturday night the boys managed to slip over a win against the Boston English high aggregation.

The high school track team this year is an evenly balanced group of athletes. There are no particularly brilliant stars on the team although Randall in the mile and Cunningham in the hurdles, are as good as any of the schoolboys in New England on the local track.

South Boston high, the school which won the championship of the Boston high schools, is booked to appear here in a couple of weeks and the winner of this dual meet will be hailed as the champion high school track team of the state. It was for this reason that so much stress was put on last week's victory with Boston English.

Gardner Brooks and Phiney Doyle are living up to the expectations of their Lowell friends. Both boys are going along at a great clip under their New York management and the fans of the clubs where they have already exhibited their jobs and hooks are enthusiastic over them.

Brooks' two victories last week have given him a big boost. Although there was no decision in his bout with Sammy Dickson, the newspapers gave Brooks a wide margin and a win, a shame the way that the local boy handled Kaufman Saturday night.

In a communication to the writer Brooks states that both in his and Phiney have been signed up for several battles on the strength of their performances.

It looks as though perhaps the job of secretary in the New England league would cease to exist after this year. Judications seem to point that way at least.

Phiney Doyle is appointing the umpires himself this season. Previous to this year the league secretary hired them. If Tim appoints them he will probably assign them as well. And with this job out of the way there doesn't appear to be much for a secretary to do, except send postcards around in the magnates when there's a meeting called.

Although the balmy breath of spring is making itself felt occasionally bowling still continues to be popular. In fact the warm days, which we have had thus far have not dampened the ardor of the strike and spare aspirants in the slightest.

The alleys have enjoyed a great run this winter. Bowling has been more generally taken up during the past few years than ever before in this city, we make free to say.

The cause is probably the lack of any other sporting diversion. While we all appreciate the fact that bowling is a clean, healthy sport yet if boxing or polo or some other winter sport should here, the alleys would not be so thickly populated.

Wrestling has not proved to be much of a drawing card in Lowell this winter. Although the boys have tried to make the sport as they once did and it

SLEEPYTIME TALES

BY VIRGINIA VALE
FOR THE LITTLE READERS OF THE SUN

THOUGHTFUL GODFREY

Once upon a time there were two boys who were great friends. Godfrey was three months older than Harold and felt at least six months older. Both of the boys were fair with blue eyes and were often taken for brothers which pleased them very much.

One day Harold told his little friend that he didn't feel very well and he was going home, so Godfrey said he would go with him and they would play in the house if Harold wanted to. When it was time for Godfrey to go home he said: "I will call for you tomorrow and I will race you to school, for you will feel all right then."

Harold said: "I hope so, but I feel pretty badly now."

The next morning when Godfrey went to call for his friend, Harold's mother met him at the door and told him that Godfrey had scarlet fever and that he could not play with him for a long time. Harold was not very ill but he had to stay in the house and none of his friends could come and play with him. It was pretty lonely without Godfrey to play with and Godfrey missed Harold very much too.

One day Godfrey went to Harold's house and very carefully whistled under the window of the room in which Harold was sick. In a second Harold was at the window and they whispered together for a long time. The next day and the next Godfrey whistled and Harold came to the window and they talked together, Godfrey telling the sick boy all the news about their other friends.

"I tell you Godfrey, it is pretty lonesome all day up here and I can't have many of my toys to play with," said Harold.

Then Godfrey thought to himself, I guess it is lonesome. I know I wouldn't like it, and then a bright idea came to him and he called out: "Hey, Harold, wait a minute," and off he ran down the street as fast as he could.

Harold waited at the window, wondering what his friend was doing and in a few minutes he saw Godfrey running up the hill toward the house with something under his arm. What could it be, he wondered. He didn't have to wait long for Godfrey soon came under the window and called out: "Hey, have you got a string? If you have let one end of it down."

Harold found one and let it down and Godfrey tied on a bundle. When Harold pulled it up he found a nice wooden boat which Harold told him had been bought with his own money. "So you would not be lonesome while I am in school," he whispered.

Harold soon got well, but he never forgot his thoughtful friend when he was sick.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Joe Eagan and Terry Brooks will furnish the fireworks at Lenox A. C. of Gloucester next Monday night in a 12-round bout. Eagan will have to weigh in at 145 pounds, while Brooks picks a terrific wallop in his right glove that spells slumber when it connects.

Joe Carroll and Eddie Salmon meet in the semi-final to the Joe Goldberg-Larry Burns tussle at Lawrence Thursday night. Carroll has improved wonderfully during the past year, only losing one verdict, that to Tommy Carson.

Steve Kennedy will probably meet Willie Beecher at Lawrence in a few weeks. Kennedy has been training for the past three weeks and averse he will be in top-notch form when he meets with the high class performer from New York.

Joe Goldberg and Larry Burns have been matched to meet in Lawrence Thursday night in the main bout of twelve rounds. The mill will take the place of the Mike Glick-Ed Fleming affair which was called off two days ago. Goldberg is the lad who defeated Harlem Eddie Kelly Monday night in New York at the same show in which Phiney Doyle won from Young Rector.

Johnny Griffiths, who beat Champl-

on Freddie Welsh at Akron, O. recently in a no-decision contest will have a chance to duplicate the trick at Pittsburgh, March 18. Griffiths made the showing in Australia last year, defeating the pick of the Antipodes, while he did not meet with a reverse.

Out in Columbus, O. they think that Johnny Harvey who made Matty Baldwin say enough at Bridgeport, Conn. is a chap who will eventually wear the championship title. Johnny defeated Sammy Trout, one of the best boys of the middle west, the other fight and the fans are wild about his work and want to see him pitted against some top notchers. He will box Johnny Griffiths shortly in Akron, O.

Jimmy Coffey, the Dublin giant, who beat Arthur Pelky in four rounds last week is one of the best drawing cards in New York. Every time he is scheduled to appear, the house is jammed long before the principals enter the ring.

Walter Butler and Charley Rivers will entertain the fans at No. Abington, Thursday night when they look up in a ten round swat-fest. Butler has two wins over the South Boston boy already and Butler's friends say it will be three when the smoke clears on the North Abington battlefield.

BOYLE WON BOUT IN NEW YORK

Defeated Young Rector of Jersey City Last Night

Lowell Boxer's Work Was Revelation to the Fans

PHINEY BOYLE

Phiney Boyle of this city won his 10-round bout with Young Rector of Jersey City last night at the Olympic A. C. of New York in one of the most sensational affairs which that club has witnessed for some time. According to accounts of the go the Lowell boy won by a big margin.

The seventh round last night was a revelation to his opponent while his work at close range had Rector all but out on several occasions. Phiney outboxed as well as outlasted his man in every round of the bout.

The local ringster was the aggressor from the first tap of the ring and kept after his opponent every minute. In the second round a series of left jabs and right crosses all but put Rector to sleep.

In the final round Boyle showed at his best. The Jersey lad could do little more than stall while Phiney kept shooting rights and lefts into every vulnerable spot. There was no doubt in the minds of any of those who witnessed the bout that the Lowell boxer was far and away the class of the bill at last night's Olympic A. C. show.

soon as records can be compiled. Date of banquet will be published next week if possible.

Blaney, public works commission; D. J. Conroy, Dr. H. K. Foster, trustees of Peabody Institute.

License—Yes, 1140; No, 1406. Last year: Yes, 1699; No, 1272.

Defeated For Constable in Rockland. He Automatically Is Deposed as Chief of Police

ROCKLAND, March 8.—Michael E. Stewart was automatically deposed as chief of police last night when he was defeated for constable in the town meeting by John Pucella. He has held the office several years and his contest for re-election was one of the causes for the meeting being the biggest in the history of the town.

The meeting started a week ago to-night, adjourned to Wednesday, again to Friday and again to last night. Sixty-three articles were disposed of, one being the acceptance of the state statute to include the town in the Metropolitan fire district.

Officers elected: James A. Cody, Barlow, E. Fitzgerald, Mark W. Murrill, selectmen; E. R. Studley, town clerk; J. S. Gray, treasurer; James A. Cody, Bartholomew J. Fitzgerald, Mark W. Murrill, overseers of the poor; George W. Wood, assessor; Charles J. Higgins, tax collector; Mrs. Helen M. Hayden, school committee; John B.

VOTES SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Wellesley Unanimously Approimates $150,000 to Begin Project to Cost About $600,000

WELLESLEY, March 8.—In one of the quietest of town meetings the citizens last night unanimously voted to construct a sewerage system in connection with the Metropolitan South system near the Dedham line.

The sewerage question has been a live issue here for years. Last night the citizens' committee of three in its report cited an engineering authority to the effect that in the center of the town, within 200 yards of town hall, there is pollution that menaces the public health because of the lack of a proper town system.

The meeting appropriated $150,000 to start the work; it is expected that the whole cost will be about $600,000.

Of the other appropriations, which totaled $155,778.58, the principal were: Town officers, $1700; schools, $49,500; board of health, $3500; library, $2500; highways and bridges, $17,000; fire department, $5600; police, $1750; suppression of moths, $4500; recreation, $3400; shade trees, $1600.

MORE PAY FOR FIREMEN

Reading Votes to Pay 28 Call Men $75 Instead of $50 a Year at Town Meeting

READING, March 8.—At an adjourned town meeting last evening it was voted to increase the annual pay of 28 call men of the fire department from $50 to $75.

These appropriations were made: General government, $11,700; police, $5700; fire department, $6475; suppression of moths, $4500; board of health, $3500; highways, bridges and sidewalks, $18,405; charities, $3200; aid to widows with dependent children, $1500; schools, $15,000; libraries, $2525; cemetery, $1200; recreation and celebrations, $542; forest warden, $700; tree warden, $500; concrete sidewalks, $1500.

The town also appropriated $2250 for continuing the macadamizing of Lowell street provided the state will appropriate a similar amount.

GOING TO LOWEST BIDDER

Winthrop Authorizes Selectmen to Contract For Ash Collection—Record Town Meeting

WINTHROP, March 8.—At one of the largest town meetings ever held in Winthrop 15 articles were disposed of last night and 10 postponed. A total of $397,141.92 was appropriated, $28,236 for school purposes.

The matter of collection of ashes, which has been a bone of contention, after much discussion was left to the selectmen to award a contract to the lowest bidder.

BOSTON, March 3.—Beaten to the floor with a blackjack by one of two burglars he surprised on the first floor of the house at 16 Harvard terrace, Allston, about 8.30 last night, Patrolman Andrew J. Hurley fired at his assailant as he fell, wounding him fatally. The other thief escaped, probably with considerable loot, for the house had been ransacked.

The wounded burglar is dying at St. Elizabeth's hospital. The patrolman is in a critical condition at the same hospital, but is expected to recover.

The flat is occupied by J. Warren Buckman, a wealthy business man, who lives out with his family for the evening. Mrs. J. W. Smith, who lives at 17 Harvard terrace, across the street, saw two rough-looking men approaching the Buckman house just as she was leaving her own home. She met Mrs. W. T. Pultz of 21 Harrington street, and the two women watched the men go to the front door of Buckman's apartment, rang the bell and receiving no answer went around to the rear. The women hastened to the corner of Harvard avenue, where they found Patrolman Hurley and told of the incident.

Hurley went at once to the rear door of the Buckman flat and finding it open entered. He was immediately set upon by the men, one of whom struck him over the head repeatedly with a blunt instrument supposed to be a blackjack.

LONDON, March 2.—Trepidation has been caused by the statement in the admiralty report on the Dardanelles, issued last night, that the super-dreadnought Queen Elizabeth, who has already established herself as the pet of the navy, has been a victim of Turkish shells.

Although the admiralty insists that slight damage was done the great warship, whose 15-inch guns have scored a record in modern naval warfare, the public is inclined to be uneasy, and further reports are anxiously awaited. As the Queen Elizabeth has been bombarding the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, from the Gulf of Saros, seven or eight miles away, hurling her massive projectiles over the whole extent of the strait, passing, and so, the waters of the strait, it is hardly conceivable that she has received material damage.

It would appear that the Turkish (or German) gunners now manning the remaining forts on the Dardanelles official comment showing that besides the three minor hits scored on the Queen Elizabeth, many of the ships inside the strait, both British and French, were struck. There were not any sunk, however, and the casualties are confined to three wounded on one of the warships.

It is stated to be bestowed upon the airmen attached to the fleet, who have been engaged in the hazardous work of

As Hurley, with blood 'streaming down over his face, sank to the floor, he drew his revolver and fired one shot, which took effect in his assailant's abdomen. The other man fled out. The wounded man walked from the house and went down Harvard terrace to the corner of Harvard avenue, where he staggered. In behind a fruit store and fell unconscious.

Meantime Hurley had dragged himself to the house at 12 Harvard terrace, where he telephoned the Brighton station. The police ambulance that was sent to the scene was stopped at the corner by a girl who told the officers she had seen a man, apparently ill, go behind the fruit store.

The officers picked up the unconscious form, went to get Hurley and took both to the hospital.

Mr. Buckman returned home late in the evening with his wife to find policemen awaiting him. He found that the flat had been thoroughly ransacked, but was unable for the time to give an estimate of the loss.

The rear hall was sprinkled with blood and bore evidence that the officer had put up a fierce battle before he was overcome. Entrance to the flat was gained by forcing the door with a localing the forts and masked batteries and directing the fire of the war-ships.

One of the seaplanes was struck 28 times and another eight times. Two of the intrepid aviators fell into the sea, but were rescued. It is stated that these mishaps have been due largely to the fact that the seaplanes must skim close to the earth to detect groups of guns which the Turks have hidden with extreme cunning.

During the bombardment several other Turkish forts were silenced, says the admiralty report.

FOUR STORY WOODEN BLOCK
OWNED BY MASON'S AT MARLBORO DAMAGED

MARLBORO, March 9.—A four story wooden block on Main street, owned by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and occupied by small business offices sustained a loss of $25,000, by fire.

Hurley is 38 years old and married and lives at 1743 Commonwealth avenue. He had six bad cuts on his head and is otherwise badly bruised. He has been on the force seven years, having been transferred from East Boston a year and a half ago.

The thief at the hospital is about 22, 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 150 pounds. His companion is described as 20 years old, 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighing about 150 pounds.

HARDWARE STORE ROBBED

BURGLARS ARE CAUGHT

BOSTON, March 2.—The shadow of a man prowling about the hardware store of Bigelow and Dowse company, 229 Franklin street, last night, led to the arrest of two men on a charge of burglary. They gave their names as Frank Mitchell, 30, of 562 Tremont street, and Edward Hamden, 32, married, residing at 95 Emerson street, South Boston.

Patrolman Peter Sullivan, passing the Wendell street side of the store, heard a peculiar noise, and looking through a window saw the shadow. He signalled to Patrolman Seavey to go to the front and rattle the door. At the rattling two men crossed to the Wendell street side, and in a moment one man came through the back window into the store. Sullivan. The latter turned him over to Patrolman Seavey and ran after the second fellow, who had turned and broken through the front entrance and darted down Franklin street.

John F. Todd, who lives at the Anchor House on Commercial street, joined in the chase and caught the fugitive at the corner of Pearl and Congress streets. They were taken to the station by Todd and the patrolman. When the men were searched at the Court House station they had four pearl-handled knives and a $2 nickel-plated watch. A case of razors was found near the window one of the men occupied by the Masons.

HIS AUTO BURNED

Dr. Fitzroy Pillsbury 'Reports Accident on Boulevard Early Yesterday Morning

Fire believed to have been started by fan flying of the engine, destroyed a Chevrolet runabout belonging to Dr. Fitzroy F. Pillsbury, on the boulevard between Tyngsboro and Nashua, N. H., at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Dr. Pillsbury had a narrow escape when the coat which he was wearing caught fire.

AN EASY WAY TO END CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Destroys Germs of This Dangerous Disease

The reason why so many people who suffer from Catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are continually using the most common relief sprays, douching, greasy creams, ointments, etc. Such things do open up the swollen nostrils and clear the head, but they bring a temporary relief, while the disgusting blowing, hawking, spitting and choking, but they never cure.

To drive out Catarrh for good you have to get down to its cause. Catarrh is a germ disease. The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and when the system does fall to throw off such germs they find permanent lodgment in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly.

The germs of catarrh can be beaten down by the use of the pure and medicated air of Eucalypt (pronounced High-o-m-e). This splendid and powerful combination of all of Eucalyptus with other healing agents has been found to be the best way to create the air used as an exit.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and floral offerings, which have been the burial of our sorrow in our recent bereavement caused by the death of our loving husband and father, also our desire to thank Mr. and Mrs. John MacDougal, Mr. and Mrs. Achille Tallou for their beautiful floral offerings which were unintentionally omitted and to all who have remembered us. We will remember their many acts of kindness.

(Signed)

Mrs. Zoe Dow,
Frances Dow,
Royal Dow.

Into your nose, throat and lungs by means of a small hard rubber inhaler which lending goggles, is used in every treatment. This medicated air is certain death to the germs of Catarrh and drives them completely out of the system. When the germs are destroyed the catarrh with all its disagreeable symptoms will stop. Even two or three breathings will drive the fungus called Catarrh off. If you will use it two or three times a day for a few weeks it will completely banish Catarrh and every germ of it.

Asthma
Asthma is very pleasant to breathe and is always sold by druggists everywhere with a positive guarantee of successful results or money back.

Catarrhal sufferer should go long before trying this simple home remedy.
